Cleanup to Save Trade.

The chamber recently engaged in a cleanup campaign among merchants along 26th street.

In a letter addressed to owners of stores and shops in the community, Jack L. Frank, secretary of the chamber, said in part, "What is the matter with 26th street? What is the matter with business? We believe that the stores, displays, service and prices are not attractive enough to bring in a maximum number of customers. Remember, the street is only what we make it."

Whereupon, several questions were put to the storekeepers, among them the following: "Are your stores and windows well lighted? Have you an electric sign? Are the signs in your windows neat and attractive? Have you modern fixtures, tables, show cases and mirrors in your store? Are you giving prompt service to your customers? Is your customer always right? Do you advertise? Are you giving your customer the best values that he can get in the city of Chicago?"

The letter ended with the suggestion "Let us clean up, brush up, light up, sweep up, and doll up our stores for the buses which will run from Kedzie avenue to the western suburbs."

At the next meeting of the Villa Improvement league, Carl Bauer, one of the members of the organization, will present the club with a gavel made from one of the oars of the Viking ship, now on exhibition in Lincoln park. The gavel will bear an inscription denoting its origin.

THEODORE W. PETERSEN.

The Villa Improvement league is made up of residents of "The Villa," a district in Irving Park bounded by Addison street and Crawford, Avondale and Hamlin avenues, having about 125 homes.

District Beautified by League.

"The league is proud of the work it has done in making the section a beauty spot on the northwest side," says Theodore W. Petersen, secretary. "It has been instrumental in planting thousands of shrubs and trees and in erecting rustic ornamental stone posts in which are planted flowers of the season. Several of the streets have a parkway in the center, which is planted with trees, shrubs and flowers that are given constant care.

"Work has been started on a playground for the children. Through the league's efforts and those of neighborhood civic organizations, the Park View station on the North Western was obtained. In addition to the fifteen minute train service, there is surface transportation and bus service. We are backing the North-West Federation of Improvement Clubs in their fight for feeder buses, and also the consolidation of the small parks of the northwest side."

Members of Committee.

The feeder bus committee is composed of Kurt Stoehr, C. H. Heagle, F. J. Seuel, and Mr. Petersen.

Officers of the league, aside from Secretary Petersen, are Edward T. Fels, president; William A. Miller, vice president; Vigo Anderson, treasurer.

NORTH MAYFAIR GROUP REJECTS WIDENING PLAN

Opposes Making Speedway of Kostner Ave.

The proposed widening and extension of North Kostner avenue through the forest preserve to join with Bryn Mawr avenue was voted down at a meeting of the North Mayfair Improvement association held last Tuesday night at the Palmer school, 5031 North Kenneth avenue. The plan was sponsored by the Mayfair chamber of commerce.

Residents of North Kostner avenue in rejecting the proposition contended that the extension would result in a new speedway, ruining property along the street for residential purposes. The secretary of the association was instructed to write a letter to Ald. Thomas J. Bowler [41st] setting forth the attitude of the members.

Judge C. F. McKinley Speaks.

Speakers at the meeting included Judge Charles F. McKinley, whose topic was "Value of Improvement Associations in Safeguarding Homes," and Dr. Henry J. Wieland, president of the West Montrose Improvement association, who talked on "Economic Value of Improvement Associations."

A resolution was adopted at the meeting asking the secretary to file requests with the Illinois commerce commission for feeder buses on Elston avenue from Lawrence avenue to Forest Glen. Ten members of the organization volunteered to act as witnesses before the commission.

Start with 100 Members.

The association, which was organized only two weeks ago, has a charter membership of 100. Application for a corporation charter will be made in the near future. The territory for which the association functions is bounded on the east by Kostner avenue, on the south by Lawrence avenue, on the north by Foster avenue, and on the west by the Mayfair branch of the Chicago and North Western railroad.

The next project on the program of the association is a proposed railroad station at Elston avenue. Gustave Reich is president of the organization.

ELMHURST BANK AND REALTY FIRM IN NEW BUILDING

The First National bank of Elmhurst and the Suburban Realty company opened their doors to the public in their new building yesterday.

The exterior is of yellow brick and cut stone. The interior presents a panorama of historical scenes, reproductions of famous paintings in each of twelve large panels, extending from floor to ceiling. Emil J. Feilge of Chicago is the artist.

Italian marble in warm, variegated tints makes up the panels for the banking counters.

Another feature is the indirect lighting, coming through beautiful art glass skylights, no side lights being used.

The north half of the building will be used to house the bank for a year or two until a new home is built by them at the old location, after which time the Suburban Realty company expect to occupy the entire structure.

AUSTIN LEGION STAGES ANNUAL SHOW THIS WEEK

'Womanless Wedding' On for Two Nights.

Saturday, April 13, has been designated as Legion day by Lawndale Crawford post, No. 98. The post is preparing with the Business Men's association a program for that day that will include a big parade. Other posts in the county have been invited to join in the celebration and are asked to bring along their war relics, their drum and bugle corps, and prepare floats. "It doesn't make a darn bit of difference what you bring," urged Commander Charles J. Roth," but be there. After the parade, a jubilee will be held in Pilsen park. Spring is here. Bring the gang. We are hot up over this event and rain couldn't cool us off."

Austin post, No. 52, of the American Legion, under the leadership of Commander B. B. Gernon, announces the annual post show, entitled "The Womanless Wedding," which will be the first entertainment to take place in the new Austin town hall, Thursday and Friday nights. Members of the post are to take all the rôles in the cast, including the feminine. Comrade M. A. McEwen is assigning the parts.

In addition to this comedy-drama event, there will be a singing and dancing chorus of girls and a variety of vaudeville. Inasmuch as the new town hall will accommodate only 1,400 persons, it has been decided to hold the performance on two nights, in order to allow all the members of the post and their friends, as well as the general public, an opportunity to attend.

The entire production is under the direction of Miss Maryanne Manning of Oak Park. The proceeds of the show are to be used in furtherance of the work of the Legion in the community and among former service men.

April 15 has been tentatively set as the date for the "snappiest gastronomical convention Berwyn post, No. 422, has ever attempted." And—to quote from the Bugle—"by that date it is hoped that the last gold plated doorknob will be in place and the last mural painting hung on the walls. The new dugout will be the last word in artistic, scientific, and architectural perfection. Table decorations and entertainment features, as now planned, are to be unique, if not actually ritzy."

Elmhurst unit to T. H. B. post of the American Legion went to Speedway hospital Easter Sunday morning, where they decorated the tables for the 300 veterans. Rabbits, eggs, colored candles, and other appropriate decorations were used. The Elmhurst unit will make this an annual event.

Dedication of a memorial tablet in honor of the men of the Chicago and North Western railway who made the supreme sacrifice in the world war took place in the main waiting room of the North Western passenger station yesterday noon, the event being outstanding in the history of North Western post, No. 410. President Fred W. Sargent accepted the tablet in behalf of the railroad. Music was furnished by the C. & N. W. band and choral club. Woodlawn post provided the color guard.

Commander A. L. Brodie promises "a pleasant surprise" for comrades who attend the next meeting of James G. Brophy post, No. 195, to be held at the clubhouse, 4856 Jackson boulevard, on Monday night. Arrangements have been made for members of the auxiliary to eat, play cards, and make merry on the first floor of the clubhouse while the meeting is going on.

Members of company D, 124th machine gun battalion, are planning a dinner reunion to be held at the Metropole hotel, 35d street and Michigan avenue, on the evening of April 13.

KIWANIANS HOLD SHOW TOMORROW TO AID CHILDREN

The West Side Kiwanis club's charity carnival for the benefit of underprivileged children of the west side will be held at Madison Gardens, 2650 West Madison street, tomorrow night.

Four west side high schools, Flower, Spalding, Crane, and Marshall, are to take part in glee club and harmonica band competitions, and in the finals of the piano playing contest which has been in progress during the last week. Silver loving cups will be awarded to the winners in the glee club and harmonica band competitions, and gold, silver, and bronze medals will be given the winners in the piano playing tests. One of the features of the carnival will be the awarding of gold basketballs by the Kiwanians to the Crane championship heavyweight basketball quintet. J. A. Pick is president of the West Side Kiwanis club.

VOTE TO START 7 WEST SIDE SCHOOLS IN '29

Board Puts Senior High, 2 Juniors on Program.

Seven out of sixteen construction projects planned by the board of education this year are for the west side, according to plans submitted by D. C. Rogers, director of the board's building survey, and adopted by the board recently. Five new schools are to be constructed and additions will be made to two buildings.

Pointing to the fact that there is only $10,000,000 in the building fund, officials of the board announced that all of the buildings on the program cannot be completed this year. The architectural department has proposed that all be started this year, however, and finished next year.

The new schools for the west side include a senior high school, two junior high schools and two elementary schools, while additions will be made to two elementary schools. The seven buildings will accommodate 8,502 pupils, while the entire building program for the city is planned for 33,350 pupils.

A table compiled by the building survey shows 200,601 elementary school pupils in attendance in 1924 and 255,766 last year, while there were 33,209 senior high school pupils five years ago and 46,147 last year.

First in urgency among west side schools is an addition to Anderson elementary school, 1155 North Lincoln street, the report said. The new building will accommodate 480 pupils, and will provide an assembly hall and gymnasium.

Next on the list, the fifth most urgent in the city, is the proposed new Volta elementary school, Argyle street and Avers avenue. A building with 972 seats is planned.

A new senior high school at Barry and Melvina avenues, seating 2,500 pupils, is next on the list according to its urgency.

Fifth on the west side list is a junior high school at 18th street and Keeler avenue which would provide accommodations for 2,000 pupils and would relieve an overload at Harrison High school and four neighboring elementary schools.

Another junior high school is planned for Augusta street and Ashland avenue.

A proposed addition to Avondale elementary school and a new Ray Branch school are rated as of equal urgency.

SUNDAY SCHOOLS OFFER $4,000 IN ESSAY CONTESTS

The Rev. William W. Johnston of 201 North Ridgeland avenue, Oak Park, superintendent of the lakes district of the American Sunday School union, is endeavoring to interest Chicago and west suburban religious educators and writers in two contests which his organization is promoting.

The union is offering two prizes of $2,000 each for the best manuscripts on "Religion in Education" and "The Heroic Appeal of Christianity to Young People."

The manuscripts, according to Dr. Johnston, must not be written for any class or section, but must be designed to meet rural needs and opportunities. The work of the Sunday School union is confined largely to rural sections. Union Sunday schools are established by its missionaries in districts where churches cannot be supported. To make this work more effective, the contest was arranged in the hope of getting Sunday school literature of the highest merit. The contest will close March 1, 1930.

SOME CHANGES FOR OUTDOOR TWIN PUSHER

How to Add Elevator and Tail Service.

Outdoor events of the second model airplane tournament, sponsored by THE TRIBUNE, will be held May 19 at Washington park; indoor events, May 26, at the 132nd Infantry armory.

Forty-eight medals, two trophies, and two trips to the national championship meet and back will be awarded the winners.

All entries must be certified by an official of a playground or school.

BY MERRILL HAMBURG.
[Secretary Airplane Model League of America.]

Last week, in the columns of THE TRIBUNE, local sponsor of the Airplane Model League of America, you learned how to make an outdoor Twin Pusher, the king of outdoor ships. This week I'm going to tell you of some changes in the championship model that have interested a lot of experts.

These changes are suggested by Joseph Lucas, president of the Illinois Model Aero club—the oldest model club in America—and a builder of years of experience. Lucas says that they helped him to win the national outdoor trophy last year. His ship made a flight of four minutes twenty-four seconds at the first national A. M. L. A. contests.

As you'll see by the drawing of the ship, the differences consist in the addition of a built-up elevator and auxiliary rear surface. The championship model has only a single surface elevator. Consequently it is lighter. But Lucas believes that his additions give the model added lift to compensate for the additional weight.

How to Get Kit.

To make the new parts you'll need a sheet of Japanese tissue paper, 10½ x11 inches; a piece of 1-16 inch flat balsa, and some 1-32 inch flat balsa, both pieces 12 inches long. If you haven't these materials, send 15 cents to the supply department, A. M. L. A., American Boy building, Second and Lafayette boulevards, Detroit, Mich., asking for the elevator kit. It will come to you by return mail.

The wing section of both elevator and rear surface is the same as that of the main wing—you'll remember that the Clark-Y airfoil was the suggested section. Make five ribs of the same proportions — with the same curve, that is—for the rear surface, and five for the elevator; but reduce the size so that the rib length is no more than three inches.

Drawing Gives Details.

Now cut leading and trailing edge strips from your flat balsa. Make the elevator 12 inches long, with its dihedral angle such that the tips will be 1¾ inches above the center. Cut all strips first, make each half of the elevator separately and join them. The work you did last week on the main wing will tell you all the details of this job. It will help you with covering the elevator, too.

Figure the length of the strips for the rear surface by measuring the distance between the exact points on the two fuselage sticks where you will attach it. This is a perfectly straight wing section—no dihedral to it—so it will be easy to build and to cover. Note that it fits in between the sticks, and takes the place of the two rear bamboo cross-braces. The drawing shows details.

Last Minute Touches.

The elevator is held to the sticks by a big rubber band; but the rear surface is ambroided permanently in position. The elevator should not be set at any angle of incidence, for its airfoil section furnishes enough lift.

Now a few hints on last minute touches to that Twin Pusher. Don't forget that extreme lightness is of prime importance in all championship models. Make each individual part just as light, sand it down as thin, as requisite strength will permit. One overheavy part won't make much difference, but a lot of them will!

Take extreme care with each bit of work, too. You can lessen wind resistance, increase lift and add to performance by seeking neatness and exactness. Remember, also, that the successful contest performer is the one who has plenty of spare parts—props, motors, even fuselages and wings.

Good Winder Needed.

Be sure that your rubber is in good shape—not too old nor too often used. You'll need a good eggbeater winder, too. The league can furnish plans for a winder.

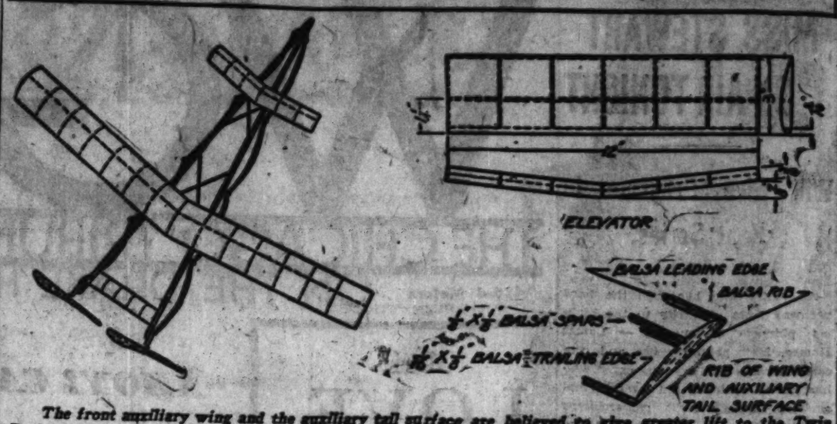
You'll find that you get best results when the two propellers turn up in the center and out toward the sides.

If you haven't plans for the plane, you can get them by sending a two cent stamp to the league with your request. They're included in the official league kit for the Outdoor Twin Pusher, obtainable for $3 at league headquarters.

Don't expect to build the Twin Pusher, or to add the Lucas parts to it, without spending a lot of time and patience on it. But, if you do the work carefully, look for a whale of a good flight with it. The official record is 10 minutes 14 2-5 seconds; unofficial records go above an hour!

And it's likely to be the ship that will win some boy—perhaps a Chicago model builder—that free trip to Europe. It's worth trying for!

VARIATIONS FOR OUTDOOR TWIN PUSHER



The front auxiliary wing and the auxiliary tail surface are believed to give greater lift to the Twin Pusher. They aren't hard to build. Read the directions while studying this diagram—then go ahead!

Empire Bank to Observe Anniversary This Week

The rapid growth of the Milwaukee and Crawford avenues business district was pointed out last week by Ralph F. Kepperschmidt, president of the Empire Trust and Savings bank, as proved by the fact that the present site of the bank was less than eight years ago garden land. The surrounding territory was similarly rural. Now it is one of the busy communities of the northwest side, and several prominent firms and manufacturing concerns are located there. The Empire bank, which is in the center of the community, will celebrate its first anniversary this week.

U. S. IS STUDYING PLAN TO LICENSE RADIO STATIONS

Recommendations Ready in December.

Washington, D. C.—"One million dollars a channel" was the arbitrary value fixed upon each radio wave length during the recent congressional deliberations on radio legislation. That this standard has no real economic basis was recognized by the members of congress, but they were sufficiently interested to order an inquiry into the possibility of levying license fees upon those granted the right to use the precious channels of the ether.

Such an investigation is now being conducted by the federal radio commission with a view to complying with the resolution introduced by Senator Dill of Washington, calling for the recommendation of a schedule of fees to be imposed upon the several classes of stations. It is Senator Dill's idea that the charges should be greater according to the power and the use made by those to whom licenses are granted.

At least one member of the commission, H. A. Lafount, representing the western zone, is already on record as being vigorously opposed to any plan of making broadcasting stations bear the burden of this license fee system. Mr. Lafount is, in fact, only luke warm toward the whole license fee project.

Want Public Hearings.

The National Association of Broadcasters is not opposed to the establishment of a system of federal license fees, provided that such license fees are required from all radio stations licensed to transmit radio communications, and provided that the term of any license for which a fee is paid is not less than one year. It recommends, however, that the congress shall by law establish the basis on which such fee is to be charged, and shall do so only after public hearings have been held for the purpose of determining such basis in an equitable manner.

While various foreign countries are known to levy fees where they do not own all radio facilities outright or exact flat sums or percentages of profit from concessionaires, the only data on license fees that the commission has at hand is that obtained from Canada. Under the radiotelegraph act of Canada, the department of marine at Ottawa charges its licensees the following per annum sums:

Limited commercial stations, $50; public commercial, $50; private commercial broadcasting, $50; private commercial, $10; experimental, $5; amateur broadcasting, $10; amateur experimental, $2.50; technical or training schools, $5, and ships, $10.

Suggest Leasing Channels.

It is regarded altogether unlikely that the United States fees will be as small in the recommendations that will be ready for congress by next December.

That coastal and commercial station, engaged in point to point and ship to ode service should pay the government such small amounts for the right to use the ether, would provoke considerable antagonism when the subject is considered by congress. When the remark was made that each channel was worth $1,000,000, the reference was made to the transoceanic and intercontinental high frequencies, or short waves. At the present time, the government gets nothing directly in return for the licenses it grants to use those channels.

Neither does the government profit directly, from broadcasting assignments to the 600 stations in the United States. Nothing is charged for the 17,000 or more amateur licensee either, although each amateur must pass a technical test before a federal radio supervisor to qualify for a license.

In favor of the imposition of nominal lincense fees, it will be argued that this is the only way the government can defray the constantly mounting expenses of radio administration. In favor of high license fees, especially for code communications services, it will be proposed that this is one way to eliminate "haywire" stations which barely creep in under the "public interest, convenience or necessity" standard set by the radio act. Some legislators have already suggested that it might be well to "lease" the channels to the highest bidder and the companies best qualified to maintain either wirless communications or broadcasting services, and perhaps later the regular television services.

Tax on Listeners.

Against the fees proposal, the theory is advanced that the extension of radio for domestic and international telegraph communications has put the United States in a preëminent strategic position for war or peacetime emergencies. Even more important in day by day life, it is pointed out that the radio communication channels are carrying nationwide and worldwide the messages of trade that mean so much to the country's economic prosperity.

The commission will probably fix the rates for short and long wave channels at relatively high levels, classifying them according to the importance of the use to which the channels are put. Broadcasting rates will probably be rather low with a graduated scale for stations given over to advertising wholly, advertising only partially, institutional services like those offered by churches and colleges, etc.

It is not probable that the commission will recommend a fee upon listeners such as Canada imposes. In the dominion, all radio receiving sets must be licensed. The cost is $1 a year.

Inside the Loud Speaker

BY QUIN RYAN.

Radio had its chance again the other evening to transmit the very feeling of fear over its electrical waves, in the "panic" during the boxing bout at the Coliseum. It so happened that when the hysterical rush of spectators moved out of the darkness toward the boxing ring we were sitting at the ringside and a sudden violent impact at our back knocked the microphone out of our hands and under the ring.

We had jumped up onto the ring, along with everybody who wasn't crushed against the platform, in order to see what was happening, while 9,000 men and women were fleeing headlong in one direction to avoid an unknown danger. And that little instrument which hears all with unfailing ears lay unmolested underneath the ring, transmitting to listeners hundreds of miles away the panicky sounds and yells and the very electric tenseness which hung over the crowd while they were waiting for the gunshots or lions' roars, or shouts of "fire!" which they anticipated out of the darkness.

On the air it was powerfully dramatic, because it was genuine. One listener, Raymond F. Smith, of Centralia, Ill., writes: "Here is how it was through my loud speaker. I had taken a cushion and was lying on the floor listening to one of the best fights I have heard for a long time, when I heard you shout, 'Hey, what's that?' Then an awful noise, which I found out later was the mike hitting the floor, then no more talking for some time except a few excited yells from men and commands mingled with a wejrd, low rumble which I was unable to explain, then cracking and pounding which I suppose was the knocking over of the chairs and the breaking of your shelf, as you later said. I rose up from my pillow in wonder as to the cause.

"I didn't have long to wait, when I heard your familiar voice say, 'Hey, is the mike still connected?' You then told us you were talking from the ring and you told us what was taking place, talking all the time, long before the trouble was quieted down. Maybe you think I didn't have some strange feelings come over me as you described something that wasn't on the program at all. The thought struck me that maybe some people were being trampled upon and injured and maybe some killed right then, and here we were listening to it over the radio, in the comfort of our homes, about 300 miles away. I see by this morning's paper that several were injured and two or three quite severely. Every time I think of it, I still have a strange feeling. That experience was the greatest thrill I ever got from a radio."

It reminds us of one evening over a year ago, when a fire broke out in the lakeside terrace of the hotel where we were picking up a dance orchestra. It was on the stroke of midnight and we announced a group of tunes that the orchestra would play for the midsummer dancers. The operator switched from us in the studio to the terrace and rang for the orchestra to start playing. Instead of music we heard a great rushing and crackling and shouts of people. There was actual FEAR in the air. It could be sensed by us in the studio through the radio horn. The whole place was swept by fire, which burned tables, chairs, decorations and melted a saxophone to a weird metal mass—we stretched lines to the roof and tried to describe the running patrons, the activities of the firemen and the playing of the hose from the street—and through it all that microphone hung there in the fire, picking up all the sounds of burning dining room.

SOMETIMES a word spoken by an announcer is heard incorrectly on the air and it causes a deal of consternation. Pat Barnes tells us of the time he was broadcasting Chicago's civic reception to Col. Lindbergh, a banquet at a downtown hotel. Pat was seated just behind Lindy, who was in the middle of the speakers' table. Many prominent citizens were eulogizing the flyer between courses of the dinner.

Pat was inserting little comments here and there, describing what a fine, bashful young fellow Lindy appeared to be. Suddenly the colonel dropped a fork and it lay on the floor behind the chair. Bother Pat, during a lull in the speeches, spoke: "And now, just to let you know how thoroughly human and like all of us Lindy is, he just dropped a fork on the floor behind his chair."

In the following few days about one hundred letters arrived on Pat's desk, expressing amazement—"Do you mean to say, Mr. Barnes, that Lindy dropped a quart on the floor behind him?"

SHOWING WHAT tell-tale busybodies microphones can be—a bald headed gent is dancing past the orchestra with his young partner in a night club, and she says, "Why is it you never speak above a whisper when you're dancing here?" And the fat gent replies: "Well, you know, they broadcast the band from here, and it's practically certain my wife's listening in."

WE NOTICE a station reviving the old "amateur nights" of early radio

days. Our experiences with amateur nights, or amateur periods, some years ago were very delightful. The only unhappy element in them was that most of the applicants were too good to be funny, and an amateur night isn't funny unless the performers are absolutely terrible.

An hour was devoted to the show, and there were many, many applicants. Instead of being as laughably impossible as the famous Cherry sisters of the vaudeville stage, they were mostly just mediocre singers. One of two, however, were unconsciously howling successes, singing hymns in duets and playing on queer instruments.

Because they were honest and sincere neophytes from distant parts seeking candid judgments on their talents, it was impossible for us to rate them as the theater attendants used to do the amateurs who lined up on the stage for the awarding of the prizes. It would be really insulting to shout "Get the hook," as the boys were wont to do in the theater. And the only good laughs were derived from the insertion of some of our regular performers in burlesque rôles.

LOUISE HOMER, MISS STEWART ON AIR TONIGHT

Will Give Program in Kent Series.

An artist who has trod the hard pathway from obscurity to the highest pinnacle of success — Louise Homer, Metropolitan opera and concert contralto—and a young artist who has gained national and international acclaim through radio performance, Kathleen Stewart, pianist, are to be the co-stars in the Atwater Kent radio hour tonight in a program boardcast by W-G-N, THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE station on the Drake hotel, and a coast to coast network.

Both artists demonstrate the American spirit of womanhood applied to creative work in the arts. Each has attained the highest type of success without the sacrifice of a single iota of her feminine charm. Louise Homer represents as much to her public as a mother and a home maker as she does as one of the world's greatest contraltos.

Family Circle of Artists.

In fact one who thinks of her as a great singer thinks in terms also of her composer husband, her singing and playing daughters and their ideal family circle—yet a circle of artists of striking ability.

Kathleen Stewart came before the public as a pianist with the National Broadcasting company. She immediately centered attention on herself as an artist who paints pictures in tone, either of the most delicate shading or the most brilliant coloring, with the usually arbitrary black and white keys of the piano.

Versatile Artist.

In the playing of one of Grieg's concertos for the piano, which tells a story of intense drama, Miss Stewart has been rated supreme among women pianists. She started out in life to play the piano, then switched to painting and then to the violin. One day she wandered into the N. B. C. studios for an audition. She was engaged and has been a regular program artist and accompanist ever since. Last year she played more than fifty concerts, arranged through the concert bureau of the company, in addition to her radio work. This latter involved being solo pianist for orchestral broadcasts as well as playing innumerable special programs of her own and work in conjunction with other broadcast artists.

JOAN LOWELL TO TELL STORY ON RADIO TUESDAY

As soon as she was able to walk her sunburned toes gripped the slanting deck of a ship. From then on life was about as vivid and fascinating an experience as was ever lived by a woman—of man, for that matter. Probably never before in the history of literature has such rip-roaring adventure ever been recorded by a girl.

Joan Lowell, descendant on one side of Boston blue stockings and on the other of bewhiskered Levantine sea rovers, became nationally famous overnight through the publication recently of her adventures under the title, "The Cradle of the Deep."

The broadcasting of Joan Lowell's story by herself over a chain of stations will be a unique experience in radio. A total of 30 stations, including W-G-N, the CHICAGO TRIBUNE station, will be hooked up for the national broadcast Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock Chicago time.

Was Raised as Boy.

Joan Lowell's father carried her aboard his schooner, a copra trader in the South Pacific, when she was only eleven months old. A she goat, purchased for a broken alarm clock from south sea natives, was her nurse. For seventeen years the only ground under her feet was about sixty fathoms of water.

Raised as a man oy men as hard as nails, it is small wonder that Joan's early ambition was to be able to swear for three minutes without once repeating herself, and eventually she achieved this distinction.

With the head of an angel and a fist like a hammer, this little thug in overalls (for she never knew what dresses were) paraded the deck of her floating home looking for trouble. She found it—and how. Her father caught her just in time one day when she was going ashore to have nude ladies tattooed on her chest—just like the other sailors.

The Hangman's Noose.

To Joan women were soft, fluffy things that "smelled good." In her ficating world of men her own sex was as inscrutable as the inhabitants of another planet, and her first real experience with them pretty nearly caused a riot.

She found navigating on shore so full of shoals that she fled back to sea, and there a member of the crew casually showed her one night how to make a hangman's noose. A sure and ghastly sense of drama impelled him to knot it under his own left ear and dance on the wind.

On one of her rare visits ashore a pedantic and pompous professor of economics once told her: "You are a very interesting study, little girl." The little girl's reply nearly made the professor faint.

Ghostly, giant icebergs, waterspouts, wild dances on lovely south sea atolls, man-eating sharks that followed the ship like wraiths, and the fact that young ladies should not bathe in gentlemen's drinking water—all these Joan Lowell learned about and wove into her fantastic saga of the sea. Her broadcast is expected to be a radio event.

Edison Park Lutherans Start Building Fund Drive

A campaign to raise funds for a new building is being conducted by members of the Edison Park Lutheran church. The new church will cost $60,000. Olson, A. Dahlin, Mrs. A. B. Olson and Ernst Anderson, secretary-treasurer. The congregation was formed three years ago.

GEORGE OLSEN'S MUSICIANS STAR IN FAMILY PARTY

George Olsen, known first and foremost to Broadwayites for his merry-making in "Kid Boots," "Good News," "Whoopee," and other titillating extravaganzas will be the headliner tomorrow night in the family party program broadcast by W-G-N, THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE station on the Drake hotel.

Olsen started his career as an orchestral improvisor and director in Detroit. Eddie Cantor heard him and wired Ziegfeld that he had discovered a "find." Ziegfeld took Cantor at his word, and Olsen was signed to appear with the comedian in "Kid Boots." He was such a hit that while still appearing in "Kid Boots" Ziegfeld arranged for him to do double duty by also doing a turn in "The Follies."

"AHOY! CAP'N LITTLE!"

IT'S Chief Officer Richard Henry Little, now skipper of the Line-o-type, who spent his time before the mast of the good ship Fah Wahn. As a reporter, R. H. L. was sent snooping around the Gulf of Pe-chi-li in an attempt to learn some news of the Russo-Japanese war. He and his Japanese sailors sailed proudly up to Yingtse, the Manchurian port, in hopes of nosing some news from Niu-chwang—that's his story. Was there news? A large order! (There were Russians in that thar port). At his customary time—10:15.

PAT BARNES 7:15

YOU should get to know Pat. When you do, you'll like him even more. Not only is Pat an announcer and a reader, but he's a playwright and a well trained actor. Tonight, for instance, you will probably hear him take the part of three or four characters in the sketch that he has written himself. Pat Barnes is a hit whether he be acting before blinding footlights, or whether he treads a silent carpet in a hushed radio studio. Every gesture—every smile is there, though his visible audience be only a cold and silent microphone. But you sense, somehow, the gestures and the smile of Pat just to listen. 7:15.

VARIETY 2:00

JOHN STAMFORD

VARIETY is the main ingredient in this early afternoon gambol of notes. John Stamford, our dignified announcer, turns tenor for this program, singing a few of your favorites plucked from his great big song book. Paul Mertz pushes his piano back into a corner where it can't get away, and—! Van (Four String) Fleming and his guitar will hold a sentimental but melodious conversation if they don't get hot. If you do—Wow! Harold Stokes, the midget sharp and flat man from Leningrad, will try to keep his accordeon from getting itself into a knot. That's about all we can get into one ordinary program. 2:00.

FOREST GIANTS DICTATED NAME OF ELMHURST

Pioneer Paid $1.25 an Acre in 1842.

BY ONEY FRED SWEET.

A goodly number of passengers got off the suburban train when we reached Elmhurst. We had left the North Western station at 12:30 o'clock. All the way out I had listened to conversation which from its trend I realized must be among neighbors. It was Saturday afternoon and their work "in town" was over for the week.

WM. J. REINHOLD.

W. H. S. CHAPMAN. [Le Gueldre Photo.]

We arrived at an Elmhurst that was basking in spring sunshine. While the group of youngsters playing marbles in the station park were of an age to have witnessed the erection of "the finest office building in Du Page county"—the Elmhurst State Bank building on the corner—still they would be inclined to take the suburb "as is" pretty much for granted.

Should Gerry Bates return to the Elmhurst of today he would find 16,000 persons, according to estimate, living in the town of which he was the founder, and whose site, back in 1842, he purchased for $1.25 an acre.

Once Pottawatomie Hunting Ground.

Mr. Bates, we are told, was a "gentleman of the old school," who wore a long tailed coat and a stove pipe hat as he went about the duties of his numerous offices in the locality that, in an earlier day, had been controlled by the Pottawatomie Indians.

Mr. Bates' neighbors came largely from western New York, and it was in deference to them that the township, organized in 1850, was named York.

The name York has survived pioneer days, but, as in the case of more than one Chicago suburb, the town's original title failed to stick. The community was first christened Cottage Hill. Along in 1869 a change was desired and Thomas B. Bryan took it upon himself to pick something more appropriate. His inspiration came from the fact that so many of the townspeople had brought elm saplings from the Des Plaines river bottom to beautify their streets and lawns.

The town saw a spurt of activity when the Galena & Union railway arrived in 1849, but up until 1862 it was said to be just a one street country town, though one of importance, because it was the only place between Chicago and "The Junction"—now West Chicago—where wood and water were provided.

Glos First President.

Henry L. Glos is recalled as a citizen whose activities were of great value to Elmhurst. In 1881 he worked up a sentiment in favor of incorporating the village, became its first president and served in that capacity for more than twenty years.

It was in 1888 that the picture hanging on the wall of the office of Mayor Otto W. Balgemann was taken—a picture of the Elmhurst Harrison Marching club. The club was posed in front of the old Glos block. There were wooden sidewalks in front of the building and the street was unpaved.

"I was old enough at the time so that I vividly remember when the picture was taken," recalls the mayor, "but not quite big enough to wear one of the white beaver hats.

"Who were they? Well, there's Henry L. Glos, twenty years the village president; William Hammerschmidt, supervisor of York township for 28 years; William Ohlerich, tavern keeper; Rudolph Kramer, ran the first meat market; Louis Balgemann, my father, at whose blacksmith shop I burned my fingers on hot irons more than once; C. G. Kircher, connected with the college as houseman; Philip Hohman, old settler; Adam Glos, Henry's father; George F. Heidemann, with flag, now a manufacturer in South Bend; D. Ben Miche, who raised one of Elmhurst's largest families; L. A. Denig, druggist; D. W. Thoma, on horseback, ran a grocery store; Julius Graue, still here. Then there's——"

Republican Town for 40 Years.

"It must have been a Republican town," I interrupted.

"Still is," assured the mayor.

"Looking at that picture," he went on, "makes me remember the apple orchard in what is now the center of town. We were just a village in the midst of a farming country in my boyhood. We walked on plank sidewalks and everybody kept his cow in one big pasture. The gate was what is now Cottage Hill and 1st street. We herded the cows back and forth along the streets. On the William H. Emery farm horses worn out from service on the streets of Chicago were sent to get their feet rested."

W. S. Weller, 190 North York street, spoke as one who has lived in Elmhurst for twenty-six years.

"When I came here," said Mr. Weller, "the town had about 1,800 population. As station agent for the North Western I was selling about 100 monthly commutation tickets. The town's greatest growth has been in the last five years. Folks began to pour in when we got new improvements—a new water works, lighting plant, and paving for territory that had previously been open space.

Mrs. James Graham, president of the Northwest council, will give an address. Included in the program are the Bateman school orchestra and glee club, a reading by Miss Dellvie Eiberg of Darwin school, a quartet composed of mothers from Irving Park and Belding associations, the Palmer kitchen band, and old fashioned square dances by the Montclare and St. Williams school associations.

The Newton Bateman Parent-Teacher association will hold its regular meeting on Wednesday afternoon. Dudley Crafts Watson will talk on "Art, the Child, and the Home." The American Home committee of the Albany Park Woman's club has been invited to attend. Mrs. Charles J. Wood is president of the Bateman school group.

Miss Emily Quinn, our charming barber shop cashier at the Hotel Sherman, is receiving the congratulations of her friends on the fine pickup of her high spirited new car, which cleared a three foot hedge in a standing broad jump, making a perfect four point landing in a cemetery. She plans to enter it in the 1932 Olympic games.

WE are very sorry that Mrs. E. W. Koeppel's letter about the bakery sale of the Parent-Teacher association of the Robert Emmet school did not reach us in time for last Sunday's issue. The sale was held Friday, April 5. Items for the Metropolitan section should be in this office not later than Tuesday to insure publication. Mrs. Koeppel stated in her letter that the proceeds of the sale would be used to buy much needed school equipment. We hope we'll be able to boost the association's next affair with a helpful item.

For any number of generations the downtrodden kid brothers and sisters have struggled along with the Big Sister problem, hoping and praying something would be done about it, but nothing ever was. Until today. Annabelle Houser of the 7-A grade of Oliver Wendell Holmes school, Oak Park, has landed on Big Sister with both dactyls and a strophe and the situation is well in hand. Hearken:

Friday night is big sister's delight,
Because this is her chance to go out at night;
My brother and I have to keep out of sight,
Because sister says we don't look

She pins up her hair
And decides what to wear.
To the laundry she goes
To press her clothes;
Then slips them on
And powders her nose.
She puts on her coat,
And out she goes,
Escorted by one of her many beaus.

If you ask us, stranger, we'll say that when Annabelle says 'Giddap' to her pegasus we're a-goin' to step out of the way.

WE are glad indeed to report that the DDS. Alex Trostrud, who knows all the Logan Square neighbors, reports that Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wiberg of 2150 North Kedzie "paused in their busy every day program as a number of relatives and friends gathered to honor this happy couple on their nineteenth wedding anniversary." Peter Steansan pronounced Walter and his blushing bride man and wife" in the third floor apartment at 2533 North Kimball avenue, where Alex now lives.

RALPH F. KOPPERSCHMIDT, president of the Empire Trust and Savings bank at Crawford and Milwaukee avenues, which is holding its first birthday anniversary this week, April 8-13, writes us a very frank letter in which he readily admits the resources are now $1,000,000 and the capital and surplus $220,000, and confesses he will be only too happy to have all the bank's friends drop in during the week to help along the celebration. Good luck, Frank.

MADIGAN SEES CITY OF MANY TRADE CENTERS

Community Growth Just Started.

George P. Madigan, president of the Garfield Park club and well known west side merchant, has peered into the future of community development in Chicago and prepared for the Metropolitan section of The Tribune a picture of his idea of what is to be. It is his belief that the building up of neighborhood shopping centers has just started. He tells what he expects to see five years hence.

BY GEORGE P. MADIGAN.

A great deal has been written and much more spoken about the trend of the retail business in the city of Chicago.

Our well known statistician, Roger Babson, ten years ago said, "If I were a retail merchant in the loop of Chicago, I would open branches in the outlying areas." While Mr. Babson may have believed that all stores of any great significance would eventually do this very thing, he hesitated to be more detailed in his statement, feeling that his expression might be construed as merely visionary.

This message, or perhaps it might be called a cloaked prophecy, has now become a sound fact, for every day in this great city we find well known merchants and exclusive shop owners migrating to the outlying or suburban communities. Mr. Babson has once more scored by his keen foresight, which, I believe, has again given him claim to the high esteem in which he is held by the business men of the country.

Opportunity Overlooked.

If the business leaders of Chicago twenty to thirty years ago had used the same effort to enlarge the downtown shopping district which is being put into effect today, the business area would have naturally expanded after the manner of every other large city, a shift of the intensified area would have taken place and it would have resulted in a more comprehensive section extending a mile or two in each direction.

It was, however, considered good business prudence in those days for the property owners, business men and big loop interests to prevent the loop from spreading and they attempted to confine the area as much as possible, thereby insuring themselves against a decrease in property values.

Such improvements as the removal of the loop elevated structure, the opening of the north and south streets feeding into the loop, the completion of the outer link bridge, the improvement of South Water street and the sponsoring of a comprehensive subway system would, had they been accomplished in years gone by, have enabled Chicago to develop a downtown business district flexible to its needs.

Loop Now Overcrowded.

As a result of this apparent lack of forethought we now have a condition of an overly conjested business and shopping area where the merchants are stepping on each other's toes and are unable to cope with the situation. Instead of a shift or change of a few blocks that probably would have taken place gradually as it did in New York, the business district has jumped about five miles in each direction, developing community shopping centers which have such a firm foothold in these many and various communities that subways, double deck sidewalks, superhighways leading to the loop, cannot and will not stop the momentum of these community developments.

There was a time when State street merchants said that Chicago people would always come to the loop because style was their stronghold and women would tolerate any inconvenience to patronize this fashion center. The maxim "vanity knows no pain" was discarded with the long skirt and rigidly stayed figure, for the conveniences of modern living have prompted women to accomplish their shopping as well as their household duties in the most time saving and efficient manner.

This is confirmed by the fact that

PROPHET

GEORGE P. MADIGAN.

Junior College Opens in Fall at Lyons High

A new junior college, the sixth in the state, will be opened in La Grange next fall. This was assured by the recent passage of a resolution calling for the founding of such an institution by the Lyons township board of education.

Necessity for a junior college close at hand is evidenced, according to Dr. G. W. Willett, principal of Lyons Township High school in La Grange, by the fact that students are being graduated from high school at such an early age. Seventeen per cent of this year's class will be less than 16 years old when they complete their courses, and 60 per cent less than 18. Parents, he said, are unwilling to send their children away to college at such an early age.

To Use Present Building.

Agitation for a college was begun four years ago, but lack of facilities forced adherents of the proposal to defer their plans. It was revived recently by Dr. Willett. Plans are now to establish the college in the present high school, as several rooms are available in the new addition which will accommodate 900 more students than attend now.

The college will be under the jurisdiction of the present administration, a dean being selected to serve under Dr. Willett.

All instructors will be holders of masters' degrees, and entrance requirements for students will be much the same as those in force at the University of Illinois.

Adopt Association Standard.

Dr. Willett has emphasized the fact that the standards of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools will be maintained, thus enabling students who finish the junior college course to enter the junior class of any college or university in the association.

It is expected that more than fifty students will enroll the first year. The junior college at La Grange will be the sixth in the state, the others being located in Joliet, Cicero, La Salle, Harvey, and Chicago.

Oak Park Pan-Hellenic to Give Banquet April 20

The Oak Park Pan-Hellenic will give its annual benefit bridge party at the Nineteenth Century Woman's club on April 20. Funds will be devoted to the $300 scholarship which the organization offers a girl graduate of the Oak Park and River Forest Township High school, selected for her scholarship, popularity and activities. Serving on the committee in charge are the following: Mrs. J. H. Heindel, chairman; Mrs. Joseph Godfrey Jr., Mrs. M. H. Kemp, Mrs. Lester Holt, Mrs. George Winterholter, Mrs. Walter Barrow, Mrs. William Savage, Mrs. E. M. Crandell, Mrs. M. L. Seder, and Mrs. Robert Preble.

SPEED REPORT ON ROUTE FOR SUPERHIGHWAY

Plan Board Is Fair, Manager Says.

The Chicago Plan commission will be prepared to make its report regarding the proposed superhighway from the loop to Austin boulevard within a few weeks, Eugene S. Taylor, manager of the commission, told members of the Garfield Park club Monday.

The commission is convinced that a superhighway is necessary, but has not yet decided what route it will recommend. It has limited its study to streets east and west between Roosevelt road and Illinois street, Mr. Taylor said.

EUGENE S. TAYLOR

"Chicago has thirteen highways leading into the city," Mr. Taylor continued, "and 125,000 vehicles use these roads daily. The city needs such a highway for through bound vehicles both to free business streets of fast, through traffic and to allow such traffic to maintain a good speed. Merchants believe that fast traffic shooting past their stores is an impediment to business; if the highway is completed this fast traffic passing stores will be eliminated.

"The highway is essential and very desirable," he said, "but we must study the route with regard to feasibility, cost, and legal complications before coming to a final decision."

Discusses Other Projects.

Mr. Taylor spoke to the Garfield group as a result of an invitation suggested by the recent movement to organize a west side plan commission, according to George P. Madigan, president of the club.

In his talk Mr. Taylor pointed out the fact that the Chicago Plan commission's function is solely to study improvements and make recommendations. He expressed the belief that the west side has not been neglected, as some proponents of the west side commission have charged.

"Thirty-two of the 95 improvements recommended by the commission since its establishment 20 years ago have been on the west side," he pointed out, "and 34 per cent of members of the commission are west side men.

"I am sorry to see sectional prejudice arising," Mr. Taylor said. "What helps one section will help another. The Calumet harbor project, for example, is an improvement which would benefit the entire city, yet some west and north side residents object to paying a tax for what they call a south side improvement. The Chicago Plan is not sectional, and the commission is attempting to carry out the plan as a unit."

Madigan Lauds New Movement.

In answer to Mr. Taylor's statement that the commission is only an advisory body and may only make recommendations to the city council and other governing authorities, hence is not responsible for the carrying out of its projects, Mr. Madigan said that if such is the case, the forming of a west side plan commission is worthwhile and proper.

"In order for the city council to recognize the necessity for improvements and to provide for carrying them out, such improvements must have the support of local groups," he said. "In the past there has been no body to bring out forcibly the desirability of west side improvements. Such should be the work of the new commission. In time it will be recognized as a semi-official body by the council, and will work with the Chicago Plan commission as does the Chicago Regional Planning association.

The Garfield Park club has as yet taken no stand on the elevated highway proposition, Mr. Madigan said, but he ventured the personal belief that, although it is undoubtedly a good thing, such a highway is a state and county problem and not a problem and an expense for the west side alone.

Mr. Madigan opened the meeting by reading a letter from the club to the Chicago Plan commission which he signed and gave to Mr. Taylor. The letter, a result of a resolution adopted by the board of directors of the club, recommended the widening of Kostner avenue from Ogden avenue to Milwaukee avenue.

Cites Necessity for Project.

"Of vital necessity is a wide thoroughfare for automobile traffic from the northwest to the southwest side," the letter said. "It would be ideally situated at Kostner avenue, which is the half section line. This would, of course, be dependent upon the removal of the Chicago and North Western railroad yards north of Lake street.

"After a thorough investigation, we find that Kostner avenue is ideally situated for a boulevard artery, with perhaps the exception of the yards. It would extend from Ogden avenue to Milwaukee avenue, which is also the intersection of Addison street at this point, and would thus serve as an excellent traffic thoroughfare to the north side of the city.

"The present street could be widened by removing several feet of parkways on either side, leaving a reasonable width for sidewalks. So destitute and barren is the majority of the frontage of this street that we believe the advance in property values would make the consent and approval of property owners almost unanimous."

The membership committee of the club reported excellent progress in its drive, and the club voted to extend the time limit until May 1.

FOREST GIANTS DICTATED NAME OF ELMHURST

First Settler Paid $1.25 Acre for Land in 1842.

Mr. Bryan once told me about giving the town its present name and his reason."

Planting More Elms.

I found that Elmhurst residents, desiring to keep the city outstanding in its growth of elms, are giving their support to a program of planting elm saplings on every lot. The American elm grows to a great height, sometimes to 120 feet, with a reach of 60 to 70 feet from the first branches. This makes the branches arch over the streets. Cottage Hill avenue has been termed by visitors, "the most beautiful street in America."

The Elmhurst Chamber of Commerce, by the way, has adopted a three year program of activities as follows:

The establishment of a white way, beginning with a section of York street; establishment and maintenance of a retail merchants' department to handle all trade activities; the widening of York street when found necessary; proper parking in the business district; beautification of the North Western station; a community chest; appointment of a tax commission to make a study of inequalities and assessment; modification of the zoning ordinance pertaining to apartment houses; the erection of a modern hotel; a "know Elmhurst" campaign; co-operation with college and schools; better express delivery service; maintenance of a traffic policeman at York and Lake streets; uniform closing days for business houses; improvements in conditions on vacant lots; the backing of a bond issue for a city incinerator, for a city hall and for fire apparatus for the southern district of Elmhurst.

Chamber of Commerce Officers.

The chairman of this program committee is William L. Reinhold, who is also first vice president of the chamber. Other officers are W. H. N. Shipman, president; Joseph Reilly, second vice president; A. N. Hammerschmidt, treasurer; J. E. Stubbs, secretary-manager; Harry Robillard, J. C. Licht, M. C. Lockwood, H. C. Hesse, E. J. Bunge, Charles Hubner, W. S. Weller, Ray Soukup, directors.

From its earliest days Elmhurst has taken pride in its churches, its college and schools. When the Hawthorne school burned in 1917 the citizens of Villa Park and Ardmore, as well as those of Elmhurst, saw the possibilities of a splendid community high school, and the York Community High school, erected the following year, is the result.

The third prize of $2 was awarded, to Mrs. V. S. Thorp, 146 Berteau avenue, Elmhurst, for "Lunch Time," showing Margaret Jane Thorp feeding a kid.

MADIGAN SEES CITY OF MANY TRADE CENTERS

Community Growth Just Started.

several large establishments are now locating stores in the outlying districts. The handwriting is on the wall and the loop of Chicago will witness a great many changes in the near future in regard to retailing.

We have heard it frequently said in the past by merchants and manufacturers in all lines of business that due to a certain change in public demand overnight their fortunes have been lost. It might be gathered from this that it was due to conditions beyond control, but upon closer analysis, it will be seen that they did not heed the change which was taking place all around them many months or years before it overtook them, and so did not adjust themselves accordingly.

Irene Castle bobbed her hair long before the war and gradually the American women followed suit; still, millions were lost by American importers of hair nets. Many of the bicycle factories of years ago thought the automobile was a passing fancy, that it would not work, and they continued to manufacture, and attempted to sell, bicycles on a large scale. Fortunes and their owners parted.

Some Examples of Success.

A great number of the tire manufacturers, however, began to make automobile tires, and today at least one or two of the outstanding automobile tire manufacturers of the country had their origins in bicycle tires. The first million dollar picture house in Chicago was proclaimed by motion picture men over the country as madness, and they predicted its failure within a year. Today none but the largest houses can satisfy the public, and the smaller houses are closing one by one with no new small ones opening.

The change which will take place eventually on State street will some day be referred to as a change that took place over night, but in reality it has been taking place over a good number of years.

The loop retail trade of the future will be made up of the loop workers and the transients who visit Chicago, which, of course, will in itself be a sizeable business, for Chicago as a convention center, business center and railroad center will surpass any other city in the world.

The people who live in Chicago and its suburbs will continue in an ever larger degree to patronize its newer shopping centers. The extent this will reach in about five years will surpass our wildest imaginations.

VOTE TO START 7 WEST SIDE SCHOOLS IN '29

Seven out of sixteen construction projects planned by the board of education this year are for the west side, according to plans submitted by D. C. Rogers, director of the board's building survey, and adopted by the board recently. Five new schools are to be constructed and additions will be made to two buildings.

Pointing to the fact that there is only $10,000,000 in the building fund, officials of the board announced that all of the buildings on the program cannot be completed this year. The architectural department has proposed that all be started this year, however, and finished next year.

The new schools for the west side include a senior high school, two junior high schools and two elementary schools, while additions will be made to two elementary schools. The seven buildings will accommodate 8,502 pupils, while the entire building program for the city is planned for 23,350 pupils.

A table compiled by the building survey shows 260,601 elementary school pupils in attendance in 1924 and 255,786 last year, while there were 32,209 senior high school pupils five years ago and 46,147 last year.

First in urgency among west side schools is an addition to Anderson elementary school, 1155 North Lincoln street, the report said. The new building will accommodate 480 pupils, and will provide an assembly hall and gymnasium.

Next on the list, the fifth most urgent in the city, is the proposed new Volta elementary school, Argyle street and Avers avenue. A building with 972 seats is planned.

A new senior high school at Barry and Melvina avenues, seating 2,500 pupils, is next on the list according to its urgency.

Fifth on the west side list is a junior high school at 18th street and Keeler avenue which would provide accommodations for 2,000 pupils and would relieve on overload at Harrison High school and four neighboring elementary schools.

Another junior high school is planned for Augusta street and Ashland avenue.

A proposed addition to Avondale elementary school and a new Ray Branch school are rated as of equal urgency.

Answers

Following are the answers to quotations previously published:

Quotation.—When March comes in like a lamb it goes out like a lion.

Answer.—This proverb, in reverse order is found in "The Compleat Collection of English Proverbs" by the English naturalist, John Ray or Wray, who was born in 1628 and died in 1705. The first edition was published in 1670. Later editions appeared in 1742, 1767, and 1813. The proverb runs as follows:

March hack ham, comes in like a lion,
Goes out like a lamb.
March comes in like a lion,
Goes out like a lamb.

—Marguerite M. Nelson, 5129 Cullom avenue, Chicago.

NOTE—Maybe some one can tell the rest of us what "hack ham" means, if anything.

Quotation.—Educate 'em with a krag.

Answer.—This quotation, or rather, "Civilize 'em with a Krag," is from a song which was popular among the United States troops engaged in putting down the Philippine insurrection just after the Spanish-American war. The song, a parody on "Tramp, Tramp, Tramp, the Boys are Marching," started with:

Damn, damp, damn the Filipinos—

And concluded:

Then beneath the starry flag,
Civilize 'em with a Krag,
And return us to our own beloved homes.

The "Krag" was the Krag-Jorgensen rifle, in general use in the United States army at that time.—Frank A. Post, 332 South Kenilworth avenue, Oak Park, Ill.

Quotation.—Good Americans, when they die, go to Paris.

Answer.—In the sixth chapter of "The Autocrat of the Breakfast Table," by Oliver Wendell Holmes, is this observation: "There is that glorious epicurean paradox uttered by my friend the historian [John Lothrop Motley], in one of his flashing moments, 'Give us the luxuries of life, and we will dispense with its necessaries.' To this must certainly be added that other saying of one of the wittiest of men, 'Good Americans, when they die, go to Paris.'"

The "one of the wittiest of men" to whom Dr. Holmes referred was Thomas Gold Appleton, born in Massachusetts in 1812.

Emerson says, "Next to the originator of a good sentence is the first quoter of it." Dr. Holmes should certainly be given credit for the life of this quip of Mr. Appleton's. Oliver Wendell Holmes—physician, poet, essayist, novelist—was born in Cambridge, Mass., on Aug. 29, 1809. He was the first real American humorist. He died in 1894.—Mabel Ruth Jackson, 7003 Normal boulevard, Chicago.

Women Can Be in Style and Still Be Comfortable

A year ago I came home from a dance at the Oak Park club, flung myself down into the nearest chair and kicked off my shoes with a sigh of relief. It had been a pleasant affair, but I had been in torture the whole evening. My feet ached. I felt nervous and cross.

To glance at the offending shoes, no one would suspect that they were the cause of my irritation. If ever a woman had been smartly shod, I was that woman. My shoes were chic in style. Their beautiful silver satin matched my new frock. With their dainty cut-out designs, Louis heels and narrow strap, they were the last word in a formal shoe. Yet they had spoiled my whole evening.

Doctor Gives Advice

The next night a well-known Oak Park physician and his wife were dinner guests at our home. We were old friends and I felt free to tell him my troubles. He was sympathetic but perfectly familiar with the problem. "Women come to me almost every day with the same story," he said. "They want smart footwear and they want comfort. Yet they can have both if they would wear correctly fitted shoes.

"The trouble is due to the fact that our feet are as different as our faces," he explained. "Each person's feet have certain peculiarities. Unless these are recognized by the shoe fitter and the proper shape and size of shoe selected, she will be uncomfortable just as you were last night."

"Well, what's the answer?" I asked. "There's another big party at the club next week, but I don't want to go if I have to be in misery the entire evening."

New Methods in Oak Park

"I'm going to give you some free advice," said the doctor. "If you follow it, you'll be able to enjoy every minute of your next party. A year and a half ago there was a shop opened by an Oak Park man who specializes in the correct fitting of women's and children's shoes. He is different from almost all other shoemen in that he makes, right in his own store, the slight alterations that each particular customer may need. He has had twenty years' experience in fitting women and children and his success, even with difficult cases, is such that foot specialists in Oak Park and Chicago send people to him. I have referred many women and children to this place with good results.

"You'll find his shoes are of the latest vogue, too. His experience assures style as well as comfort. The name of this shoe man is E. J. Fanning and his shop is at 1027 Lake street, just east of the Hub."

Gets Style and Comfort

I thanked the doctor and the next afternoon I went to Fanning's store to see for myself. A sign in the window confirmed the doctor's statement. It read: "We make the task of fitting shoes a pleasure for the ladies who usually find it difficult to be fitted." I told Mr. Fanning that Dr. ——— had sent me and he seemed to take it as a matter of course. "He sends many people here," he said, "and many of the ladies are fitted with Matrix shoes. You will find them chic in style as well as comfortable."

I asked to be fitted in a dress shoe. He spent considerable time with me. He made a slight alteration in the pair of lovely slippers I finally selected. I put them on and wore them at the president's big reception and dinner dance last year. I danced every dance and when I got home I wasn't a bit tired. Every woman who knows the blessing of comfortable shoes realizes my feelings. My foot worries have disappeared. Since then I have bought all my shoes there and have had the children fitted there with excellent results. Do you wonder that I am enthusiastic?

Questions Shoeman

I enjoyed such satisfaction with the Matrix shoes with which Mr. Fanning had fitted me that the next time I went in I asked him to tell me more about them.

"That's a question many ladies have asked me," he replied. "The Matrix shoe is the answer to the demand of ladies for both style and comfort. Until recently a style shoe has usually been more or less uncomfortable and a comfort shoe more or less styleless. Matrix shoes are primarily style shoes—skillfully made from expertly selected leathers over lasts cunningly designed to make feet aristocratically small and dainty.

"But concealed in the smartness of Matrix shoes is a new invention in shoe making. Instead of the usual flat soles unyielding to the soft contours of the foot, Matrix shoes have soles scientifically molded to fit every curve and arch. They really are your footprint in leather.

Woman Tells Friends

"When your foot slips into a Matrix shoe, it feels at home instantly—it needs no 'breaking-in.' That's the reason I was able to dance the whole evening in a new pair of Matrix dress shoes and come home with comfortable feet. Smart styles, fine leathers and the newest colors are all available here in these comfortable feeling shoes."

Mr. Fanning's explanation and my own satisfactory experience made me an enthusiastic booster for the Matrix shoe. I often tell my friends about this unusual place just east of the Hub store and I find that Oak Park and River Forest women and children who have difficulty in being properly fitted are going there in increasing numbers.

AUSTIN LEGION STAGES ANNUAL SHOW THIS WEEK

'Womanless Wedding' On for Two Nights.

Saturday, April 13, has been designated as Legion day by Lawndale Crawford post, No. 98. The post is preparing with the Business Men's association a program for that day that will include a big parade. Other posts in the county have been invited to join in the celebration and are asked to bring along their war relics, their drum and bugle corps, and prepare floats. "It doesn't make a darn bit of difference what you bring," urged Commander Charles J. Roth," but be there. After the parade, a jubilee will be held in Pilsen park. Spring is here. Bring the gang. We are hot up over this event and rain couldn't cool us off."

Austin post, No. 52, of the American Legion, under the leadership of Commander B. B. Gernon, announces the annual post show, entitled "The Womanless Wedding," which will be the first entertainment to take place in the new Austin town hall, Thursday and Friday nights. Members of the post are to take all the rôles in the cast, including the feminine. Comrade M. A. McEwen is assigning the parts.

In addition to this comedy-drama event, there will be a singing and dancing chorus of girls and a variety of vaudeville. Inasmuch as the new town hall will accommodate only 1,400 persons, it has been decided to hold the performance on two nights, in order to allow all the members of the post and their friends, as well as the general public, an opportunity to attend.

The entire production is under the direction of Miss Maryanne Manning of Oak Park. The proceeds of the show are to be used in furtherance of the work of the Legion in the community and among former service men.

April 15 has been tentatively set as the date for the "snappiest gastronomical convention Berwyn post, No. 422, has ever attempted." And—to quote from the Bugle—"by that date it is hoped that the last gold plated doorknob will be in place and the last mural painting hung on the walls. The new dugout will be the last word in artistic, scientific, and architectural perfection. Table decorations and entertainment features, as now planned, are to be unique, if not actually ritzy."

Elmhurst unit to T. H. B. post of the American Legion went to Speedway hospital Easter Sunday morning, where they decorated the tables for the 300 veterans. Rabbits, eggs, colored candles, and other appropriate decorations were used. The Elmhurst unit will make this an annual event.

Dedication of a memorial tablet in honor of the men of the Chicago and North Western railway who made the supreme sacrifice in the world war took place in the main waiting room at the North Western passenger station yesterday noon, the event being outstanding in the history of North Western post, No. 430. President Fred W. Sargent accepted the tablet in behalf of the railroad. Music was furnished by the C. & N. W. band and choral club. Woodlawn post provided the color guard.

Commander A. L. Brodie promises "a pleasant surprise" for comrades who attend the next meeting of James G. Brophy post, No. 195, to be held at the clubhouse, 4856 Jackson boulevard, on Monday night. Arrangements have been made for members of the auxiliary to eat, play cards, and make merry on the first floor of the clubhouse, while the meeting is going on.

Members of company D, 124th machine gun battalion, are planning a dinner reunion to be held at the Metropole hotel, 23d street and Michigan avenue, on the evening of April 18.

SUNDAY SCHOOLS OFFER $4,000 IN ESSAY CONTESTS

The Rev. William W. Johnston of 201 North Ridgeland avenue, Oak Park, superintendent of the lakes district of the American Sunday School union, is endeavoring to interest Chicago and west suburban religious educators and writers in two contests which his organization is promoting.

The union is offering two prizes of $2,000 each for the best manuscripts on "Religion in Education" and "The Heroic Appeal of Christianity to Young People."

The manuscripts, according to Dr. Johnston, must not be written for any class or section, but must be designed to meet rural needs and opportunities. The work of the Sunday School union is confined largely to rural sections. Union Sunday schools are established by its missionaries in districts where churches cannot be supported. To make this work more effective, the contest was arranged in the hope of getting Sunday school literature of the highest merit. The contest will close March 1, 1930.

Robert Burns P.-T. Group Elects Mrs. Anna Jandus

Mrs. Anna Jandus was chosen president of the newly formed Parent-Teacher association of Robert Burns school, 2524 South Central Park avenue, at the recent election of officers. Miss Anna E. Wise, principal of the school, was elected honorary president. The officers who will serve with Mrs. Jandus are: first vice president, Mrs. Mae Fortelka; second vice president, Henry Sonnenschein; recording secretary, Mrs. Marjorie Jelinek; corresponding secretary, Mrs. George B. Weiss, and treasurer, Mrs. Julia Hartman. Mrs. Mayme Fritsch is head of the program committee and Mrs. Emma Koci, chairman of the social committee.

GARFIELD CLUB LAUDS COP WHO SEIZED SLAYER

The Garfield Park club has sent a resolution to Commissioner of Police Russell commending the work of Policeman Martin J. Joyce in capturing Gaetna Menna, who shot the Rev. Charles A. Erkenswick of Holy Ghost church on March 29.

MARTIN J. JOYCE.

The facts of the capture, as outlined in the resolution, were as follows: Policeman Joyce was stationed at Crawford avenue and Madison street when a driver of a laundry truck shouted to him that "there was a shooting and stickup near Kildare avenue and Adams street."

Joyce commandeered the truck to drive him to the scene. When they reached Keeler avenue they were stopped by traffic, and Joyce, seeing two boys, asked them if they had seen a man running; the boys told him they had and, pointing to a man waiting for a street car, said he resembled the man. Walking up to him, he found he had a revolver which still had the odor of burning powder. He then took him to the scene of the shooting, where he was identified.

The resolution was signed by George P. Madigan, president of the club.

TEMPLE JUDEA PLAYERS STAGE COMEDY TONIGHT

"Kindling," by Charles Kenyon, a comedy in three acts, will be given by the Temple players of Temple Judea, 1227 Independence boulevard, at 8 o'clock tonight. This production is the first to be given by the group this spring. It is being staged and directed by Walter Lyons.

The cast includes Julie Rubin, Miss Sonia Hassen, Miss Regina Plasinsky, Syd Simons, Lee Gorenstein, Samuel Adams, Shirley Brenner, Leo Karlin, Jerome J. Greenberg, and Bernard B. Becker.

The players describe "Kindling" as a "play about the poor and a sympathetic study of their emotions." It was produced at the Cort theater in 1912.

The group has already given "Seventh Heaven," "Little Old New York," "Laugh That Off," "The Youngest," and "The Melting Pot."

SOME CHANGES FOR OUTDOOR TWIN PUSHER

How to Add Elevator and Tail Service.

Outdoor events of the second model airplane tournament, sponsored by THE TRIBUNE, will be held May 19 at Washington park; indoor events, May 26, at the 132nd Infantry armory.

Forty-eight medals, two trophies, and two trips to the national championship meet and back will be awarded the winners.

All entries must be certified by an official of a playground or school.

BY MERRILL HAMBURG.
(Secretary Airplane Model League of America.)

Last week, in the columns of THE TRIBUNE, local sponsor of the Airplane Model League of America, you learned how to make an outdoor Twin Pusher, the king of outdoor ships. This week I'm going to tell you of some changes in the championship model that have interested a lot of experts.

These changes are suggested by Joseph Lucas, president of the Illinois Model Aero club—the oldest model club in America—and a builder of years of experience. Lucas says that they helped him to win the national outdoor trophy last year. His ship made a flight of four minutes twenty-four seconds at the first national A. M. L. A. contests.

As you'll see by the drawing of the ship, the differences consist in the addition of a built-up elevator and auxiliary rear surface. The championship model has only a single surface elevator. Consequently it is lighter. But Lucas believes that his additions give the model added lift to compensate for the additional weight.

How to Get Kit.

To make the new parts you'll need a sheet of Japanese tissue paper, 10½ x31 inches; a piece of 1-16 inch flat balsa, and some 1-32 inch flat balsa, both pieces 12 inches long. If you haven't these materials, send 15 cents to the supply department, A. M. L. A., American Boy building, Second and Lafayette boulevards, Detroit, Mich., asking for the elevator kit. It will come to you by return mail.

The wing section of both elevator and rear surface is the same as that of the main wing—you'll remember that the Clark-Y airfoil was the suggested section. Make five ribs of the same proportions — with the same curve, that is—for the rear surface, and five for the elevator; but reduce the size so that the rib length is no more than three inches.

Drawing Gives Details.

Now cut leading and trailing edge strips from your flat balsa. Make the elevator 12 inches long, with its dihedral angle such that the tips will be 1⅝ inches above the center. Cut all strips first, make each half of the elevator separately and join them. The work you did last week on the main wing will tell you all the details of this job. It will help you with covering the elevator, too.

Figure the length of the strips for the rear surface by measuring the distance between the exact points on the two fuselage sticks where you will attach it. This is a perfectly straight wing section—no dihedral to it—so it will be easy to build and to cover. Note that it fits in between the sticks, and takes the place of the two rear bamboo cross-braces. The drawing shows details.

Last Minute Touches.

The elevator is held to the sticks by a big rubber band; but the rear surface is ambroided permanently in position. The elevator should not be set at any angle of incidence, for its airfoil section furnishes enough lift.

Now a few hints on last minute touches to that Twin Pusher. Don't forget that extreme lightness is of prime importance in all championship models. Make each individual part just as light, sand it down as thin, as requisite strength will permit. One overheavy part won't make much difference, but a lot of them will!

Take extreme care with each bit of work, too. You can lessen wind resistance, increase lift and add to performance by seeking neatness and exactness. Remember, also, that the successful contest performer is the one who has plenty of spare parts—props, motors, even fuselages and wings.

Good Winder Needed.

Be sure that your rubber is in good shape—not too old nor too often used. You'll need a good eggbeater winder, too. The league can furnish plans for a winder.

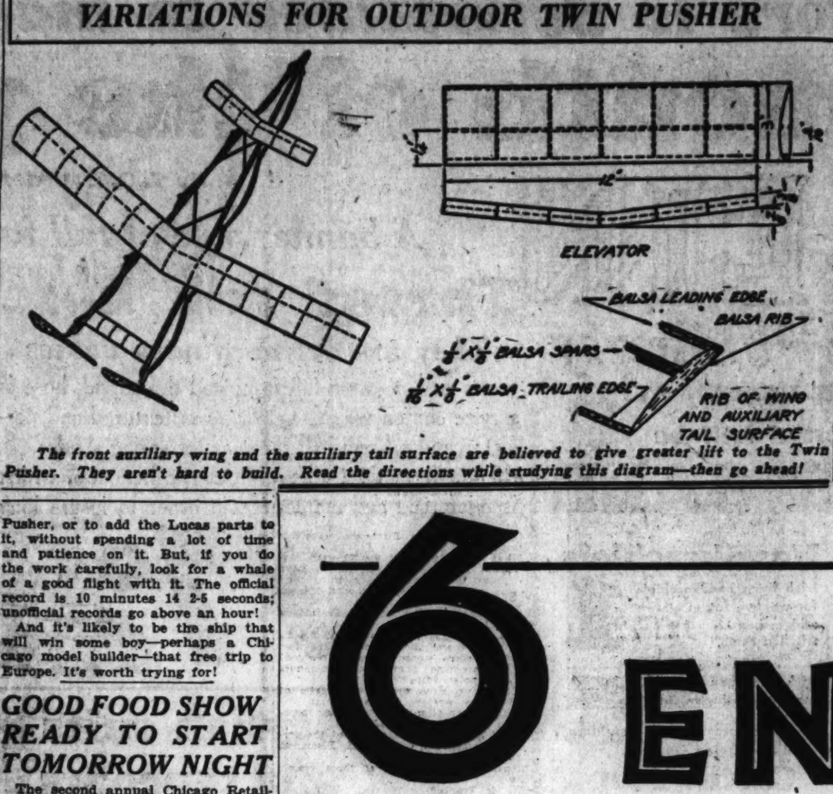
You'll find that you get best results when the two propellers turn up in the center and out toward the sides.

If you haven't plans for the plane, you can get them by sending a two cent stamp to the league with your request. They're included in the official league kit for the Outdoor Twin Pusher, obtainable for $3 at league headquarters.

Don't expect to build the Twin Pusher, or to add the Lucas parts to it, without spending a lot of time and patience on it. But, if you do the work carefully, look for a whale of a good flight with it. The official record is 10 minutes 14 2-5 seconds; unofficial records go above an hour!

And it's likely to be the ship that will win some boy—perhaps a Chicago model builder—that free trip to Europe. It's worth trying for!

VARIATIONS FOR OUTDOOR TWIN PUSHER



The front auxiliary wing and the auxiliary tail surface are believed to give greater lift to the Twin Pusher. They aren't hard to build. Read the directions while studying this diagram—then go ahead!

ELMHURST BANK AND REALTY FIRM IN NEW BUILDING

The First National bank of Elmhurst and the Suburban Realty company opened their doors to the public in their new building yesterday.

The exterior is of yellow brick and cut stone. The interior presents a panorama of historical scenes, reproductions of famous paintings in each of twelve large panels, extending from floor to ceiling. Emil J. Fellge of Chicago is the artist.

Italian marble in warm, variegated tints makes up the panels for the banking counters.

Another feature is the indirect lighting, coming through beautiful art glass skylights, no side lights being used.

The north half of the building will be used to house the bank for a year or two until a new home is built by them at the old location, after which time the Suburban Realty company expect to occupy the entire structure.

C. OF C. STARTS BUSES TO DRAW TRADE TO AREA

26th Street Merchants to Give Away Tickets.

At the instigation of the Southwest chamber of commerce a community bus service has been established to transport shoppers to the 26th street business district. The buses operate from 1 o'clock to 9 o'clock daily except Sundays on a thirty minute schedule in 26th street from Kedzie avenue to Ogden avenue, then along Ogden avenue to Harlem avenue and return. During the first ten days rides on the buses were gratis, but beginning tomorrow tickets will be issued by merchants free to their customers. The various stores and shops taking part in the enterprise are to have signs in their windows indicating the fact.

To inaugurate the service $6,000 was required, one-half being subscribed by merchants and the other half being underwritten by the Adams State bank. A motor coach company is operating the buses for the chamber.

Officers of the Chamber.

The officers of the chamber of commerce are: President, Joseph Klicka; vice presidents, Norbert F. Kochka, James F. Klecka, Charles Klicka, Edward R. Novak, and Roderick A. Ginsberg; secretary, Jack L. Frank, and treasurer, Joseph J. Janda. The board of directors is made up of the officers of the organization, and the following: Dr. E. T. Trafelet, Dr. A. J. Pearlman, Emil Denemark, Bo Mikuta, Jack H. Stone, C. W. Potuznik, and George A. Tourek.

The chamber is now working for the erection of a railroad station on Crawford avenue near 26th street on the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy line. The nearest station at present is at Cicero avenue. Norbert F. Kochka, head of the division of transportation of the chamber of commerce, is in charge of the drive for the new station.

Cleanup to Save Trade.

The chamber recently engaged in a cleanup campaign among merchants along 26th street.

In a letter addressed to owners of stores and shops in the community, Jack L. Frank, secretary of the chamber, said in part, "What is the matter with 26th street? What is the matter with business? We believe that the stores, displays, service and prices are not attractive enough to bring in a maximum number of customers. Remember, the street is only what we make it."

Whereupon, several questions were put to the storekeepers, among them the following: "Are your stores and windows well lighted? Have you an electric sign? Are the signs in your windows neat and attractive? Have you modern fixtures, tables, show cases and mirrors in your store? Are you giving prompt service to your customers? Is your customer always right? Do you advertise? Are you giving your customer the best values that he can get in the city of Chicago?"

The letter ended with the suggestion "Let us clean up, brush up, right up, sweep up, and doll up our stores for the buses which will run from Kedzie avenue to the western suburbs."

An invitation has been extended to merchants of the community to join the chamber. Among those whose names are now on the membership list are Frank J. Bilek, J. M. Cizek Jr., Vitus J. Houha, Laddie Komorous, Frank F. Kucera, Charles Baumrucker, Frank G. Hajicek, John P. Havlicek, Charles Jaros, Otto Kaspar, Anthony W. Komarek; Thomas Chisholm, Miles Geringer, Frederick H. SCHOOL COUNCIL TO CONCENTRATE ON GIRLS' NEEDS

Lucy Flower Letter Is Used as Model.

A community council which must of necessity be different from those being organized in other parts of the city will be formed within the next few weeks by Miss Dora Wells, principal of Lucy Flower Technical High school, 3545 Fulton boulevard.

Since Flower is a girls' school, problems concerning the education of girls as well as problems of the community will be studied at the council.

A letter composed last week by Miss Wells will be sent out tomorrow to some twenty neighborhood organizations. Men's as well as women's groups will be asked to coöperate in the work.

Letter Used as Model.

Benjamin F. Buck, assistant superintendent of schools in charge of the organization of the councils, has had copies made of Miss Wells' letter and has sent them to principals throughout the city advising them to send similar letters to groups in their respective districts.

"I am anxious to form a community council for the Flower High school to function in some of the following ways," Miss Wells wrote to the clubs:

"First, to serve as a background of interest and support for the school itself;

"Second, to assist in enlarging the understanding of valid education for girls;

Seeks to Increase Usefulness.

"Third, to build a body of friends who will help the school to serve the needs of the community in which it is located;

"Fourth, to enlarge and deepen community spirit by programs and entertainments in the school buildings, entertainments shared by the school and by its patrons and friends;

"Fifth, to arouse and maintain interest in a city-wide civic meeting to be held annually in some central place —a meeting which shall develop civic pride and civic righteousness."

Mrs. C. A. Larsen Heads New Elmhurst Auxiliary

Mrs. C. A. Larsen of Elmhurst was elected president of the Elmhurst auxiliary at its meeting Thursday evening. A constitution and by-laws were adopted. Mrs. B. A. Spear, Glen Ellyn, was elected secretary, and Mrs. Glasner of Lombard, treasurer. The new organization is making a membership drive similar to that of the Red Cross. The dollar fee is used to aid worthy people in getting surgical and hospital care.

Visit of O. E. S. Chief.

Mrs. Sarah Daniels, worthy grand matron of the Order of Eastern Star for the state of Illinois, was the guest Friday evening of Oak Park chapter. It was the annual official visit of the grand matron. Mrs. Daniels is a member of the Ben Hur chapter.

GIRL FINISHES FIRST IN STORY CONTEST AT WHEATON COLLEGE

First place in this year's short story contest at Wheaton college, Wheaton, was awarded Friday night to Miss Evangeline Payne, whose manuscript, "The Time of the Singing of Birds," was considered best among the twelve stories that had passed preliminary siftings.

Second place was given to H. Paul Turner, who wrote "Tulip Time," and third honors fell to Miss Joy Leister, author of "The Host." Each of the three winners received a silver cup.

Six literary societies at the college entered the competition. Preliminaries were held on March 22. At that time the best two manuscripts from each literary group were selected by judges and submitted to Oney Fred Sweet, feature writer on the metropolitan section of THE TRIBUNE, who served as the final judge.

The story contests have been held at Wheaton college since the early days and are sponsored by the Wheaton College Record, a weekly student publication.

U. S. IS STUDYING PLAN TO LICENSE RADIO STATIONS

Recommendations Ready in December.

Washington, D. C.—"One million dollars a channel" was the arbitrary value fixed upon each radio wave length during the recent congressional deliberations on radio legislation. That this standard has no real economic basis was recognized by the members of congress, but they were sufficiently interested to order an inquiry into the possibility of levying license fees upon those granted the right to use the precious channels of the ether.

Such an investigation is now being conducted by the federal radio commission with a view to complying with the resolution introduced by Senator Dill of Washington, calling for the recommendation of a schedule of fees to be imposed upon the several classes of stations. It is Senator Dill's idea that the charges should be greater according to the power and the use made by those to whom licenses are granted.

At least one member of the commission, H. A. Lafount, representing the western zone, is already on record as being vigorously opposed to any plan of making broadcasting stations bear the burden of this license fee system. Mr. Lafount is, in fact, only luke warm toward the whole license fee project.

Want Public Hearings.

The National Association of Broadcasters is not opposed to the establishment of a system of federal license fees, provided that such license fees are required from all radio stations licensed to transmit radio communications, and provided that the term of any license for which a fee is paid is not less than one year. It recommends, however, that the congress shall by law establish the basis on which such fee is to be charged, and shall do so only after public hearings have been held for the purpose of determining such basis in an equitable manner.

While various foreign countries are known to levy fees where they do not own all radio facilities outright or exact flat sums or percentages of profit from concessionaires, the only data on license fees that the commission has at hand is that obtained from Canada. Under the radiotelegraph act of Canada, the department of marine at Ottawa charges its licensees the following per annum sums:

Limited commercial stations, $50; public commercial, $50; private commercial broadcasting, $50; private commercial, $10; experimental, $5; amateur broadcasting, $10; amateur experimental, $2.50; technical or training schools, $5, and ships, $10.

Suggest Leasing Channels.

It is regarded altogether unlikely that the United States fees will be as small in the recommendations that will be ready for congress by next December.

That coastal and commercial station engaged in point to point and ship code service should pay the government such small amounts for the right to use the ether, would provoke considerable antagonism when the subject is considered by congress. When the remark was made that each channel was worth $1,000,000, the reference was made to the transoceanic and transcontinental high frequencies, or short waves. At the present time, the government gets nothing directly in return for the licenses it grants to use those channels.

Neither does the government profit directly from broadcasting assignments to the 600 stations in the United States. Nothing is charged for the 17,000 or more amateur licenses either, although each amateur must pass a technical test before a federal radio supervisor to qualify for a license.

In favor of the imposition of nominal lincense fees, it will be argued that this is the only way the government can defray the constantly mounting expenses of radio administration. In favor of high license fees, especially for code communications services, it will be proposed that this is one way to eliminate "haywire" stations which barely creep in under the "public interest, convenience or necessity" standard set by the radio act. Some legislators have already suggested that it might be well to "lease" the channels to the highest bidder and the companies best qualified to maintain either wireless communications or broadcasting services, and perhaps later the regular television services.

Tax on Listeners.

Against the fees proposal, the theory is advanced that the extension of radio for domestic and international telegraph communications has put the United States in a preeminent strategic position for war or peacetime emergencies. Even more important in day by day life, it is pointed out that the radio communication channels are carrying nationwide and worldwide the messages of trade that mean so much to the country's economic prosperity.

The commission will probably fix the rates for short and long wave channels at relatively high levels, classifying them according to the importance of the use to which the channels are put. Broadcasting rates will probably be rather low with a graduated scale for stations given over to advertising wholly, advertising only partially, institutional services like those offered by churches and colleges, etc.

It is not probable that the commission will recommend a fee upon listeners such as Canada imposes. In the dominion, all radio receiving sets must be licensed. The cost is $1 a year.

Inside the Loud Speaker

BY QUIN RYAN.

Radio had its chance again the other evening to transmit the very feeling of fear over its electrical waves, in the "panic" during the boxing bout at the Coliseum. It so happened that when the hysterical rush of spectators moved out of the darkness toward the boxing ring we were sitting at the ringside and a sudden violent impact at our back knocked the microphone out of our hands and under the ring.

We had jumped up onto the ring, along with everybody who wasn't crushed against the platform, in order to see what was happening, while 9,000 men and women were fleeing headlong in one direction to avoid an unknown danger. And that little instrument which hears all with unfailing ears lay unmolested underneath the ring, transmitting to listeners hundreds of miles away the panicky sounds and yells and the very electric tenseness which hung over the crowd while they were waiting for the gunshots or lions' roars, or shouts of "fire!" which they anticipated out of the darkness.

On the air it was powerfully dramatic, because it was genuine. One listener, Raymond F. Smith, of Centralia, Ill., writes: "Here is how it was through my loud speaker. I had taken a cushion and was lying on the floor listening to one of the best fights I have heard for a long time, when I heard you shout, 'Hey, what's that?' Then an awful noise, which I found out later was the mike hitting the floor, then no more talking for some time except a few excited yells from men and commands mingled with a weird, low rumble which I was unable to explain, then cracking and pounding which I suppose was the knocking over of the chairs and the breaking of your shelf, as you later said. I rose up from my pillow in wonder as to the cause.

"I didn't have long to wait, when I heard your familiar voice say, 'Hey, is the mike still connected?' You then told us you were talking from the ring and you told us what was taking place, talking all the time, long before the trouble was quieted down. Maybe you think I didn't have some strange feelings come over me as you described something that wasn't on the program at all. The thought struck me that maybe some people were being trampled upon and injured and maybe some killed right then, and here we were listening to it over the radio, in the comfort of our homes, about 300 miles away. I see by this morning's paper that several were injured and two or three quite severely. Every time I think of it, I still have a strange feeling. That experience was the greatest thrill I ever got from a radio."

It reminds us of one evening over a year ago, when a fire broke out in the lakeside terrace of the hotel where we were picking up a dance orchestra. It was on the stroke of midnight and we announced a group of tunes that the orchestra would play for the midsummer dancers. The operator switched from us in the studio to the terrace and rang for the orchestra to start playing. Instead of music we heard a great flashing and crackling and shouts of people. There was actual FEAR in the air. It could be sensed by us in the studio through the radio horn. The whole place was swept by fire, which burned tables, chairs, decorations and melted a saxophone to a weird metal mass—we stretched lines to the roof and tried to describe the running patrons, the activities of the firemen and the playing of the hose from the street—and through it all that microphone hung there in the fire, picking up all the sounds of burning dining room.

SOMETIMES a word spoken by an announcer is heard incorrectly on the air and it causes a deal of consternation. Pat Barnes tells us of the time he was broadcasting Chicago's civic reception to Col. Lindbergh, a banquet at a downtown hotel. Pat was seated just behind Lindy, who was in the middle of the speakers' table. Many prominent citizens were eulogizing the flyer between courses of the dinner.

Pat was inserting little comments here and there, describing what a fine, bashful young fellow Lindy appeared to be. Suddenly the colonel dropped a fork and it lay on the floor behind the chair. Bother Pat, during a lull in the speeches, spoke: "And now, just to let you know how thoroughly human and like all of us Lindy is, he just dropped a fork on the floor behind his chair."

In the following few days about one hundred letters arrived on Pat's desk, expressing amazement—"Do you mean to say, Mr. Barnes, that Lindy dropped a quart on the floor behind him?"

SHOWING WHAT tell-tale busybodies microphones can be—a bald headed gent is dancing past the orchestra with his young partner in a night club, and she says, "Why is it you never speak above a whisper when you're dancing here?" And the fat gent replies: "Well, you know, they broadcast the band from here, and it's practically certain my wife's listening in."

days. Our experiences with amateur nights, or amateur periods, some years ago were very delightful. The only unhappy element in them was that most of the applicants were too good to be funny, and an amateur night isn't funny unless the performers are absolutely terrible.

An hour was devoted to the show, and there were many, many applicants. Instead of being as laughably impossible as the famous Cherry sisters of the vaudeville stage, they were mostly just mediocre singers. One of two, however, were unconsciously howling successes, singing hymns in duets and playing on queer instruments.

Because they were honest and sincere neophytes from distant parts seeking candid judgments on their talents, it was impossible for us to razz them as the theater attendants used to do the amateurs who lined up on the stage for the awarding of the prizes. It would be really insulting to shout "Get the hook," as the boys were wont to do in the theater. And the only good laughs were derived from the insertion of some of our regular performers in burlesque rôles.

LOUISE HOMER, MISS STEWART ON AIR TONIGHT

Will Give Program in Kent Series.

An artist who has trod the hard pathway from obscurity to the highest pinnacle of success — Louise Homer, Metropolitan opera and concert contralto—and a young artist who has gained national and international acclaim through radio performance, Kathleen Stewart, pianist, are to be the co-stars in the Atwater Kent radio hour tonight in a program boardcast by W-G-N, THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE station on the Drake hotel, and a coast to coast network.

Both artists demonstrate the American spirit of womanhood applied to creative work in the arts. Each has attained the highest type of success without the sacrifice of a single iota of her feminine charm. Louise Homer represents as much to her public as a mother and a home maker as she does as one of the world's greatest contraltos.

Family Circle of Artists.

In fact one who thinks of her as a great singer thinks in terms also of her composer husband, her singing and playing daughters and their ideal family circle—yet a circle of artists of striking ability.

Kathleen Stewart came before the public as a pianist with the National Broadcasting company. She immediately centered attention on herself as an artist who paints pictures in tone, ether of the most delicate shading or the most brilliant coloring, with the usually arbitrary black and white keys of the piano.

Versatile Artist.

In the playing of one of Grieg's concertos for the piano, which tells a story of intense drama, Miss Stewart has been rated supreme among women pianists. She started out in life to play the piano, then switched to painting and then to the violin. One day she wandered into the N. B. C. studios for an audition. She was engaged and has been a regular program artist and accompanist ever since. Last year she played more than fifty concerts, arranged through the concert bureau of the company, in addition to her radio work. This latter involved being solo pianist for orchestral broadcasts as well as playing innumerable special programs of her own and work in conjunction with other broadcast artists.

SUNDAY, APRIL 7.

"AHOY! CAP'N LITTLE!"

IT'S Chief Officer Richard Henry Little, now skipper of the Line-o-type, who spent his time before the mast of the good ship Fah Wahn. As a reporter, R. H. L. was sent snooping around the Gulf of Pe-chi-li in an attempt to learn some news of the Russo-Japanese war. He and his Japanese sailors sailed proudly up to Yingtse, the Manchurian port, in hopes of nosing some news from Niu-chwang—but that's his story. Was there news? A large order! (There were Russians in that thar port). At his customary time—10:15.

PAT BARNES 7:15

YOU should get to know Pat. When you do, you'll like him even more. Not only is Pat an announcer and a reader, but he's a playwright and a well trained actor. Tonight, for instance, you will probably hear him take the part of three or four characters in the sketch that he has written himself. Pat Barnes is a hit whether he be acting before blinding footlights, or whether he treads a silent carpet in a hushed radio studio. Every gesture—every smile is there, though his visible audience be only a cold and silent microphone. But you sense, somehow, the gestures and the smile of Pat just to listen. 7:15.

VARIETY 2:00

JOHN STAMFORD

VARIETY is the main ingredient in this early afternoon gambol of notes. John Stamford, our dignified announcer, turns tenor for this program, singing a few of your favorites plucked from his great big song book. Paul Mertz pushes his piano back into a corner where it can't get away, and—! Van (Four String) Fleming and his guitar will hold a sentimental but melodious conversation if they don't get hot. If you do—Wow! Harold Stokes, the midget sharp and flat man from Leningrad, will try to keep his accordeon from getting itself into a knot. That's about all we can get into one ordinary program. 2:00.

TALKS TUESDAY

JOAN LOWELL.

Young authoress who is to tell of her life at sea Tuesday night over a network of stations, including W-G-N, The Chicago Tribune station.

JOAN LOWELL TO TELL STORY ON RADIO TUESDAY

As soon as she was able to walk her sunburned toes gripped the slanting deck of a ship. From then on life was about as vivid and fascinating an experience as was ever lived by a woman—or man, for that matter. Probably never before in the history of literature has such rip-roarin' adventure ever been recorded by a girl.

Joan Lowell, descendant on one side of Boston blue stockings and on the other of bewhiskered Levantine sea rovers, became nationally famous overnight through the publication recently of her adventures under the title, "The Cradle of the Deep."

The broadcasting of Joan Lowell's story by herself over a chain of stations will be a unique experience in radio. A total of 30 stations, including W-G-N, the CHICAGO TRIBUNE station, will be hooked up for the national broadcast Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock Chicago time.

Was Raised as Boy.

Joan Lowell's father carried her aboard his schooner, a copra trader in the South Pacific, when she was only eleven months old. A she goat, purchased for a broken alarm clock from south sea natives, was her nurse. For seventeen years the only ground under her feet was about sixty fathoms of water.

Raised as a man oy men as hard as nails, it is small wonder that Joan's early ambition was to be able to swear for three minutes without once repeating herself, and eventually she achieved this distinction.

With the head of an angel and a fist like a hammer, this little thug in overalls (for she never knew what dresses were) paraded the deck of her floating home looking for trouble. She found it—and how. Her father caught her just in time one day when she was going ashore to have nude ladies tattooed on her chest—just like the other sailors.

The Hangman's Noose.

To Joan women were soft, fluffy things that "smelled good." In her ficating world of men her own sex was as inscrutable as the inhabitants of another planet, and her first real experience with them pretty nearly caused a riot.

She found navigating on shore so full of shoals that she fled back to sea, and there a member of the crew casually showed her one night how to make a hangman's noose. A sure and ghastly sense of drama impelled him to knot it under his own left ear and dance on the wind.

On one of her rare visits ashore a pedantic and pompous professor of economics once told her: "You are a very interesting study, little girl." The little girl's reply nearly made the professor faint.

Ghostly, giant icebergs, waterspouts, wild dances on lovely south sea atolls, man-eating sharks that followed the ship like wraiths, and the fact that young ladies should not bathe in gentlemen's drinking water—all these Joan Lowell learned about and wove into her fantastic saga of the sea. Her broadcast is expected to be a radio event.

DR. C. R. BROWN TALKS TONIGHT AT SUNDA Y CLUB

Dr. Charles R. Brown, considered a master of the art of preaching, for many years head of the Yale Divinity school, of which he is now dean emeritus, will speak before the Chicago Sunday Evening club in Orchestra hall tonight. He will speak on the subject, "What Does It Mean to Be a Christian?" at the main service beginning at 8 o'clock. The program will be broadcast by station WMAQ.

Dr. John Timothy Stone, prominent Chicago divine, will give the informal Bible talk at 7 o'clock on the subject, "The Newness of Life."

The music program in the order in which it will be given includes a solo by Mabel Sharp Herdien at 7 o'clock, the organ recital at 7:40 by Stanley Martin, and the program by the choir of 125 beginning at 8 o'clock. Samuel Thompson will be guest artist.

Harry A. Wheeler, vice president of the club, will preside, and Silas H. Strawn will take part.

GEORGE OLSEN'S MUSICIANS STAR IN FAMILY PARTY

George Olsen, known first and foremost to Broadwayites for his merry-making in "Kid Boots," "Good News," "Whoopee," and other titillating extravagansas will be the headliner tomorrow night in the family party program broadcast by W-G-N, THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE station on the Drake hotel.

Olsen started his career as an orchestral improvisor and director in Detroit. Eddie Cantor heard him and wired Ziegfeld that he had discovered a "find." Ziegfeld took Cantor at his word, and Olsen was signed to appear with the comedian in "Kid Boots." He was such a hit that while still appearing in "Kid Boots" Ziegfeld arranged for him to do double duty by also doing a turn in "The Follies."

PARKER JUNIOR BUILDING TO BE STARTED IN MAY

Room for 2,000 Will Be Provided.

Construction of the new $2,300,000 Parker Junior High school, 68th street and Stewart avenue, which has been placed third on the board of education's building program for 1929, is expected to start next month, according to an announcement made last week by Theophilus Schmid, chairman of the board building committee.

The announcement was made in a letter to Ald James G. Coyle [17th]. According to the announcement, plans and specifications for the new building will be completed within the next two weeks and the board expects to ask immediately for bids on the work. Board engineers were at the school grounds last week making tests of the soil to determine the nature of the foundation required.

Stone Finish for Building.

The specifications for the structure call for the most modern in style and equipment, and, according to Mr. Schmid, the new school will be one of the finest in the city. The building will be of stone finish and will conform in architecture to the other buildings on the Chicago Normal school campus. The structure will contain four stories and a basement and will have accommodations for more than 2,000 students.

The basement of the new school will house the mechanical equipment, while the first floor will contain an auditorium, printing shop, metal shop, electric shop, six classrooms, principal's office, lunchroom, and kitchen. On the second floor will be two cooking rooms, eleven classrooms, swimming pools, boys' locker rooms and showers, girls' locker rooms and showers. The third floor will be made up of special music rooms, typewriting rooms, two special commercial rooms, two mechanical drawing rooms, seven classrooms, library, boys' gymnasium, girls' gymnasium, office for physician and nurse, and office for dentist and nurse. The fourth floor will contain the band and orchestra rooms, four art rooms, four science rooms and five classrooms.

Holden High School Included.

In addition to Parker Junior High school, the board of education recently adopted a recommendation of the educational department to build schools to accommodate 5,448 south side children. The recommendations were submitted by Don C. Rogers, director of the board's building survey.

Included are a senior high school, an elementary school and three elementary school additions. These buildings were allotted to the south side out of a total of sixteen buildings, with seating accommodations for 22,360, in the entire city.

Although a majority of the buildings planned for the south side are elementary schools, Mr. Rogers in his report said that junior and senior high schools should be given preference throughout the city in the future.

"It seems desirable to give more emphasis henceforth to senior and junior high school facilities," the report said. "Senior high school membership has grown immensely in the past five years, while membership in elementary schools has actually been decreasing."

A table compiled by the building survey shows 260,601 elementary school pupils in attendance in 1924 and 253,766 last year, while there were 31,209 senior high school pupils five years ago and 46,147 last year. Junior high school pupils numbering 87,328 attended Chicago schools in 1924 and 111,680 last year.

Phillips High Most Urgent.

A new home for Wendell Phillips High school to be constructed at 49th street and Wabash avenue is listed by the board as needed more urgently than any school in the city this year. A building seating 3,300 pupils is planned.

Phillips High school was authorized in the 1923 building program, and the site is already owned by the board, the report said. The new building will provide relief for the congested condition in the old school and do away with fourteen portables now in use. It will also draw pupils from Englewood and Hyde Park High schools. It is planned also to organize a junior high school unit in the new building, according to the report.

Next on the south side list is McCosh Elementary school addition, 6543 Champlain avenue, which is seventh in urgency in the city. An addition providing 400 seats is planned. The old school is so overcrowded, the report said, that 40 kindergraten children are on the waiting list until room is found for them. Basement rooms are in use at present, and a system of extended sessions must be employed to give every one a sufficient amount of schooling.

An addition to Holden Elementary school is rated fourth in urgency on the south side and eleventh in the city. The building, at 3055 South Loomis street, will seat 576 pupils when completed. Holden school has an overload of twelve rooms, the report said, and the assembly hall is being used as a classroom.

Myra Bradwell P.-T. Picks Delegates to Convention

At a special board meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association of the Myra Bradwell School, 7710 Burnham avenue, held last Monday, Mrs. C. J. Rosenbaum, Mrs. J. H. Sawyer, and Mrs. Elmer Johnson were appointed delegates to the annual convention of the Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers, to be held in Mattoon, Ill., April 17, 18, 19, 20. Mrs. J. H. Boehm was chosen alternate. In the list of nominees of the association, printed last Sunday, Miss Mary Morgan was listed as a nominee for director. It should have read Miss Mary E. Gould.

Women of City to Celebrate Deeds of Sex

The University of Chicago chapel, the architecture of which has been said to portray the continuity of religion, including the parts played by the artisan, statesman, and merchant, will be the scene of a unique service next Wednesday night.

For the first time in the history of Chicago and, as far as is known, in the history of the world, a special service will be held in recognition of the leadership of women. The original idea of the service came from the Y. W. C. A., which organization is holding its central regional convention in the Hotel Sherman April 10 to 15. Other women's organizations became enthusiastic over the suggestion, however, and before plans were completed practically every woman's club in the city offered to take part, and delegated a member to assist on the committee of arrangements.

Many Leaders Take Part.

Miss Lilace Reid Barnes, daughter of Clifford W. Barnes of the Sunday Evening club, is chairman in charge of the event, and other women who have been active in planning for the chapel service are:

Miss Helen Bennett, managing director of the Women's World fair; Miss Leslie Blanchard, member of the board of social service and religion at the University of Chicago; Miss Alice Boynton of the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom; Mrs. Walter H. Buhlig, 372 Normal parkway, Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers; Mrs. Hermon B. Butler, president of the Fortnightly club; Mrs. Henry W. Cheney, state legislator for the fifth senatorial district.

Miss Elizabeth Cristman, 311 South Ashland avenue, of the National Women's Trade Union league; Mrs. Wilbur Fribley, president of the Chicago Housewives' league, 2043 East 72d place; Mrs. Harold Eldridge, member of the metropolitan board of the Y. W. C. A.; Mrs. Albert B. George, 3231 Vernon avenue.

Mrs. Gilkey to Take Part.

Mrs. Charles W. Gilkey, vice president of the national Y. W. C. A., 5802 Woodlawn avenue; Mrs. William K. Hodgkins, president of the Y. W. C. A.; Miss Helen Hood of the W. C. T. U.; Mrs. Benjamin F. Langworthy, president of the Woman's City club; Mrs. Samuel T. Lawton, 5605 Blackstone avenue, president Child Study and Parents Education; Mrs. J. W. Lear, women's department of the Chicago Church federation.

Mrs. Andrew MacLeish, president Chicago Woman's club; Mrs. Charles Clayton Morrison, 6144 Kimbark avenue, League of Women Voters; Mrs. Quincy Wright, League of Women Voters, 5744 Blackstone avenue; Miss Elizabeth Webster, assistant director social agencies, and Mrs. John P. McGeorty of the Illinois club.

These Women in Processional.

Among south side women who have received invitations to take part in the processional are Miss Edith Abbott, 1007 East 60th street; Miss Zonia Baber, 6037 Ellis avenue; Mrs. Ida Wells Barnett, 3624 South Park way, a leader of colored women; Dr. Katherine Blunt, 5525 University avenue, head of the home economics department at the University of Chicago; Mrs. Carrie Jacobs Bond, 7130 Princeton avenue, writer of songs; Mrs. Henry W. Cheney, 6041 Kenwood avenue, first president of the League of Women Voters and now in her first term in the state legislature; Mrs. Edith Foster Flint, educator at the University of Chicago; Mrs. John Gleissner, 1800 Prairie avenue; Miss Hazel Harrison, 3745 Prairie avenue, pianist; Mrs. William S. Walker, 6016 Ellis avenue.

Normal Girls Dance Out of Year Book

Students at the Chicago Normal college have a glorified impression of what to expect in the 1929 spring Emblem, the college year book, as the result of an assembly program presented Thursday morning under the direction of members of the Emblem staff.

An enlarged reproduction of the book itself provided the setting of the stage from which participants stepped forth. Miss Laurinda Cleary and Miss Ruth Mumford acted as pages, turning back the covers of the Emblem.

The art section was rapidly reproduced by a chalk talk given by Allan Bangert, art editor of the Emblem. Miss Annette Singer entertained with a reading entitled "Tony Pleads Petit Larceny" in representing the literary department, and Miss Ella Bulger announced the group of folk dances given by students to illustrate countries visited by members of the faculty on a recent European trip.

Taking Part in Dances.

Those who took part in the Swedish dance were: Frank Walker, Miss Patricia McJoynt, Paul Erickson, Miss Eleanor Goldberg, Eugene Fricker, Miss Helen Smith, Herbert Johnson, Miss Alicia Wolson, Harry Keer, Miss Alice Sanders, Harold Taylor, and Miss Alice Rentz.

A Moorish dance was given by Miss Evelyn Zwiefka, Miss Catherine Magee, Miss Jennie Tokarsky, Miss Eva Eastlund, Miss Florence Filippi, Miss Audrey Abrahamson, Miss Josephine Kubik, Miss Ruth Berg, Miss Teresa Cozzi, Miss Eleanor Schenck, Miss Mary Stone, and Miss Ruth Wysocki.

Those who gave an Italian folk dance included Miss Kathleen Kenny, Mis Ethel Petrina, Miss Virginia Shaw, Miss Marie Fierce, Miss Helen Anda, David Earl, William Boyd, Gustave Carlson, John Roper, Leslie La Force, and Tobey Silbert.

A Russian dance was given by Miss Anne Simmons, Miss Caroline Patt, Herman Goodheart and William Fitzsimmons; a Spanish duet dance was given by Miss Betty Krawitz and Michael Ehrlich, and the girls of section 216 and the boys of the manual training section 2 song a Spanish song, "Gaily the Troubador."

Englewood Kiwanis Pay Visit to Crippled Children

Members of the Englewood Kiwanis club made their annual visit to the Christopher School for Crippled Children, 51st street and Artesian avenue, Tuesday instead of holding their regular weekly meeting. The children were entertained for more than an hour by the members of the organization, led by Dr. M. Phillip Cannon, chairman of the program committee. The program for the day was in charge of the underprivileged child committee of the club, of which Dr. James Graybeal is chairman.

Miss Emily Quinn, our charming barber shop cashier at the Hotel Sherman, is receiving the congratulations of her friends on the fine pickup of her high spirited new car, which cleared a three foot hedge in a standing broad jump, making a perfect four point landing in a cemetery. Miss Quinn is confident it would have broken the world's broad jump record for six cylinder cars had it not been for a tombstone carelessly left in the way. She plans to enter it in the 1932 Olympic games.

Miss Irene M. Peterson of 6450 Kenwood avenue, the little schoolma'am now on sabbatical leave and sojourning in the Pearl of the Pacific, writes home that she enjoyed the privilege of hearing the governor of Hawaii read his full annual message to the combined senate and house of representatives at the opening session of the legislature. The reader will recall it is from Hawaii we get our non-explosive pineapples.

TOO seldom in these parlous times does the press recognize the noble deeds of the city's bluecoats—those guardians of the public weal which the citizen pays to defend him and his from the auto bandit, the burglar, the moron and other criminal elements. We have in mind Officers Smith and Ryan of the Kensington station, who alone and singlehanded the other night, and without even a search warrant handy, got their quarry at 10440 Erickson avenue. A two apartment dwelling, their objective was the first floor. This had a front and a rear door, a basement entrance and likewise a water pipe up the side of the house. How to get in was the problem, but Officer Smith's quick thinking solved it. He climbed the water pipe. Prying open a window, he dashed into the apartment, which was vacant, and captured the quarry—a small still, which had been dismantled—without firing a shot.

MRS. GOLDIE W. BARNES of 228 East 149th street, Harvey, reports that the horn which she plays in the Buda plant band, where she is employed, was stolen during her absence from the house Monday morning. The Harvey police are working on the case, their theory being that somebody—presumably a lover of music—entered the house and took the horn. This seems plausible. It develops that Mrs. Barnes did not lock the doors when she departed. No one was seen to enter or leave, despite the fact that some of the neighbors generally have an eye on the block. However, there is one clue. Some boys were seen around the city park at 5:30 with a horn. The police are developing this lone clue, and we trust we shall have more definite news in our next issue.

O. U. SISSON, the pioneer druggist of Hyde Park, 5024 Cottage Grove avenues, says he's learned something every day of the thirty years he has been in business, and is still learning, which is probably the reason Oscar continues to be among those prominently present in these progressive days of chain drug stores and such. He says about the only thing that hasn't changed in Hyde Park since he arrived there in a horse and buggy is his address and telephone number. It used to be Oakland 1, but since ciphers became stylish the telephone company has handed him three, making it 0001.

BLUE ISLAND is going to make it a real Fourth and the Lions club, of which A. W. Schreiber is president, is sponsoring a slogan contest with a first prize of $10. The thought is to embody in a telling phrase the magnitude of the celebration, and the sponsors are furnishing prospective contestants with samples just so they can get their hands in. We quote:

The contest is open to all irrespective of race, creed, or color, whether Democrats or Republicans. Let's go, folks.

Clans Gather Friday Night in Englewood

"Should auld acquaintance be forgot?"

The Women's society of Englewood Presbyterian church, 64th street and Yale avenue, doesn't think so and on Friday night, the society is sponsoring the twenty-fifth annual Scotch soirée to be held in the church.

DR. JAMES E. CONGDON.

If the event is as popular as similar affairs of the past there will be a "gathering of the clans" from all over Chicago—a get-together of folk of Scotch nativity and ancestry, many of whom never have an opportunity to visit with each other throughout the year except on this occasion.

Program All Scotch.

Friday night's program will open with "The Campbells Are Coming," played on the bagpipe by Piper Sandy Mathison, and from then on until all present join hands and finish singing "Auld Lang Syne" the evening will have a distinctly Scotch flavor.

The feature of the evening will be impersonations of Harry Lauder by Sam Galbraith of Roseland. Mr. Galbraith will appear in kilts and respond to encores of "I Love a Lassie" and "Roamin' In the Gloamin!" In order that none of Mr. Galbraith's part of the program may be missed, a section of seats down near the platform has been reserved for the children.

Such beloved ballads as "Annie Laurie" and "Flow Gently Sweet Afton" will be sung by Mary MacKenzie, Mrs. Thomas Smith, Charles Stanley, and Miss Phylis Weir. Miss Jessie Clark Reike will give a group of character readings.

Dr. Robinson to Preside.

Dr. James E. Congdon, pastor of the church, will give the address of welcome, and Dr. Willard H. Robinson, pastor emeritus, will act as master of ceremonies, a rôle which he has taken since the first soirée was held a quarter of a century ago.

Officers of the Women's society, sponsoring the soirée, are: Mrs. Melvin C. Knapp, president; George Hawk, vice president; Mrs. William Watson, secretary, and Mrs. Arthur Clason, treasurer. Mrs. I. D. Wadie is chairman of the arrangements committee.

MT. GREENWOOD MASSMEETING TO ASK SCHOOL

The first step in an attempt to convince the board of education that a new school is needed in the Mount Greenwood community will be taken at a massmeeting Tuesday evening at the Mount Greenwood Trust and Savings bank, 3052 West 111th street, which will be sponsored by the Ridge Civic council.

According to R. R. McMurray, secretary of the organization, the Mount Greenwood Improvement association in a letter last week asked the Ridge civic council for its cooperation in the effort to obtain the new school. The officers of the council immediately called the meeting for next Tuesday for this purpose.

Mr. McMurray pointed out that one of the schools in the Mount Greenwood community is a frame structure, which was built in 1880, and one other school has been condemned by the city because of the possibility of a collapse of the second floor.

A committee will be appointed at Tuesday's meeting for the purpose of composing a petition, which will be circulated among the residents of the community.

South Side Swedish Club Dances and Plays Cards

More than 300 members and their guests attended a card party and dance last evening given by the Ladies' auxiliary of the South Side Swedish club in the ballroom of the club, 7330 Ridgeland avenue. Mrs. Louis Olson of Mount Greenwood, president, and Mrs. Harry Londelius, 41102 Irving avenue, were in charge of arrangements for the affair.

NAME LEADERS FOR SOUTHWEST SIDE CAR FIGHT

Frame Demands at Meeting Today.

A committee to organize the fight for added transportation facilities for the southwest side, selected by the Southwest Federation of Improvement clubs last Monday night, will meet this afternoon to draw up a resolution presenting the needs and demands of the district.

It was decided by the federation Monday night to join forces with the Greater South Side Chamber of Commerce in pushing the transportation demands, and the committee will meet with the transportation committee of the chamber Tuesday to decide on a plan of action.

In giving the committee power to draw up the resolution setting forth the desired improvements, there was no dissension among members of the federation, according to M. A. Seymour, secretary, and a unanimous agreement has been reached concerning what the district needs.

The committee includes C. C. Cross, Edward Qualkinbush, Mr. Seymour, and R. G. Crane.

Will Make Plea to Council.

They will direct their plea for better transportation to the city council, the citizens' advisory committee on transportation, and possibly the Illinois commerce commission, it has been tentatively decided.

At present, according to officials of the federation, the 63d street car line is the only one of real service in the entire southwest district. The only other line going to the center of the city, Archer avenue, ends at Cicero avenue, at which point a suburban line begins, thus forcing residents to pay two fares in getting to the loop.

The federation intends to demand that users of the Archer avenue line west of Cicero avenue pay only one fare.

The resolution will include a plea for an "L" extension to serve the district. Such an extension of the Douglas park line south from 18th and Paulina streets to Archer avenue, west on this street to Kostner avenue, south on Kostner to 65th street, and west on 65th to Argo is deemed desirable.

Seek Two Surface Lines.

The federation wants an extension of the Crawford avenue line south from the river as soon as the bridge is completed; the paving and installing of a feeder bus line on 59th street from Kedzie avenue to the west city limits, and the cutting through of 71st street to Crawford avenue, where a proposed car line would extend south to 79th street and thence west to the city limits.

In recommending that an "L" line be extended into the southwest side federation officials have expressed the belief that such a line would pay far better than the Westchester and Niles Center lines recently opened by the Rapid Transit company because thousands of workers must be carried daily to the rapidly growing factory district in West Chicago Lawn and Clearing.

WOMAN'S CLUB OF ENGLEWOOD READY TO VOTE

The Englewood Woman's club will meet for the annual reports and election of officers tomorrow afternoon in Englewood Masonic temple.

Of the officers to be elected this year, the following have been nominated: Mrs. Wilbur E. Blackford to succeed Mrs. Willis E. Tower as president; Mrs. Joseph Dunn, third vice president; and Mrs. Nettie Hall Witmer, corresponding secretary. The term of officers and directors is two years, and half of each are chosen annually, so that the executive council is never composed entirely of new members.

Six women have been nominated for three vacancies in the board of directors. They are: Mrs. Walter L. Stebbings, Mrs. Frank R. Birdsey, Mrs. C. L. Frank, Mrs. Charles A. Bowman, Mrs. W. S. Wright, and Mrs. H. Eidmann.

The following have been nominated to head the various departments: Mrs. Rilla Meeker Hess, art; Mrs. Martha Wigger, education; Mrs. Caroline Shurman, literature; Mrs. Stella Freeman Jeffrey, music; Mrs. Minnie N. Merriman, bulletins; Mrs. Minnie C. Leitch, auditing; Mrs. Meta Snowdon, lunchroom; and Mrs. Florence L. Tufts, hospitality.

The building committee, which has been investigating sites for a possible new club house, will report. This committee, headed by Mrs. L. K. Scotford, includes: Mrs. H. Edimann, Mrs. E. S. Porter, Mrs. Caleb Shurman, Mrs. Wilbur Blackford, Mrs. Charles Muter and Mrs. Tower.

BRYN MAWR CLUB TO HOLD ANNUAL SPRING LUNCHEON

The Bryn Mawr Woman's club will have its annual spring luncheon tomorrow in the Tower ballroom of the Stevens hotel. This will be the last meeting of the season. Officers elected last week will be installed at the October meeting. The newly elected officers are: Mrs. R. R. Lunsden, president; Mrs. Loren Hebbard, first vice president; Mrs. Wade Reece, second vice president; Mrs. W. L. Mardi, recording secretary; Mrs. H. C. Osman, corresponding secretary; Mrs. B. B. Phelps, treasurer; Mrs. A. J. Rich, chairman of literature; Mrs. Quinton Johnston Jr., chairman of home and education; Mrs. Leon Clark, chairman of philanthropy; Mrs. Lowell Holt, chairman of music; Mrs. L. E. Shears, chairman of civics.

PROPOSES ONE BOARD RULE ALL CHICAGO PARKS

Leader of Club Women Raps 'Extravagance.'

Characterizing the present park system as absurd, extravagant, and unbusinesslike, Mrs. Edward S. Bailey, 2212 East 70th street, has devised a new plan for operating parks in the city which she will present to the Chicago and Cook County Federation of Women's organizations in the fall with the hope that they will assist her in carrying it into operation. Mrs. Bailey is a former president of the federation of clubs.

Women will be given a voice in the management of Chicago's parks and playgrounds and one central board will direct park activities all over the city if Mrs. Bailey has her way.

With other south side residents Mrs. Bailey has become aroused over the fact that they must bear the burden of taxation to pay for the lake front improvements.

Says Inequality Causes Objection.

"It isn't taxation that people object to," she added. "It is the lack of equalization in taxes which causes objections. It is unfair that citizens of south side should pay the entire cost of lake front improvements, when as far as 31st street the lake front is used by the loop and the city at large and the entire city should stand the cost of these improvements. With one central park commission such an arrangement in this case and similar instances would be made."

And referring to the advisability of having woman representatives on the park board, Mrs. Bailey pointed out that due to their experience in economy and home management, women are particularly fitted for the job of "municipal housekeeping." Her plan includes at least four women on the board, one for each district of the city.

The outline of her plan is, in brief, to abolish all small park and playground commissions in the city, establishing instead one central park board to elect commissioners to this board, rather than having them appointed, and to have women represented on this board.

Forty-five Different Park Boards.

"I was amazed to learn when I first looked into the subject, that there were forty-five different park boards planning and controlling the parks in Chicago and Cook county," Mrs. Bailey said. "There must be tremendous duplication when each board has its own plant and equipment, stenographers, attorneys, police, and power to levy taxes."

Regarding the election of commissioners for the proposed central board, Mrs. Bailey indicated that parks and playgrounds are so essential to the people as a whole that they should have some voice in the selection of persons who have control over them. She said a man's qualifications and not his party affiliations should determine whether he be made a member.

Favors Election by Districts.

"Each section of the city should elect its own representatives for the board," she said. "The people of the south side know a man's qualifications as a south park commissioner better than a judge from Oak Park, and those living on the north side are better acquainted with the qualifications of the Lincoln park commissioners than is the governor.

"The ideal commission is a civic minded group of persons with a chairman who would be responsible for the entire park system," she said.

Marquette Women's Club Hears State Health Expert

Under the auspices of the child welfare committee, of which Mrs. C. H. Tate, 5644 South Artesian avenue, is chairman, the members of the Marquette Women's club heard a lecture by Dr. Elizabeth B. Ball of the department of public health of Illinois at a meeting of the organization Wednesday afternoon.

SPRING DAYS BRING LAMBS AND GOLF CLUBS

"A Spring Lamb for Easter," made by J. L. Hancock, 1121 East 51st street, won the first prize of $5 this week in The Tribune's spring picture contest for amateur photographers of the south side. The picture shows Helen and Herbert Finger. The second prize of $3 was awarded to Mrs. R. E. Tinsley, 7911 Crandon avenue, for "Fore," showing Natalie Tinsley. For a picture of Marion Ruth Eggli taking a springtime stroll the third prize of $2 was awarded to Mrs. William Eggli, 5303 South Damen avenue.

93D ST. OPENING TO BE DEMANDED BY SOUTH SIDE

Railroad Is Blamed for Delay.

A conference to speed the opening of 93d street between Stony Island and Cottage Grove avenues through the yards and shops of the Nickel Plate railroad will be held shortly between Commissioner of Public Works Richard W. Wolfe and officials of the railroad, according to Ald. William A. Rowan [10th], who has been working for this improvement for the last two years.

The railroad agreed in 1925 to have the street opened by 1927, Ald. Rowan says, but thus far nothing has been done. Officials have sought to justify the delay on the ground that the yards could not be moved to the south because the Calumet harbor project has not been completed, but local groups intend to stand firm in their contention that Calumet harbor has nothing to do with the agreement of 1925, the alderman says.

United Fight Planned.

In a previous conference with the department of public works six months ago nothing definite was agreed upon, and local civic groups are prepared to join forces and stage an organized fight, according to the alderman.

Charles A. Rubey of the South Chicago chamber of commerce, Walter Roy of the South End chamber of commerce, and H. H. Haylett of the Greater South Side chamber of commerce, are leading their groups in the effort to have the street opened.

Ninety-third street, if opened, would literally open up the entire far south side, Ald. Rowan points out, since at present there is no usable street open between Stony Island and Cottage Grove avenues in the entire section.

Other Streets Impassable.

Others, such as 95th street on which improvements are being made, are still impassable and probably will be in process of repair for the next two years. One Hundred and Third street, which is also closed across town by the railroad yards, will most likely remain so until Calumet harbor is completed, according to Ald. Rowan, thus leaving 93d street as the only possibility for an east and west street.

3. The existing appropriations will carry the navy half way around the world and if congress chooses to leave it on the other side, all right?—Edward Batten, 4461 Keokuk avenue, Chicago.

Answers

Following are the answers to quotations previously published:

Quotation.—When March comes in like a lamb it goes out like a lion.

Answer.—This proverb, in reverse order is found in "The Compleat Collection of English Proverbs" by the English naturalist, John Ray or Wray, who was born in 1628 and died in 1705. The first edition was published in 1670. Later editions appeared in 1742, 1767, and 1813. The proverb runs as follows:

March hack ham, comes in like a lion,
Goes out like a lamb.
March comes in like a lion,
Goes out like a lamb.

—Marguerite M. Nelson, 5129 Cullom avenue, Chicago.

NOTE—Maybe some one can tell the rest of us what "hack ham" means, if anything.

Quotation.—Educate 'em with a krag.

Answer.—This quotation, or rather, "Civilize 'em with a Krag," is from a song which was popular among the United States troops engaged in putting down the Philippine insurrection just after the Spanish-American war. The song, a parody on "Tramp, Tramp, Tramp, the Boys are Marching," started with:

Damn, damn, damn the 'Filipinos—

And concluded:

Then beneath the starry flag,
Civilize 'em with a Krag,
And return us to our own beloved homes.

The "Krag" was the Krag-Jorgensen rifle, in general use in the United States army at that time.—Frank A. Post, 332 South Kenilworth avenue, Oak Park, Ill.

Quotation.—Good Americans, when they die, go to Paris.

Answer.—In the sixth chapter of "The Autocrat of the Breakfast Table," by Oliver Wendell Holmes, is this observation: "There is that glorious epicurean paradox uttered by my friend the historian [John Lothrop Motley], in one of his flashing moments, 'Give us the luxuries of life, and we will dispense with its necessaries.' To this must certainly be added that other saying of one of the wittiest of men, 'Good Americans, when they die, go to Paris.'"

The "one of the wittiest of men" to whom Dr. Holmes referred was Thomas Gold Appleton, born in Massachusetts in 1812.

Emerson says, "Next to the originator of a good sentence is the first quoter of it." Dr. Holmes should certainly be given credit for the life of this quip of Mr. Appleton's. Oliver Wendell Holmes—physician, poet, essayist, novelist—was born in Cambridge, Mass., on Aug. 29, 1809. He was the first real American humorist. He died in 1894.—Mabel Ruth Jackson, 7003 Normal boulevard, Chicago.

NORMAL COLLEGE, HIRSCH HIGH TO HEAR SYMPHONY

Little Orchestra Gives 50 Concerts in Season.

South side schools are having an important place in the season's concluding engagements of the Little Symphony orchestra of Chicago. The third pair of concerts given at Emil G. Hirsch Junior High school this season will be presented some time this month. A double concert will be given Tuesday afternoon in Chicago Normal college auditorium; one will be given for the college and Parker High school students and a later one for Parker Junior High and elementary school pupils.

At the series of concerts being given at Hirsch school a matinée concert is given for school children and an adult program is played by the orchestra at night.

One Special Number for Each.

Although the program in general is the same when given at the various schools, at least one individual number appropriate to the school in which the concert is played is inserted.

Students of the school are frequently asked to play solo parts, accompanied by the orchestra. Edwin Weeks, 12 years old, violinist at Hirsch Junior High school, played a solo at the most recent concert given at Hirsch, and has been invited to do so again this week. Johanna Siragusa, 15 years old, will play a piano solo in the concert to be given at Normal college.

Fifty Concerts This Season.

The Little Symphony orchestra was organized in 1921 by George Dasch and Karl Schulte and twenty-three of their artist-associates with the main purpose in mind of bringing symphonic music to smaller communities. More than fifty concerts will have been presented in Chicago's metropolitan area by the close of this winter's season, most of which have been given in school auditoriums. School authorities and community leaders have sponsored the concerts in each instance.

Spring? Say It with Pictures and Win Prizes

In the spring a photographer's fancy turns to pictures of the first robin, early gardens, Mary and Jane skipping rope and evidences of spring fever.

The Metropolitan section of The Tribune now offers prizes weekly for spring pictures. The Tribune will pay $5 for the best photograph on this general subject taken by an amateur. It will pay $3 for the second best and $2 for the third best.

Address pictures to Photo contest, Metropolitan section of The Tribune. The name and address of the photographer should be written plainly on the back of the print as well as the names of all persons in the picture.

The contest is open only to amateurs and the editors will be final judge. Theme, treatment, and clearness of the print all will be taken into consideration. No pictures will be returned.

CASTS REHEARSE FOR OPERETTA IN MORGAN PARK

2 High School Students Chosen for Each Role.

Two complete casts for the Morgan Park High school spring operetta were named last week by Miss Bernice Bell, supervisor of music, and already rehearsals are in full swing. The operetta which will be given is "Jerry of Jericho Road," by Estelle Merryman Clark and Palmer John Clark.

Performances will be given Thursday and Friday, May 23 and 24, in the high school auditorium. Five judges, who will be named by May 1, will be present both evenings to select the best singers and actors, and Saturday night, May 25, the operetta will be given by the all-star cast selected by the judges. The judges will be selected for their expert knowledge of dramatics, dancing, and singing.

Chorus and Ballet Included.

The operetta has a Mexican-cowboy-Indian effect predominating, and there will be a chorus of 85, composed of members of the glee clubs, a ballet of 40 pupils from the dancing department, and ballet solo dances, in addition to those making up the operetta cast. All but the solo dancers have been chosen.

The ballet will be given between the two acts of the operetta, and will be opened by an oriental sketch in which the solo dance will be given to "Pagoda Love."

There will be a feature ballet called "The Crystal Dance," given to Rachmaninoff's Serenade, a "Dagger Dance" from Victor Herbert's opera, "Natoma," and a "Dance of the Ghosts," given to MacDowell's "Witches' Dance."

Miss Bell is coaching the solo leads and the choruses, Miss Rosalie Kurz and George Lorenz are training the dancers, Guy Hurtle has charge of the orchestra which will accompany the operetta, and the costumes are being designed by Mrs. Claribel Sheehy and Miss Edna Hotchkiss, while Miss Helen Greenfield is directing the actual making of the costumes.

The Illinois league will hold its fourth and final legislative citizenship school in Springfield Tuesday and Wednesday of this week. At these schools the women are shown the whole process of law making. GRADE SCHOOL JOURNALISTS WIN U. S. HONOR

Potential editors and reporters in at least one of Chicago's residential districts are receiving their newspaper training early and the fact that it's pretty good training according to national standards was proved last week when editors of the Marquette Journal were informed that they tied for fourth place at the fifth annual contest and convention for school papers of the whole United States, held by the Columbia Scholastic Press association at Columbia university.

The Marquette Journal is published by students of Jacques Marquette Elementary school, 6550 South Richmond street, and is the only paper published by elementary school pupils in Chicago. Copies of the paper were entered in the group for elementary school papers at the contest. Out of more than 5,000 elementary school papers competing for honors the Marquette Journal placed fourth along with the Eaglet, published by the Elementary school of the Teachers' college, Santa Barbara, Cal.

Among the reporters are Margaret Coughlin, Lorraine Madsen, John Ruffolo and Harry Bessler.

This is the third year of publication of the Journal and also the third year in the history of the Marquette Elementary school. C. P. Drueck Jr. is principal of the school and Mrs. Mildred C. Horner is editorial adviser for the school paper.

POST PREPARES FOR MEMORIAL AND POPPY DAYS

Called Outstanding Events of Near Future.

Members of North Shore post, No. 21, of the American Legion, are being reminded this week by Commander Harlow J. Hellstrom that "it is an opportune moment to direct attention and effort to the two outstanding days of the very near future that are of vital importance to the Legion—Poppy day and Memorial day." Bert Wimmerstad is completing plans for Memorial day and the post's services at the Irving Park Boulevard cemetery.

North Shore post is planning to be on hand to make whoopee at the seventh district's boxing bout and show on April 8 at the Hippodrome, Lawrence avenue and Clark street. The Broadway armory, Broadway and Thorndale, will be the scene of the post's annual stag on May 9.

Theodore Roosevelt post, No. 627, will hold an informal dancing party at the Aragon ballroom on Wednesday night, April 17. Past Commander John B. Morgan is chairman of the arrangements committee.

Lisle Hart, chairman of the Seventh district entertainment committee, announces that Davey Miller will referee and Al Smith announce at the boxing show at the Hippodrome Monday night.

Tomorrow night, when Medill-Tribune post, No. 348, meets, past chefs de gare and the present chef de gare of voiture 220 of the Forty and Eight will be present as guests. The invited personnel includes Charles Roth, James C. Russell, R. P. O'Reilly, James E. White, Frank W. Kee, and Frank B. Flannery.

Jane A. Delano post, No. 128, the nurses' post, will hold its April meeting tomorrow at 8 p. m. in the Chicago Nurses' club, 116 South Michigan boulevard. Entertainment and refreshments will follow the business meeting. All Legionnaires, prospective Legionnaires, and friends of the Legion are invited.

Members of company D, 124th machine gun battalion, are planning a dinner reunion to be held at the Metropole hotel, 23d street and Michigan avenue, on the evening of April 13. R. N. Keegan—Radcliffe 6082—has charge of reservations.

Dedication of a memorial tablet in honor of the men of the Chicago and North Western railway who made the supreme sacrifice in the world war took place in the main waiting room at the North Western passenger station yesterday noon, the event being outstanding in the history of North Western post, No. 430. President Fred W. Sargent accepted the tablet in behalf of the railroad. Music was furnished by the C. & N. W. band and choral club. Woodlawn post provided the color guard.

The Poppy day committee of Chipilly post, No. 310, under the leadership of Herman Weimer, is perfecting plans for a big return from the sale of poppies. Commander John V. Clinin announces that details for decorating the graves of comrades must be made at the April meeting in order to prepare the bulletin for Memorial day services.

Midlothian post, No. 691, will hold its annual May frolic and dance May 4 at Posen, where Liberty hall will be decorated for the occasion.

PARTNERSHIP IS WON BY YOUNG ATTORNEY IN SHORT HALF YEAR

It's a young man's world, and nothing succeeds like success, and all that. John E. Kelly Jr. of 4613 Woodlawn avenue, is convinced. Young Kelly, who has just turned the quarter century mark, passed the bar examination and became a practicing attorney some six months ago. This week he was called from his work long enough to be told that his efforts made it necessary to declare him a member of the firm of Kelly & Murphy, of which Master in Chancery James J. Kelly is senior member.

JOHN E. KELLY JR.

Now young Mr. Kelly can be seen most any morning standing outside the offices in the Title and Trust building, gazing wonderingly at the sign over the door, which to him probably reads, Kelly, Murphy & KELLY.

SOME CHANGES FOR OUTDOOR TWIN PUSHER

How to Add Elevator and Tail Service.

Outdoor events of the second model airplane tournament, sponsored by THE TRIBUNE, will be held May 19 at Washington park; indoor events, May 26, at the 132nd Infantry armory.

Forty-eight medals, two trophies, and two trips to the national championship meet and back will be awarded the winners.

All entries must be certified by an official of a playground or school.

BY MERRILL HAMBURG.

[Secretary Airplane Model League of America.]

Last week, in the columns of THE TRIBUNE, local sponsor of the Airplane Model League of America, you learned how to make an outdoor Twin Pusher, the king of outdoor ships. This week I'm going to tell you of some changes in the championship model that have interested a lot of experts.

These changes are suggested by Joseph Lucas, president of the Illinois Model Aero club—the oldest model club in America—and a builder of years of experience. Lucas says that they helped him to win the national outdoor trophy last year. His ship made a flight of four minutes twenty-four seconds at the first national A. M. L. A. contests.

As you'll see by the drawing of the ship, the differences consist in the addition of a built-up elevator and auxiliary rear surface. The championship model has only a single surface elevator. Consequently it is lighter. But Lucas believes that his additions give the model added lift to compensate for the additional weight.

How to Get Kit.

To make the new parts you'll need a sheet of Japanese tissue paper, 10½ x31 inches; a piece of 1-16 inch flat balsa, and some 1-32 inch flat balsa, both pieces 12 inches long. If you haven't these materials, send 15 cents to the supply department, A. M. L. A., American Boy building, Second and Lafayette boulevards, Detroit, Mich., asking for the elevator kit. It will come to you by return mail.

The wing section of both elevator and rear surface is the same as that of the main wing—you'll remember that the Clark-Y airfoil was the suggested section. Make five ribs of the same proportions — with the same curve, that is—for the rear surface, and five for the elevator; but reduce the size so that the rib length is no more than three inches.

Drawing Gives Details.

Now cut leading and trailing edge strips from your flat balsa. Make the elevator 12 inches long, with its dihedral angle such that the tips will be 1¾ inches above the center. Cut all strips first, make each half of the elevator separately and join them. The work you did last week on the main wing will tell you all the details of this job. It will help you with covering the elevator, too.

Figure the length of the strips for the rear surface by measuring the distance between the exact points on the two fuselage sticks where you will attach it. This is a perfectly straight wing section—no dihedral to it—so it will be easy to build and to cover. Note that it fits in between the sticks, and takes the place of the two rear bamboo cross-braces. The drawing shows details.

Last Minute Touches.

The elevator is held to the sticks by a big rubber band; but the rear surface is ambroided permanently in position. The elevator should not be set at any angle of incidence, for its airfoil section furnishes enough lift.

Now a few hints on last minute touches to that Twin Pusher. Don't forget that extreme lightness is of prime importance in all championship models. Make each individual part just as light, sand it down as thin, as requisite strength will permit. One overheavy part won't make much difference, but a lot of them will!

Take extreme care with each bit of work, too. You can lessen wind resistance, increase lift and add to performance by seeking neatness and exactness. Remember, also, that the successful contest performer is the one who has plenty of spare parts—props, motors, even fuselages and wings.

Good Winder Needed.

Be sure that your rubber is in good shape—not too old nor too often used. You'll need a good eggbeater winder, too. The league can furnish plans for a winder.

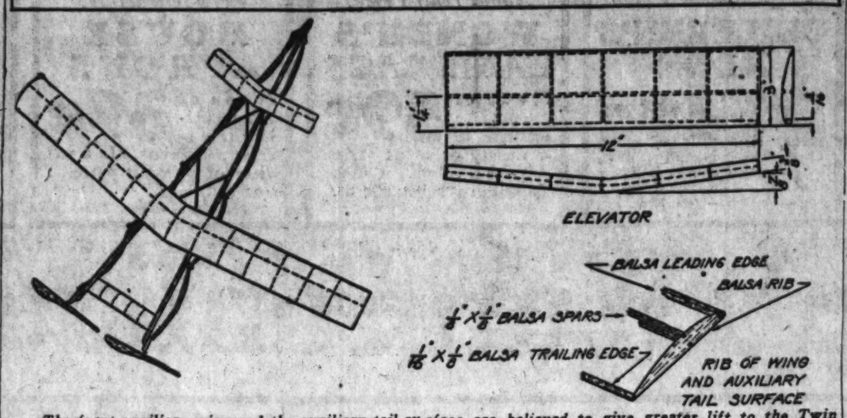
You'll find that you get best results when the two propellers turn up in the center and out toward the sides.

If you haven't plans for the plane, you can get them by sending a two cent stamp to the league with your request. They're included in the official league kit for the Outdoor Twin Pusher, obtainable for $3 at league headquarters.

Don't expect to build the Twin Pusher, or to add the Lucas parts to it, without spending a lot of time and patience on it. But, if you do the work carefully, look for a whale of a good flight with it. The official record is 10 minutes 14 3-5 seconds; unofficial records go above an hour!

And it's likely to be the ship that will win some boy—perhaps a Chicago model builder—that free trip to Europe. It's worth trying for!

VARIATIONS FOR OUTDOOR TWIN PUSHER



The front auxiliary wing and the auxiliary tail surface are believed to give greater lift to the Twin Pusher. They aren't hard to build. Read the directions while studying this diagram—then go ahead!

WED 50 YEARS

MR. AND MRS. HENRY DEKKER.

More than 100 friends and relatives attended the golden wedding celebration of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Dekker Tuesday evening at their home at 11114 Wallace street.

Mr. Dekker is one of the early settlers of the far south side. In 1882 he opened a general store at 107th street and Michigan avenue, and for a long time this was the only store in that territory. He was married at 10555 Wallace street, only a few blocks from his present residence.

The couple have five sons, three daughters, fifteen grandchildren and one great grandchild.

GOOD FOOD SHOW READY TO START TOMORROW NIGHT

The second annual Chicago Retailers' Food Show and Household Appliance exposition will be held in the First Regiment armory, Michigan avenue and 16th street, all of this week. This exhibit is sponsored and put on by the Chicago-Cook County Retail Grocers' and Butchers' association.

Its purpose is to promote a better knowledge of good foods. There will be a large number of attractive booths, music, entertainment, movies, lectures, and promises an entertaining and instructive afternoon or evening for those who attend.

Tomorrow night is grocers' night, when hundreds of Chicago's grocers are expected to attend. There will be two sessions a day on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, at 1:30 and 7:30 o'clock. Prizes, samples, and various kinds of recipe and menu booklets are ready to be distributed to all who attend.

Practically every grocery store and meat market in Chicago will give half price tickets to customers. Grocers all over the city have been extending invitations to their customers to attend.

The president of the association is H. F. Stickney, 5700 Kenwood avenue. M. D. Weaver is secretary and treasurer, while J. P. Langan is exhibit manager, with headquarters at 809 West Madison street, in the offices of the association.

Y. M. C. A. Chorus to Sing "Messiah" at Fenger High

The 111th street Y. M. C. A. chorus and orchestra will present the "Messiah" tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock in Fenger High school, 11220 Wallace street. Wallace B. Graham is directing the thirty-five piece orchestra as well as the chorus, which includes close to 150 men and women. CRERAR CHURCH COMPLETES ITS REORGANIZATION

Installation of Pastor to Be Held April 26.

Crerar Presbyterian church is approaching a complete organization with plans for a new church structure in the hands of architects and arrangements under way for the formal installation of the Rev. W. H. Reeves, present acting pastor of the church, Friday, April 26.

The old Crerar church disbanded a year ago and the process of reorganization began Dec. 2, although the Rev. Mr Reeves has been here working with members of the congregation under the Presbyterian board of church extension since last May.

At the latest meeting of the church board of trustees it was decided to start about May 1 a campaign for funds with which to build the new church. A committee from the board of church extension will manage the drive and the exact date of the drive will be decided by the committee. According to the Rev. Mr. Reeves, the sale of the old church property at 57th street and Prairie avenue has provided a nucleus for the church fund.

Construction Starts in Summer.

Plans for the new church have been completed by Rowe, Dillard, and Rowe, architects, and construction will start late in the summer or in the autumn, according to the success of the financial drive, the Rev. Mr. Reeves said.

The church will be built in two units, the second of which will be added within three or four years. The structure will be built entirely of brick in a combination of modern English Gothic and Romanesque architecture and there will be a cloistered court between the first and second units. Estimate of the final cost of construction is $175,000.

The first unit, construction of which will be started in a few months, will include a two story auditorium capable of seating 300 persons, a junior Sunday school department with an assembly hall and six class rooms, four adult class rooms, and a manse. The manse will contain a general church office and pastor's study on the first floor, living room, dining room and kitchen on the second floor, and bedrooms on the third floor. Thus the pastor's living quarters will occupy the front part of the first unit of the church.

100 Foot Tower for First Unit.

The first unit will also include a 100 foot tower, in which chimes later will be installed, and the auditorium in the first unit will be used for a gymnasium and social center following construction of the second unit. The latter will include the church auditorium, to be used purely as a sanctuary, and a small chapel at the rear of the court for prayer services, small weddings and funerals, and also as additional seating space in case the chapel proper becomes crowded. The organ will be arranged so that it can be used in connection with services in either chapel.

The lot acquired by the church in February at the southwest corner of 51st street and Calumet avenue will be the site of the church. The lot measures 161x125 and the church will fit it snugly, leaving room, however, for landscaping around the outside of the church as well as within the court. The church sanctuary will seat 600 persons.

The church now holds services at 5500 South Park avenue.

JOAN LOWELL TO TELL STORY ON RADIO TUESDAY

Will Talk of Her Life at Sea.

As soon as she was able to walk her sunburned toes gripped the slanting deck of a ship. From then on life was about as vivid and fascinating an experience as was ever lived by a woman—or man, for that matter. Probably never before in the history of literature has such rip-roarin' adventure ever been recorded by a girl.

Joan Lowell, descendant on one side of Boston blue stockings and on the other of bewhiskered Levantine sea rovers, became nationally famous overnight through the publication recently of her adventures under the title, "The Cradle of the Deep."

The broadcasting of Joan Lowell's story by herself over a chain of stations will be a unique experience in radio. A total of 30 stations, including W-G-N, the CHICAGO TRIBUNE station, will be hooked up for the national broadcast Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock Chicago time.

Was Raised as Boy.

Joan Lowell's father carried her aboard his schooner, a copra trader in the South Pacific, when she was only eleven months old. A she goat, purchased for a broken alarm clock from south sea natives, was her nurse. For seventeen years the only ground under her feet was about sixty fathoms of water.

Raised as a man oy men as hard as nails, it is small wonder that Joan's early ambition was to be able to swear for three minutes without once repeating herself, and eventually she achieved this distinction.

With the head of an angel and a fist like a hammer, this little thug in overalls (for she never knew what dresses were) paraded the deck of her floating home looking for trouble. She found it—and how. Her father caught her just in time one day when she was going ashore to have nude ladies tattooed on her chest—just like the other sailors.

The Hangman's Noose.

To Joan women were soft, fluffy things that "smelled good." In her floating world of men her own sex was as inscrutable as the inhabitants of another planet, and her first real experience with them pretty nearly caused a riot.

She found navigating on shore so full of shoals that she fled back to sea, and there a memoer of the crew casually showed her one night how to make a hangman's noose. A sure and ghastly sense of drama impelled him to knot it under his own left ear and dance on the wind.

On one of her rare visits ashore a pedantic and pompous professor of economics once told her: "You are a very interesting study, little girl." The little girl's reply nearly made the professor faint.

Ghostly, giant icebergs, waterspouts, wild dances on lovely south sea atolls, man-eating sharks that followed the ship like wraiths, and the fact that young ladies should not bathe in gentlemen's drinking water—all these Joan Lowell learned about and wove into her fantastic saga of the sea. Her broadcast is expected to be a radio event.

GEORGE OLSEN'S MUSICIANS STAR IN FAMILY PARTY

George Olsen, known first and foremost to Broadwayites for his merry-making in "Kid Boots," "Good News," "Whoopee," and other titillating extravaganzas will be the headliner tomorrow night in the family party program broadcast by W-G-N, THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE station on the Drake hotel.

Olsen started his career as an orchestral improvisor and director in Detroit. Eddie Cantor heard him and wired Ziegfeld that he had discovered a "find." Ziegfeld took Cantor at his word, and Olsen was signed to appear with the comedian in "Kid Boots." He was such a hit that while still appearing in "Kid Boots" Ziegfeld arranged for him to do double duty by also doing a turn in "The Follies."

U. S. IS STUDYING PLAN TO LICENSE RADIO STATIONS

Recommendations Ready in December.

Washington, D. C.—"One million dollars a channel" was the arbitrary figure fixed upon each radio wave length during the recent congressional deliberations on radio legislation. That this standard has no real economic basis was recognized by the members of congress, but they were sufficiently interested to order an inquiry into the possibility of levying license fees upon those granted the right to use the precious channels of the ether.

Such an investigation is now being conducted by the federal radio commission with a view to complying with the resolution introduced by Senator Dill of Washington, calling for the recommendation of a schedule of fees to be imposed upon the several classes of stations. It is Senator Dill's idea that the charges should be greater according to the power and the use made by those to whom licenses are granted.

At least one member of the commission, H. A. Lafount, representing the western zone, is already on record as being vigorously opposed to any plan of making broadcasting stations bear the burden of this license fee system. Mr. Lafount is, in fact, only lukewarm toward the whole license fee project.

Want Public Hearings.

The National Association of Broadcasters is not opposed to the establishment of a system of federal license fees, provided that such license fees are required from all radio stations licensed to transmit radio communications, and provided that the term of any license for which a fee is paid is not less than one year. It recommends, however, that the congress shall by law establish the basis on which such fee is to be charged, and shall do so only after public hearings have been held for the purpose of determining such basis in an equitable manner.

While various foreign countries are known to levy fees where they do not own all radio facilities outright or exact flat sums or percentages of profit from concessionaires, the only data on license fees that the commission has at hand is that obtained from Canada. Under the radiotelegraph act of Canada, the department of marine at Ottawa charges its licensees the following per annum sums:

Limited commercial stations, $50; public commercial, $50; private commercial broadcasting, $50; private commercial, $10; experimental, $5; amateur broadcasting, $10; amateur experimental, $2.50; technical or training schools, $5, and ships, $10.

Suggest Leasing Channels.

It is regarded altogether unlikely that the United States fees will be as small in the recommendations that will be ready for congress by next December.

That coastal and commercial station engaged in point to point and ship code service should pay the government such small amounts for the right to use the ether, would provoke considerable antagonism when the subject is considered by congress. When the remark was made that each channel was worth $1,000,000, the reference was made to the transoceanic and transcontinental high frequencies, or short waves. At the present time, the government gets nothing directly in return for the licenses it grants to use those channels.

Neither does the government profit directly from broadcasting assignments to the 600 stations in the United States. Nothing is charged for the 17,000 or more amateur licenses either, although each amateur must pass a technical test before a federal radio supervisor to qualify for a license.

In favor of the imposition of nominal license fees, it will be argued that this is the only way the government can defray the constantly mounting expenses of radio administration. In favor of high license fees, especially for code communications services, it will be proposed that this is one way to eliminate "hay-wire" stations which barely creep in under the "public interest, convenience or necessity" standard set by the radio act. Some legislators have already suggested that it might be well to "lease" the channels to the highest bidder and the companies best qualified to maintain either wirless communications or broadcasting services, and perhaps later the regular television services.

Tax on Listeners.

Against the fees proposal, the theory is advanced that the extension of radio for domestic and international telegraph communications has put the United States in a preeminent strategic position for war or peacetime emergencies. Even more important in day by day life, it is pointed out that the radio communication channels are carrying nationwide and worldwide the messages of trade that mean so much to the country's economic prosperity.

The commission will probably fix the rates for short and long wave channels at relatively high levels, classifying them according to the importance of the use to which the channels are put. Broadcasting rates will probably be rather low with a graduated scale for stations given over to advertising wholly, advertising only partially, institutional services like those offered by churches and colleges, etc.

It is not probable that the commission will recommend a fee upon listeners such as Canada imposes. In the dominion, all radio receiving sets must be licensed. The cost is $1 a year.

GOODRICH LAUDS FIRE STATION AT 73D-KINGSTON

The remodeled double fire station recently opened at 73d street and Kingston avenue is as good as any in the country, according to Fire Commissioner A. W. Goodrich.

An addition was built in order to house a hook and ladder company to work with the engine company previously working there. The cost, including equipment, was $50,000, the commissioner said.

Added protection is afforded by the new addition, since the nearest hook and ladder company serving the southeast side is at 1034 East 73d street.

IT'S $50 A PLATE FOR THIS LUNCHEON

Members of the south side chapters of the Hadassah are working hard to sell 1,000 plates to the $50 honor luncheon which will be held Wednesday at the Palmer house to raise $50,000 for charitable organizations the Hadassah group supports. Inside the Loud Speaker

BY QUIN RYAN.

Radio had its chance again the other evening to transmit the very feeling of fear over its electrical waves, in the "panic" during the boxing bout at the Coliseum. It so happened that when the hysterical rush of spectators moved out of the darkness toward the boxing ring we were sitting at the ringside and a sudden violent impact at our back knocked the microphone out of our hands and under the ring.

We had jumped up onto the ring, along with everybody who wasn't crushed against the platform, in order to see what was happening, while 9,000 men and women were fleeing headlong in one direction to avoid an unknown danger. And that little instrument which hears all with unfailing ears lay unmolested underneath the ring, transmitting to listeners hundreds of miles away the panicky sounds and yells and the very electric tenseness which hung over the crowd while they were waiting for the gunshots or lions' roars, or shouts of "fire!" which they anticipated out of the darkness.

On the air it was powerfully dramatic, because it was genuine. One listener, Raymond F. Smith, of Centralia, Ill., writes: "Here is how it was through my loud speaker. I had taken a cushion and was lying on the floor listening to one of the best fights I have heard for a long time, when I heard you shout, 'Hey, what's that?' Then an awful noise, which I found out later was the mike hitting the floor, then no more talking for some time except a few excited yells from men and commands mingled with a weird, low rumble which I was unable to explain, then cracking and pounding which I suppose was the knocking over of the chairs and the breaking of your shelf, as you later said. I rose up from my pillow in wonder as to the cause.

"I didn't have long to wait, when I heard your familiar voice say, 'Hey, is the mike still connected?' You then told us you were talking from the ring and you told us what was taking place, talking all the time, long before the trouble was quieted down. Maybe you think I didn't have some strange feelings come over me as you described something that wasn't on the program at all. The thought struck me that maybe some people were being trampled upon and injured and maybe some killed right then, and here we were listening to it over the radio, in the comfort of our homes, about 300 miles away. I see by this morning's paper that several were injured and two or three quite severely. Every time I think of it, I still have a strange feeling. That experience was the greatest thrill I ever got from a radio."

It reminds us of one evening over a year ago, when a fire broke out in the lakeside terrace of the hotel where we were picking up a dance orchestra. It was on the stroke of midnight and we announced a group of tunes that the orchestra would play for the midsummer dancers. The operator switched from us in the studio to the terrace and rang for the orchestra to start playing. Instead of music we heard a great rushing and crackling and shouts of people. There was actual FEAR in the air. It could be sensed by us in the studio through the radio horn. The whole place was swept by fire, which burned tables, chairs, decorations and melted a saxophone to a weird metal mass—we stretched lines to the roof and tried to describe the running patrons, the activities of the firemen and the playing of the hose from the street—and through it all that microphone hung there in the fire, picking up all the sounds of burning dining room.

SOMETIMES a word spoken by an announcer is heard incorrectly on the air and it causes a deal of consternation. Pat Barnes tells us of the time he was broadcasting Chicago's civic reception to Col. Lindbergh, a banquet at a downtown hotel. Pat was seated just behind Lindy, who was in the middle of the speakers' table. Many prominent citizens were eulogizing the flyer between courses of the dinner. Pat was inserting little comments here and there, describing what a fine, bashful young fellow Lindy appeared to be. Suddenly the colonel dropped a fork and it lay on the floor behind the chair. Bother Pat, during a lull in the speeches, spoke: "And now, just to let you know how thoroughly human and like all of us Lindy is, he just dropped a fork on the floor behind his chair."

In the following few days about one hundred letters arrived on Pat's desk, expressing amazement—"Do you mean to say, Mr. Barnes, that Lindy dropped a quart on the floor behind him?"

SHOWING WHAT tell-tale busybodies microphones can be—a bald headed gent is dancing past the orchestra with his young partner in a night club, and she says, "Why is it you never speak above a whisper when you're dancing here?" And the fat gent replies: "Well, you know, they broadcast the band from here, and it's practically certain my wife's listening in."

days. Our experiences with amateur nights, or amateur periods, some years ago were very delightful. The only unhappy element in them was that most of the applicants were too good to be funny, and an amateur night isn't funny unless the performers are absolutely terrible.

An hour was devoted to the show, and there were many, many applicants. Instead of being as laughably impossible as the famous Cherry sisters of the vaudeville stage, they were mostly just mediocre singers. One of two, however, were unconsciously howling successes, singing hymns in duets and playing on queer instruments.

Because they were honest and sincere neophytes from distant parts seeking candid judgments on their talents, it was impossible for us to rate them as the theater attendants used to do the amateurs who lined up on the stage for the awarding of the prizes. It would be really insulting to shout "Get the hook," as the boys were wont to do in the theater. And the only good laughs were derived from the insertion of some of our regular performers in burlesque roles.

LOUISE HOMER, MISS STEWART ON AIR TONIGHT

Will Give Program in Kent Series.

An artist who has trod the hard pathway from obscurity to the highest pinnacle of success — Louise Homer, Metropolitan opera and concert contralto—and a young artist who has gained national and international acclaim through radio performance, Kathleen Stewart, pianist, are to be the co-stars in the Atwater Kent radio hour tonight in a program boardcast by W-G-N, THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE station on the Drake hotel, and a coast to coast network.

Both artists demonstrate the American spirit of womanhood applied to creative work in the arts. Each has attained the highest type of success without the sacrifice of a single iota of her feminine charm. Louise Homer represents as much to her public as a mother and a home maker as she does as one of the world's greatest contraltos.

Family Circle of Artists.

In fact one who thinks of her as a great singer thinks in terms also of her composer husband, her singing and playing daughters and their ideal family circle—yet a circle of artists of striking ability.

Kathleen Stewart came before the public as a pianist with the National Broadcasting company. She immediately centered attention on herself as an artist who paints pictures in tone, either of the most delicate shading or the most brilliant coloring, with the usually arbitrary black and white keys of the piano.

Versatile Artist.

In the playing of one of Grieg's concertos for the piano, which tells a story of intense drama, Miss Stewart has been rated supreme among women pianists. She started out in life to play the piano, then switched to painting and then to the violin. One day she wandered into the N. B. C. studios for an audition. She was engaged and has been a regular program artist and accompanist ever since. Last year she played more than fifty concerts, arranged through the concert bureau of the company, in addition to her radio work. This latter involved being solo pianist for orchestral broadcasts as well as playing innumerable special programs of her own and work in conjunction with other broadcast artists.

ADDRESS .....

"AHOY! CAP'N LITTLE!"

IT'S Chief Officer Richard Henry Little, now skipper of the Line-o-type, who spent his time before the mast of the good ship Fah Wahn. As a reporter, R. H. L. was sent snooping around the Gulf of Pe-chi-li in an attempt to learn some news of the Russo-Japanese war. He and his Japanese sailors sailed proudly up to Yingtse, the Manchurian port, in hopes of nosing some news from Niu-chwang—but that's his story. Was there news? A large order! (There were Russians in that thar port). At his customary time—10:15.

PAT BARNES 7:15

YOU should get to know Pat. When you do, you'll like him even more. Not only is Pat an announcer and a reader, but he's a playwright and a well trained actor. Tonight, for instance, you will probably hear him take the part of three or four characters in the sketch that he has written himself. Pat Barnes is a hit whether he be acting before blinding footlights, or whether he treads a silent carpet in a hushed radio studio. Every gesture—every smile is there, though his visible audience be only a cold and silent microphone. But you sense, somehow, the gestures and the smile of Pat just to listen. 7:15.

VARIETY 2:00

JOHN STAMFORD

VARIETY is the main ingredient in this early afternoon gambol of notes. John Stamford, our dignified announcer, turns tenor for this program, singing a few of your favorites plucked from his great big song book. Paul Mertz pushes his piano back into a corner where it can't get away, and—! Van (Four String) Fleming and his guitar will hold a sentimental but melodious conversation if they don't get hot. If you do—Wow! Harold Stokes, the midget sharp and flat man from Leningrad, will try to keep his accordeon from getting itself into a knot. That's about all we can get into one ordinary program. 2:00.

THE WORLD'S GREATEST NEWSPAPER

Neighborhood News. Churches, Clubs, Schools. Radio Programs.

APRIL 7, 1929.

PARKER JUNIOR BUILDING TO BE STARTED IN MAY

Room for 2,000 Will Be Provided.

Construction of the new $2,300,000 Parker Junior High school, 68th street and Stewart avenue, which has been placed third on the board of education's building program for 1929, is expected to start next month, according to an announcement made last week by Theophilus Schmid, chairman of the board building committee.

The announcement was made in a letter to Ald James G. Coyle [17th]. According to the announcement, plans and specifications for the new building will be completed within the next two weeks and the board expects to ask immediately for bids on the work. Board engineers were at the school grounds last week making tests of the soil to determine the nature of the foundation required.

Stone Finish for Building.

The specifications for the structure call for the most modern in style and equipment, and, according to Mr. Schmid, the new school will be one of the finest in the city. The building will be of stone finish and will conform in architecture to the other buildings on the Chicago Normal school campus. The structure will contain four stories and a basement and will have accommodations for more than 2,000 students.

The basement of the new school will house the mechanical equipment, while the first floor will contain an auditorium, printing shop, metal shop, electric shop, six classrooms, principal's office, lunchroom, and kitchen. On the second floor will be two cooking rooms, eleven classrooms, swimming pools, boys' locker rooms and showers, girls' locker rooms and showers. The third floor will be made up of special music rooms, typewriting rooms, two special commercial rooms, two mechanical drawing rooms, seven classrooms, library, boys' gymnasium, girls' gymnasium, office for physician and nurse, and office for dentist and nurse. The fourth floor will contain the band and orchestra rooms, four art rooms, four science rooms and five classrooms.

Senior High School Included.

In addition to Parker Junor High school, the board of education recently adopted a recommendation of the educational department to build schools to accommodate 5,448 south side children. The recommendations were submitted by Don C. Rogers, director of the board's building survey.

Included are a senior high school, an elementary school and three elementary school additions. These buildings were allotted to the south side out of a total of sixteen buildings, with seating accommodations for 23,850, in the entire city.

Although a majority of the buildings planned for the south side are elementary schools, Mr. Rogers in his report said that junior and senior high schools should be given preference throughout the city in the future.

"It seems desirable to give more emphasis henceforth to senior and junior high school facilities," the report said. "Senior high school membership has grown immensely in the last five years, while membership in elementary schools has actually been decreasing."

A table compiled by the building survey shows 260,601 elementary school pupils in attendance in 1924 and 255,766 last year, while there were 39,999 senior high school pupils five years ago and 46,147 last year. Junior high school pupils numbering 87,328 attended Chicago schools in 1924 and 111,493 last year.

Phillips High Most Urgent.

A new home for Wendell Phillips High school to be constructed at 49th street and Wabash avenue is listed by the board as needed more urgently than any school in the city this year. A building seating 3,300 pupils is planned.

Phillips High school was authorized in the 1928 building program, and the site is already owned by the board, the report said. The new building will provide relief for the congested condition in the old school and do away with fourteen portables now in use.

It will also draw pupils from Englewood and Hyde Park High schools. It is planned also to organize a junior high school unit in the new building, according to the report.

Next on the south side list is McCosh Elementary school addition, 6543 Champlain avenue, which is seventh in urgency in the city. An addition providing 400 seats is planned. The old school is so overcrowded, the report said, that 40 kindergraten children are on the waiting list until room is found for them. Basement rooms are in use at present, and a system of extended sessions must be employed to give every one a sufficient amount of schooling.

An addition to Holden Elementary school is rated fourth in urgency on the south side and eleventh in the city. The building, at 3055 South Dearnis street, will seat 576 pupils when completed. Holden school has an overload of twelve rooms, the report said, and the assembly hall is being used as a classroom.

Myra Bradwell P.-T. Picks Delegates to Convention

At a special board meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association of the Myra Bradwell School, 7710 Burnham avenue, held last Monday, Mrs. C. J. Rosenbaum, Mrs. J. H. Sawyer, and Mrs. Elmer Johnson were appointed delegates to the annual convention of the Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers, to be held in Mattoon, Ill., April 17, 18, 19, 20. Mrs. J. H. Boehm was chosen alternate. In the list of nominees of the association, printed last Sunday, Miss Mary Morgan was listed as a nominee for director. It should have read Miss Mary E. Gould.

Women of City to Celebrate Deeds of Sex

The University of Chicago chapel, the architecture of which has been said to portray the continuity of religion, including the parts played by the artisan, statesman, and merchant, will be the scene of a unique service next Wednesday night.

For the first time in the history of Chicago and, as far as is known, in the history of the world, a special service will be held in recognition of the leadership of women. The original idea of the service came from the Y. W. C. A., which organization is holding its central regional convention in the Hotel Sherman April 10 to 15. Other women's organizations became enthusiastic over the suggestion, however, and before plans were completed practically every woman's club in the city offered to take part, and delegated a member to assist on the committee of arrangements.

Many Leaders Take Part.

Miss Lilace Reid Barnes, daughter of Clifford W. Barnes of the Sunday Evening club, is chairman in charge of the event, and other women who have been active in planning for the chapel service are:

Miss Helen Bennett, managing director of the Women's World fair; Miss Leslie Blanchard, member of the board of social service and religion at the University of Chicago; Miss Alice Boynton of the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom; Mrs. Walter H. Buhlig, 372 Normal parkway, Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers; Mrs. Hermon B. Butler, president of the Fortnightly club; Mrs. Henry W. Cheney, state legislator for the fifth senatorial district.

Miss Elizabeth Cristman, 311 South Ashland avenue, of the National Women's Trade Union league; Mrs. Wilbur Fribley, president of the Chicago Housewives' league, 2043 East 72d place; Mrs. Harold Eldridge, member of the metropolitan board of the Y. W. C. A.; Mrs. Albert B. George, 3231 Vernon avenue.

Mrs. Gilkey to Take Part.

Mrs. Charles W. Gilkey, vice president of the national Y. W. C. A., 5802 Woodlawn avenue; Mrs. William K. Hodgkins, president of the Y. W. C. A.; Miss Helen Hood of the W. C. T. U.; Mrs. Benjamin F. Langworthy, president of the Woman's City club; Mrs. Samuel T. Lawton, 5605 Blackstone avenue, president Child Study and Parents Education; Mrs. J. W. Lear, women's department of the Chicago Church federation.

Mrs. Andrew MacLeish, president Chicago Woman's club; Mrs. Charles Clayton Morrison, 6144 Kimbark avenue, League of Women Voters; Mrs. Quincy Wright, League of Women Voters, 5744 Blackstone avenue; Miss Elizabeth Webster, assistant director social agencies, and Mrs. John P. McGoorty of the Illinois club.

These Women in Processional.

Among south side women who have received invitations to take part in the processional are Miss Edith Abbott, 1007 East 60th street; Miss Zonia Baber, 6037 Ellis avenue; Mrs. Ida Wells Barnett, 3624 South Park way, a leader of colored women; Dr. Katherine Blunt, 5525 University avenue, head of the home economics department at the University of Chicago; Mrs. Carrie Jacobs Bond, 7130 Princeton avenue, writer of songs; Mrs. Henry W. Cheney, 6041 Kenwood avenue, first president of the League of Women Voters and now in her first term in the state legislature; Mrs. Edith Foster Flint, educator at the University of Chicago; Mrs. John Gleissner, 1800 Prairie avenue; Miss Hazel Harrison, 3745 Prairie avenue, pianist; Mrs. William S. Walker, 6016 Ellis avenue,

Normal Girls Dance Out of Year Book

Students at the Chicago Normal college have a glorified impression of what to expect in the 1929 spring Emblem, the college year book, as the result of an assembly program presented Thursday morning under the direction of members of the Emblem staff.

An enlarged reproduction of the book itself provided the setting of the stage from which participants stepped forth. Miss Laurinda Cleary and Miss Ruth Mumford acted as pages, turning back the covers of the Emblem.

The art section was rapidly reproduced by a chalk talk given by Allan Bangert, art editor of the Emblem. Miss Annette Singer entertained with a reading entitled "Tony Pleads Petit Larceny" in representing the literary department, and Miss Ella Bulger announced the group of folk dances given by students to illustrate countries visited by members of the faculty on a recent European trip.

Taking Part in Dances.

Those who took part in the Swedish dance were: Frank Walker, Miss Patricia McJoynt, Paul Erickson, Miss Eleanor Goldberg, Eugene Fricker, Miss Helen Smith, Herbert Johnson, Miss Alicia Wolson, Harry Keer, Miss Alice Sanders, Harold Taylor, and Miss Alice Rentz.

Those who gave an Italian folk dance included Miss Kathleen Kenny, Mis Ethel Petrina, Miss Virginia Shaw, Miss Marie Fierce, Miss Helen Anda, David Earl, William Boyd, Gustave Carlson, John Roper, Leslie La Force, and Tobey Silbert.

A Russian dance was given by Miss Anne Simmons, Miss Caroline Patt, Herman Goodheart and William Fitzsimmons; a Spanish duet dance was given by Miss Betty Krawitz and Michael Ehrlich, and the girls of section 216 and the boys of the manual training section 2 song a Spanish song, "Gally the Troubador."

Englewood Kiwanis Pay Visit to Crippled Children

Members of the Englewood Kiwanis club made their annual visit to the Christopher School for Crippled Children, 51st street and Artesian avenue, Tuesday instead of holding their regular weekly meeting. The children were entertained for more than an hour by the members of the organization, led by Dr. M. Phillip Cannon, chairman of the program committee. The program for the day was in charge of the underprivileged child committee of the club, of which Dr. James Graybeal is chairman.

Miss Emily Quinn, our charming barber shop cashier at the Hotel Sherman, is receiving the congratulations of her friends on the fine pickup of her high spirited new car, which cleared a three foot hedge in a standing broad jump, making a perfect four point landing in a cemetery. Miss Quinn is confident it would have broken the world's broad jump record for six cylinder cars had it not been for a tombstone carelessly left in the way. She plans to enter it in the 1932 Olympic games.

Miss Irene M. Peterson of 6450 Kenwood avenue, the little schoolma'am now on sabbatical leave and sojourning in the Pearl of the Pacific, writes home that she enjoyed the privilege of hearing the governor of Hawaii read his full annual message to the combined senate and house of representatives at the opening session of the legislature. The reader will recall it is from Hawaii we get our non-explosive pineapples.

TOO seldom in these parlous times does the press recognize the noble deeds of the city's bluecoats—those guardians of the public weal which the citizen pays to defend him and his from the auto bandit, the burglar, the moron and other criminal elements. We have in mind Officers Smith and Ryan of the Kensington station, who alone and singlehanded the other night, and without even a search warrant handy, got their quarry at 10440 Erickson avenue. A two apartment dwelling, their objective was the first floor. This had a front and a rear door, a basement entrance and likewise a water pipe up the side of the house. How to get in was the problem, but Officer Smith's quick thinking solved it. He climbed the water pipe. Prying open a window, he dashed into the apartment, which was vacant, and captured the quarry—a small still, which had been dismantled—without firing a shot.

MRS. GOLDIE W. BARNES of 228 East 149th street, Harvey, reports that the horn which she plays in the Buda plant band, where she is employed, was stolen during her absence from the house Monday morning. The Harvey police are working on the case, their theory being that somebody—presumably a lover of music—entered the house and took the horn. This seems plausible. It develops that Mrs. Barnes did not lock the doors when she departed. No one was seen to enter or leave, despite the fact that some of the neighbors generally have an eye on the block. However, there is one clue. Some boys were seen around the city park at 5:30 with a horn. The police are developing this lone clue, and we trust we shall have more definite news in our next issue.

O. U. SISSON, the pioneer druggist of Hyde Park, 5034 Cottage Grove avenues, says he's learned something every day of the thirty years he has been in business, and is still learning, which is probably the reason Oscar continues to be among those prominently present in these progressive days of chain drug stores and such. He says about the only thing that hasn't changed in Hyde Park since he arrived there in a horse and buggy is his address and telephone number. It used to be Oakland 1, but since ciphers became stylish the telephone company has handed him three, making it 0001.

BLUE ISLAND is going to make it a real Fourth and the Lions club, of which A. W. Schreiber is president, is sponsoring a slogan contest with a first prize of $10. The thought is to embody in a telling phrase the magnitude of the celebration, and the sponsors are furnishing prospective contestants with samples just so they can get their hands in. We quote:

Clans Gather Friday Night in Englewood

"Should auld acquaintance be forgot?"

The Women's society of Englewood Presbyterian church, 64th street and Yale avenue, doesn't think so, and on Friday night, the society is sponsoring the twenty-fifth annual Scotch soirée to be held in the church.

DR. JAMES E. CONGDON.

If the event is as popular as similar affairs of the past there will be a "gathering of the clans" from all over Chicago—a get-together of folk of Scotch nativity and ancestry, many of whom never have an opportunity to visit with each other throughout the year except on this occasion.

Program All Scotch.

Friday night's program will open with "The Campbells Are Coming," played on the bagpipe by Piper Sandy Mathison, and from then on until all present join hands and finish singing "Auld Lang Syne" the evening will have a distinctly Scotch flavor.

The feature of the evening will be impersonations of Harry Lauder by Sam Galbraith of Roseland. Mr. Galbraith will appear in kilts and respond to encores of "I Love a Lassie" and "Roamin' In the Gloamin!" In order that none of Mr. Galbraith's part of the program may be missed, a section of seats down near the platform has been reserved for the children.

Such beloved ballads as "Annie Laurie" and "Flow Gently Sweet Afton" will be sung by Mary MacKenzie, Mrs. Thomas Smith, Charles Stanley, and Miss Phylis Weir. Miss Jessie Clark Reike will give a group of character readings.

Dr. Robinson to Preside.

Dr. James E. Congdon, pastor of the church, will give the address of welcome, and Dr. Willard H. Robinson, pastor emeritus, will act as master of ceremonies, a rôle which he has taken since the first soirée was held a quarter of a century ago.

Officers of the Women's society, sponsoring the soirée, are: Mrs. Melvin C. Knapp, president; George Hawk, vice president; Mrs. William Watson, secretary, and Mrs. Arthur Clason, treasurer. Mrs. I. D. Wadie is chairman of the arrangements committee.

MT. GREENWOOD MASSMEETING TO ASK SCHOOL

The first step in an attempt to convince the board of education that a new school is needed in the Mount Greenwood community will be taken at a massmeeting Tuesday evening at the Mount Greenwood Trust and Savings bank, 3052 West 111th street, which will be sponsored by the Ridge Civic council.

According to R. R. McMurray, secretary of the organization, the Mount Greenwood Improvement association in a letter last week asked the Ridge civic council for its coöperation in the effort to obtain the new school. The officers of the council immediately called the meeting for next Tuesday for this purpose.

Mr. McMurray pointed out that one of the schools in the Mount Greenwood community is a frame structure, which was built in 1880, and one other school has been condemned by the city because of the possibility of a collapse of the second floor.

A committee will be appointed at Tuesday's meeting for the purpose of composing a petition, which will be circulated among the residents of the community.

South Side Swedish Club Dances and Plays Cards

More than 300 members and their guests attended a card party and dance last evening given by the Ladies' auxiliary of the South Side Swedish club in the ballroom of the club, 7330 Ridgeland avenue. Mrs. Louis Olson of Mount Greenwood, president, and Mrs. Harry Londelius, 11103 Irving avenue, were in charge of arrangements for the affair.

NAME LEADERS FOR SOUTHWEST SIDE CAR FIGHT

Frame Demands at Meeting Today.

A committee to organize the fight for added transportation facilities for the southwest side, selected by the Southwest Federation of Improvement clubs last Monday night, will meet this afternoon to draw up a resolution presenting the needs and demands of the district.

It was decided by the federation Monday night to join forces with the Greater South Side Chamber of Commerce in pushing the transportation demands, and the committee will meet with the transportation committee of the chamber Tuesday to decide on a plan of action.

In giving the committee power to draw up the resolution setting forth the desired improvements, there was no dissension among members of the federation, according to M. A. Seymour, secretary, and a unanimous agreement has been reached concerning what the district needs.

The committee includes C. C. Cross, Edward Qualkinbush, Mr. Seymour, and R. G. Crane.

Will Make Plea to Council.

They will direct their plea for better transportation to the city council, the citizens' advisory committee on transportation, and possibly the Illinois commerce commission, it has been tentatively decided.

At present, according to officials of the federation, the 63d street car line is the only one of real service in the entire southwest district. The only other line going to the center of the city, Archer avenue, ends at Cicero avenue, at which point a suburban line begins, thus forcing residents to pay two fares in getting to the loop.

The federation intends to demand that users of the Archer avenue line west of Cicero avenue pay only one fare.

The resolution will include a plea for an "L" extension to serve the district. Such an extension of the Douglas park line south from 18th and Paulina streets to Archer avenue, west on this street to Kostner avenue, south on Kostner to 65th street, and west on 65th to Argo is deemed desirable.

Seek Two Surface Lines.

The federation wants an extension of the Crawford avenue line south from the river as soon as the bridge is completed; the paving and installing of a feeder bus line on 59th street from Kedzie avenue to the west city limits, and the cutting through of 71st street to Crawford avenue, where a proposed car line would extend south to 79th street and thence west to the city limits.

In recommending that an "L" line be extended into the southwest side federation officials have expressed the belief that such a line would pay far better than the Westchester and Niles Center lines recently opened by the Rapid Transit company because thousands of workers must be carried daily to the rapidly growing factory district in West Chicago Lawn and Clearing.

PROPOSES ONE BOARD RULE ALL CHICAGO PARKS

Leader of Club Women Raps 'Extravagance.'

Characterizing the present park system as absurd, extravagant, and unbusinesslike, Mrs. Edward S. Bailey, 2212 East 70th street, has devised a new plan for operating parks in the city which she will present to the Chicago and Cook County Federation of Women's organizations in the fall with the hope that they will assist her in carrying it into operation. Mrs. Bailey is a former president of the federation of clubs.

Women will be given a voice in the management of Chicago's parks and playgrounds and one central board will direct park activities all over the city if Mrs. Bailey has her way.

With other south side residents Mrs. Bailey has become aroused over the fact that they must bear the burden of taxation to pay for the lake front improvements.

Says Inequality Causes Objection.

"It isn't taxation that people object to," she added. "It is the lack of equalization in taxes which causes objections. It is unfair that citizens of south side should pay the entire cost of lake front improvements, when as far as 31st street the lake front is used by the loop and the city at large and the entire city should stand the cost of these improvements. With one central park commission such an arrangement in this case and similar instances would be made."

And referring to the advisability of having woman representatives on the park board, Mrs. Bailey pointed out that, due to their experience in economy and home management, women are particularly fitted for the job of "municipal housekeeping." Her plan includes at least four women on the board, one for each district of the city.

The outline of her plan is, in brief, to abolish all small park and playground commissions in the city, establishing instead one central park board to elect commissioners to this board, rather than having them appointed, and to have women represented on this board.

Forty-five Different Park Boards.

"I was amazed to learn when I first looked into the subject, that there were forty-five different park boards planning and controlling the parks in Chicago and Cook county," Mrs. Bailey said. "There must be tremendous duplication when each board has its own plant and equipment, stenographers, attorneys, police, and power to levy taxes."

Regarding the election of commissioners for the proposed central board, Mrs. Bailey indicated that parks and playgrounds are so essential to the people as a whole that they should have some voice in the selection of persons who have control over them. She said a man's qualifications and not his party affiliations should determine whether he be made a member.

Favors Election by Districts.

"Each section of the city should elect its own representatives for the board," she said. "The people of the south side know a man's qualifications as a south park commissioner better than a judge from Oak Park, and those living on the north side are better acquainted with the qualifications of the Lincoln park commissioners than is the governor.

"The ideal commission is a civic minded group of persons with a chairman who would be responsible for the entire park system," she said.

CONSUMPTIVE AID BRANCH INSTALLS NEW PRESIDENT

Mrs. Jacob Kenofsky, 6347 South Peoria street, was installed as president of the south side auxiliary of the Chicago Consumptive Aid society, at a public reception last week at the Southmoor hotel, 67th street and Stony Island avenue.

Other officers installed were: Mrs. Anna Frazin, 6129 South Green street, honorary vice president; Mrs. Harry Taft, 7339 South Green street, chairman of vice presidents; Mrs. M. J. Worth, 6455 Greenwood avenue, first vice president; Mrs. Sarah Silverman, 6217 South Green street, second vice president, and Mrs. Lena Bass, 6138 Vernon avenue, third vice president.

Other new officers are Mrs. Jack Newman, 9119 South Racine avenue, secretary; Mrs. Sarah White, 7554 Coles avenue, financial secretary; Mrs. Samuel Cutts, 6951 South Green street, treasurer, and Mrs. Ida Engber, 5916 South Throop street, assistant treasurer.

SPRING DAYS BRING LAMBS AND GOLF CLUBS

"A Spring Lamb for Easter," made by J. L. Hancock, 1121 East 51st street, won the first prize of $5 this week in The Tribune's spring picture contest for amateur photographers of the south side. The picture shows Helen and Herbert Finger. The second prize of $3 was awarded to Mrs. R. E. Tinsley, 7911 Crandon avenue, for "Fore," showing Natalie Tinsley. For a picture of Marion Ruth Eggli taking a springtime stroll the third prize of $2 was awarded to Mrs. William Eggli, 5303 South Damen avenue.

93D ST. OPENING TO BE DEMANDED BY SOUTH SIDE

Railroad Is Blamed for Delay.

A conference to speed the opening of 93d street between Stony Island and Cottage Grove avenues through the yards and shops of the Nickel Plate railroad will be held shortly between Commissioner of Public Works Richard W. Wolfe and officials of the railroad, according to Ald. William A. Rowan [10th], who has been working for this improvement for the last two years.

The railroad agreed in 1925 to have the street opened by 1927, Ald. Rowan says, but thus far nothing has been done. Officials have sought to justify the delay on the ground that the yards could not be moved to the south because the Calumet harbor project has not been completed, but local groups intend to stand firm in their contention that Calumet harbor has nothing to do with the agreement of 1925, the alderman says.

United Fight Planned.

In a previous conference with the department of public works six months ago nothing definite was agreed upon, and local civic groups are prepared to join forces and stage an organized fight, according to the alderman.

Charles A. Rubey of the South Chicago chamber of commerce, Walter Roy of the South End chamber of commerce, and H. H. Haylett of the Greater South Side chamber of commerce, are leading their groups in the effort to have the street opened.

Ninety-third street, if opened, would literally open up the entire far south side, Ald. Rowan points out, since at present there is no usable street open between Stony Island and Cottage Grove avenues in the entire section. The nearest street across town to the north is 79th street, and the nearest on the south is 147th street, which is out of the city limits.

Other Streets Impassable.

Others, such as 95th street on which improvements are being made, are still impassable and probably will be in process of repair for the next two years. One Hundred and Third street, which is also closed across town by the railroad yards, will most likely remain so until Calumet harbor is completed, according to Ald. Rowan, thus leaving 93d street as the only possibility for an east and west street.

In view of the fact that the improvement is so necessary and that it has been promised by the railroad it is imperative that every possible pressure be brought to bear to get the railroad to act, he says.

Spring? Say It with Pictures and Win Prizes

In the spring a photographer's fancy turns to pictures of the first robin, early gardens, Mary and Jane skipping rope and evidences of spring fever.

The Metropolitan section of The Tribune now offers prizes weekly for spring pictures. The Tribune will pay $5 for the best photograph on this general subject taken by an amateur. It will pay $3 for the second best and $2 for the third best.

Address pictures to Photo contest, Metropolitan section of The Tribune. The name and address of the photographer should be written plainly on the back of the print as well as the names of all persons in the picture.

The contest is open only to amateurs and the editor will be final judge. Theme, treatment, and clearness of the print all will be taken into consideration. No pictures will be returned.

Answers

Following are the answers to quotations previously published:

Quotation.—When March comes in like a lamb it goes out like a lion.

Answer.—This proverb, in reverse order is found in "The Compleat Collection of English Proverbs" by the English naturalist, John Ray or Wray, who was born in 1628 and died in 1705. The first edition was published in 1670. Later editions appeared in 1742, 1767, and 1813. The proverb runs as follows:

March hack ham, comes in like a lion,
Goes out like a lamb.
March comes in like a lion,
Goes out like a lamb.

—Marguerite M. Nelson, 5129 Cullom avenue, Chicago.

NOTE—Maybe some one can tell the rest of us what "hack ham" means, if anything.

Quotation.—Educate 'em with a krag.

Answer.—This quotation, or rather, "Civilise 'em with a Krag," is from a song which was popular among the United States troops engaged in putting down the Philippine insurrection just after the Spanish-American war. The song, a parody on "Tramp, Tramp, Tramp, the Boys are Marching," started with:

Damn, damn, damn the Filipinos—

And concluded:

Then beneath the starry flag,
Civilise 'em with a Krag,
And return us to our own beloved homes.

The "Krag" was the Krag-Jorgensen rifle, in general use in the United States army at that time.—Frank A. Post, 332 South Kenilworth avenue, Oak Park, Ill.

Quotation.—Good Americans, when they die, go to Paris.

Answer.—In the sixth chapter of "The Autocrat of the Breakfast Table," by Oliver Wendell Holmes, is this observation: "There is that glorious epicurean paradox uttered by my friend the historian [John Lothrop Motley], in one of his flashing moments, 'Give us the luxuries of life, and we will dispense with its necessaries.' To this must certainly be added that other saying of one of the wittiest of men, 'Good Americans, when they die, go to Paris.'"

The "one of the wittiest of men" to whom Dr. Holmes referred was Thomas Gold Appleton, born in Massachusetts in 1812.

Emerson says, "Next to the originator of a good sentence is the first quoter of it." Dr. Holmes should certainly be given credit for the life of this quip of Mr. Appleton's. Oliver Wendell Holmes—physician, poet, essayist, novelist—was born in Cambridge, Mass., on Aug. 29, 1809. He was graduated from Harvard in 1829 and commenced the study of law but soon abandoned it for medicine. He was the first real American humorist with an assured standing in good literature. He died in 1894.—Mabel Ruth Jackson, 7003 Normal boulevard, Chicago.

OFFER TRAGEDY OF INDIAN LOVE AT BOWEN HIGH

Operetta to Be Given Two Evenings Next Week.

"Lonidaw," an operetta of Indian life, will be presented by the Bowen Melody boys, assisted by several girls of the school, Thursday and Friday evenings, April 18 and 19, in the school auditorium, 89th street and Manistee avenue.

Mrs. Edith B. Beardsley, who is directing the presentation, composed the musical score for the operetta and has taken the Indian legend of "Lover's Leap" for the plot. Mrs. Beardsley has composed the musical scores for many other operettas, which have been produced at Bowen, among them "Pahehaska" and "Breezy Island."

Stirring Love Plot.

The plot of the operetta concerns the love between Lonidaw, a chief's daughter, and Lodi, a young Indian. Chief Nigo Highez, Lonidaw's father, objects to their marriage because he wishes his daughter to marry another chief, thus binding together two powerful tribes. When this chief comes to court her, Lonidaw flees into the forest in search of Lodi, who has previously gone there to prove that he has the makings of a brave. Finding him injured and starving, she attempts to aid him, but her father and his warriors carry her back to their camp to wed the other chief. Before the wedding ceremony she climbs a cliff to pray, and in the presence of the whole tribe, throws herself into the ocean.

Lonidaw is portrayed by Miss Marion Wheeler. George Wait plays the rôle of Lodi, Grant Ladd takes the part of the other chief, and Phillip Stafford plays the father. Other characters are: George Adams, LaVerne Ande, Arlan Baillie, George Benjamin, William Bracken, Jean Hanson, Medary Nordland, Harold Peterson, Frank Springer.

Members of the Chorus.

The chorus will be made up of Margaret Mallinson, Ona Fae Betholf, Betty Clark, Aldana Algiminowicz, Frances Merrick, Virginia Chognacki, Eleanor Huggins, Adele Wysocki, Doris Watkins, Sophie Stamos, Jessie Steinweg, Marjorie Tanner, Jane Barton, Herman Wolff, Hugh Robertson, Byron White, Borivoy Petrovitch, William Owens, William Hart, Thomas Pavelin, Sydney Knapp, David Steinberg, Daniel Kelly, and Warren Wilson.

CHICAGO 'L' POST SETS NEW RECORD IN MEMBER DRIVE

To Celebrate Wednesday with Stag Party.

The new high membership record for Chicago Elevated post No. 134 of the American Legion will be celebrated on Wednesday night, April 10, with a stag party and boxing show at Electricians' hall, Ogden avenue at Washington boulevard. Two TRIBUNE Golden Glove winners for 1929 are included among the fistic stars who will take part in the exhibition matches.

A total of 635 veterans have already been enrolled in "L" post for 1929, it is announced by Commander George R. Apfel. This is the largest number signed up in any one year by the post since it was organized by Past National Commander Howard P. Savage. With memberships still coming in, Commander Apfel declares that "L" post is out to challenge the "top liners" for honors in the Illinois drive this year.

In addition to the ring exhibitions on Wednesday night, the stag party program will include vaudeville entertainment. An invitation is extended to veterans of other posts to be guests. The show starts at 8 o'clock.

Vice Commander Arthur Lindell announces that the membership drive conducted by Roseland post, No. 49, has netted 575 members. This is one hundred more than the quota set by the state department and 120 more than the membership of last year. The intensive drive is closed, but the post expects that a quiet campaign will bring the membership to 651 by convention time.

Mrs. Jessie Davies Wakefield, president of Fort Dearborn post unit, No. 268, announces the unit's first card party and dance to be held at headquarters, 6336 Cottage Grove avenue, at 8 p. m., April 13. Proceeds will be used for relief work among needy ex-service men's children. Mrs. Mary L. Powers is chairman of the unit activities.

Plans for Poppy day and Memorial day will be discussed at the business meeting of Square post No. 232, to be held on Monday, April 15. Comrade Frank Ives has been appointed chairman of the poppy committee. Mrs. Bertha Stiles has been appointed chairman for the auxiliary. Square auxiliary is giving a show and dance at Vikings', hall, 69th street and Emerald avenue, on the night of Saturday, April 13. Following the show there will be dancing.

VICE PRESIDENT CURTIS BECOMES "BIG CHIEF" OF HIGH SCHOOL CLUB

Two Indian pictures hanging in the club room of the typewriting students at Westcott Junior High school inspired them to choose an Indian name, the Commanches, for their club, and Vice President Charles Curtis has consented to be their "big chief" and has sent them an autographed photograph.

Because the Vice President is of Indian descent, the students wrote him, telling him of their club and asking him to honor it by accepting the title of "big chief." His reply, sent with the photograph, saying he was pleased to receive the letter and happy to know they were interested in the Indian race, was read in the school assembly hour last week. Miss Lula Comerford is sponsor of the club.

OAKLAND VISIONS RECOVERY OF ITS FORMER PRESTIGE

World's Fair Expected to Benefit District.

Oakland, once the gold coast on the south side, sees in the coming World's Fair an opportunity for a renewal of prestige equal to that it enjoyed when Chicago's prominent and influential citizens resided in the neighborhood.

ANDREW J. KOLAR.

The district is bounded by 39th and 50th streets and by Cottage Grove avenue and the lake, and the recently reorganized Oakland Business Men's association finds much encouragement in the reports that the islands in the lake, planned for the 1933 fair, will extend as far south as 35th street and possibly to Oakwood boulevard.

Sees Opportunity in Fair.

In the opinion of Andrew J. Kolar, president of the business men's group and vice president of the Drexel State bank, the fair will provide the opportunity for which the community has long waited.

"Oakland, because of its nearness to the fair location, will be the ideal location for visitors to live while in the city," says Mr. Kolar, "and the outer drive, which cuts through the heart of the community, will take visitors to the fair grounds in from three to five minutes.

"Nearness to the loop is another important factor in the future development of the community, and no territory in the city can boast of better transportation facilities. The electrified Illinois Central has a ten minute service, besides which we have the buses, the surface lines, and the outer drive for motorists.

Awaken to Advantages.

R. J. Neal, president of the bank and vice president of the Greater South Side Chamber of Commerce, pointed out that the new outer drive has given people, especially those who travel the Lake Park avenue route to the loop, an opportunity of seeing the natural advantages of the territory. Several pieces of property have changed hands at increasing prices since the first of the year, he said.

Mr. Neal said the chief need in the neighborhood at present is modern apartments to replace the old structures that have stood for many years.

Clarence Poffenberger, one of the directors of the Greater South Shore Chamber of Commerce and chairman of the restriction committee of the local business men's group, said the restriction program, which was sponsored by the organization and recently completed, will do more toward developing the community than anything else. He said more than 95 per cent of the property owners in the territory have signed contracts that will not allow them to sell or rent property to colored persons for a period of 20 years.

SOME CHANGES FOR OUTDOOR TWIN PUSHER

How to Add Elevator and Tail Service.

Outdoor events of the second model airplane tournament, sponsored by THE TRIBUNE, will be held May 19 at Washington park; indoor events, May 26, at the 132nd Infantry armory.

Forty-eight medals, two trophies, and two trips to the national championship meet and back will be awarded the winners.

BY MERRILL HAMBURG.
[Secretary Airplane Model League of America.]

Last week, in the columns of THE TRIBUNE, local sponsor of the Airplane Model League of America, you learned how to make an outdoor Twin Pusher, the king of outdoor ships. This week I'm going to tell you of some changes in the championship model that have interested a lot of experts.

These changes are suggested by Joseph Lucas, president of the Illinois Model Aero club—the oldest model club in America—and a builder of years of experience. Lucas says that they helped him to win the national outdoor trophy last year. His ship made a flight of four minutes twenty-four seconds at the first national A. M. L. A. contests.

As you'll see by the drawing of the ship, the differences consist in the addition of a built-up elevator and auxiliary rear surface. The championship model has only a single surface elevator. Consequently it is lighter. But Lucas believes that his additions give the model added lift to compensate for the additional weight.

How to Get Kit.

To make the new parts you'll need a sheet of Japanese tissue paper, 10½ x11 inches; a piece of 1-16 inch flat balsa, and some 1-32 inch flat balsa, both pieces 12 inches long. If you haven't these materials, send 15 cents to the supply department, A. M. L. A., American Boy building, Second and Lafayette boulevards, Detroit, Mich., asking for the elevator kit. It will come to you by return mail.

The wing section of both elevator and rear surface is the same as that of the main wing—you'll remember that the Clark-Y airfoil was the suggested section. Make five ribs of the same proportions — with the same curve, that is—for the rear surface, and five for the elevator; but reduce the size so that the rib length is no more than three inches.

Drawing Gives Details.

Now cut leading and trailing edge strips from your flat balsa. Make the elevator 12 inches long, with its dihedral angle such that the tips will be 1½ inches above the center. Cut all strips first, make each half of the elevator separately and join them. The work you did last week on the main wing will tell you all the details of this job. It will help you with covering the elevator, too.

Figure the length of the strips for the rear surface by measuring the distance between the exact points on the two fuselage sticks where you will attach it. This is a perfectly straight wing section—no dihedral to it—so it will be easy to build and to cover. Note that it fits in between the sticks, and takes the place of the two rear bamboo cross-braces. The drawing shows details.

Last Minute Touches.

The elevator is held to the sticks by a big rubber band; but the rear surface is embroided permanently in position. The elevator should not be set at any angle of incidence, for its airfoil section furnishes enough lift.

Now a few hints on last minute touches to that Twin Pusher. Don't forget that extreme lightness is of prime importance in all championship models. Make each individual part just as light, sand it down as thin, as requisite strength will permit. One overheavy part won't make much difference, but a lot of them will!

Take extreme care with each bit of work, too. You can lessen wind resistance, increase lift and add to performance by seeking neatness and exactness. Remember, also, that the successful contest performer is the one who has plenty of spare parts—props, motors, even fuselages and wings.

Good Winder Needed.

Be sure that your rubber is in good shape—not too old nor too often used. You'll need a good eggbeater winder, too. The league can furnish plans for a winder.

You'll find that you get best results when the two propellers turn up in the center and out toward the sides.

If you haven't plans for the plane, you can get them by sending a two cent stamp to the league with your request. They're included in the official league kit for the Outdoor Twin Pusher, obtainable for $3 at league headquarters.

Don't expect to build the Twin Pusher, or to add the Lucas parts to it, without spending a lot of time and patience on it. But, if you do the work carefully, look for a whale of a good flight with it. The official record is 10 minutes 14 2-5 seconds; unofficial records go above an hour!

And it's likely to be the ship that will win some boy—perhaps a Chicago model builder—that free trip to Europe. It's worth trying for!

VARIATIONS FOR OUTDOOR TWIN PUSHER

Half a Billion DOLLARS!

That's the annual retail expenditure of the families living on Metropolitan Chicago's great South Side

210,000

HALF a billion dollars!—that's the annual retail expenditure of the 210,000 prosperous families that live on metropolitan Chicago's great South Side!—more than is spent by all the families of a city the size of Pittsburgh or San Francisco!

These families each year spend 111 millions for food alone—and another million for stoves and ranges to cook it on—more than the value of all the gold and silver coined by United States mints in 1926!

They spend 30 millions a year for automobiles and 14 millions for gas and oil to keep them rolling. Tires and accessories increase the bill another 7 millions—making a total for auto transportation greater than the ordinary disbursements of the State of Illinois for an entire year!

Furniture and housefurnishing merchants take in 31 million dollars a year. Clothing stores selling to the South Side divide 69 millions. Drug store cash registers ring up 21 millions a year. These are just typical items in the golden harvest waiting to be reaped by alert merchants in this giant trading empire.

Picture what this can mean to you and your neighboring merchants in profit possibilities! Here are some 210,000 families that can trade with South Side merchants more easily than with any others, and will trade with them in proportion as you and your neighboring merchants persuade them. And now, thanks to the Tribune's new advertising plan, you can reach 140,000, or two out of every three of these families, for an advertising cost so low that no merchant or retailer can afford to overlook this sure way of boosting business!

Now, for a few dollars—whatever you are able to invest to go after business—you can place a strong, business pulling offer in the thoroughly read Metropolitan section that makes practically a clean sweep of the South Side's buying power. Your ad reaches these prospects on Sunday, the one day of the week they have plenty of time to read and discuss buying suggestions. And—

The amount you invest is so small that you can't help but get it back plus a margin of profit! Your ads will pay for themselves as they run and leave you a clear gain merely for your initiative and effort!

Decide now to get the jump on your competition. There are no details to bother you or take your time. The Tribune will help in the preparation of your ads, if you wish. Call the Tribune tomorrow and get the complete details of this amazing new advertising plan. Tear out the memo coupon now!

CRERAR CHURCH COMPLETES ITS REORGANIZATION

Installation of Pastor to Be Held April 26.

Crerar Presbyterian church is approaching a complete organization with plans for a new church structure in the hands of architects and arrangements under way for the formal installation of the Rev. W. H. Reeves, present acting pastor of the church, Friday, April 26.

The old Crerar church disbanded a year ago and the process of reorganization began Dec. 2, although the Rev. Mr. Reeves has been here working with members of the congregation under the Presbyterian board of church extension since last May.

At the latest meeting of the church board of trustees it was decided to start about May 1 a campaign for funds with which to build the new church. A committee from the board of church extension will manage the drive and the exact date of the drive will be decided by the committee. According to the Rev. Mr. Reeves, the sale of the old church property at 57th street and Prairie avenue has provided a nucleus for the church fund.

Construction Starts in Summer.

Plans for the new church have been completed by Rowe, Dillard, and Rowe, architects, and construction will start late in the summer or in the autumn, according to the success of the financial drive, the Rev. Mr. Reeves said.

The church will be built in two units, the second of which will be added within three or four years. The structure will be built entirely of brick in a combination of modern English Gothic and Romanesque architecture and there will be a cloistered court between the first and second units. Estimate of the final cost of construction is $175,000.

The first unit, construction of which will be started in a few months, will include a two story auditorium capable of seating 300 persons, a junior Sunday school department with an assembly hall and six class rooms, four adult class rooms, and a manse. The manse will contain a general church office and pastor's study on the first floor, living room, dining room and kitchen on the second floor, and bedrooms on the third floor. Thus the pastor's living quarters will occupy the front part of the first unit of the church.

100 Foot Tower for First Unit.

The first unit will also include a 100 foot tower, in which chimes later will be installed, and the auditorium in the first unit will be used for a gymnasium and social center following construction of the second unit. The latter will include the church auditorium, to be used purely as a sanctuary, and a small chapel at the rear of the court for prayer services, small weddings and funerals, and also as additional seating space in case the chapel proper becomes crowded. The organ will be arranged so that it can be used in connection with services in either chapel.

The lot acquired by the church in February at the southwest corner of 61st street and Calumet avenue will be the site of the church. The lot measures 161x125 and the church will fit it snugly, leaving room, however, for landscaping around the outside of the church as well as within the court. The church sanctuary will seat 600 persons.

The church now holds services at 1307 South Park avenue.

EXPECT 10,000 AT 'BIGGEST RAIL SOCIAL AFFAIR'

The biggest railroad social affair in the world's greatest railroad center is on the way the seventh annual dancing party of the Chicago Junction Athletic association tomorrow evening at the Trianon ballroom, 62d street and Cottage Grove avenue, is heralded. Advance ticket sales indicate that more than 10,000 persons will attend the party.

The proceeds will be used by the association to finance its work for the coming year. The purpose of the organization is to provide athletics and other recreation for the employés of the Chicago Junction railway, which is affiliated with the New York Central lines.

JOHN R. PUBLIC LISTS STREETS FOR REPAIRS

Sends 15,000 Reports of Badly Worn Paving

In carrying out its regular program of coöperating with the bureau of streets in listing the chuck holes and bad pavement conditions throughout the south side, the Greater South Side chamber of commerce has mailed to all of its members cards upon which reports of sections of street in need of repair.

H. H. HAYLETT. [TRIBUNE Photo.]

According to H. H. Haylett, managing vice president, the chamber is convinced that this year it will be necessary to make an extensive survey of street conditions because of the severity of the winter.

15,000 Replies Received.

For this reason, Mr. Haylett said, the organization is not only mailing cards to its members, but is supplying cards for the members of all of the 87 south side groups, which are affiliated with the chamber. Mr. Haylett declared that he has received more than 15,000 replies from every quarter of the 19 wards of the south side.

One of the first to whom the pavement complaint card was mailed was Richard W. Wolfe, commissioner of public works, who responded immediately, according to Mr. Haylett, and was the first person on the south side to register a complaint to the chamber with regard to the condition of the streets this year.

In Mr. Wolfe's complaint he pointed out that a bad chuck hole existed at 70th street and Jeffery avenue, forcing traffic on this busy thoroughfare to one side and slowing it.

Cards Continue Pouring in.

Monday was the deadline for all complaint cards, but Mr. Haylett declared that the replies continued to pour into the chamber headquarters, 5 East Garfield boulevard, all week. Organization workers have been working at the task of analyzing and summarizing the complaints ward by ward.

When this task is completed a conference will be held between the officials of the chamber and the commissioner of public works, heads of the street repair department, and the ward superintendents.

ROSELAND TAKES ON GALA AIR FOR RADIO PARADE

Roseland took on a holiday atmosphere yesterday afternoon when seven truck loads of Majestic radios, being distributed from the Harry Alter company, were received at 102d street by the blare of bands. From this point, and continuing along Michigan avenue to 116th street, the parade was joined by the decorated floats of eight Roseland radio dealers. Souvenirs were distributed, clowns cavorted, and the float tableaux presented by costumed girls all tended to create a carnival spirit.

Dealers receiving the large shipment of radios as the parade ended were: J. Rehm Radio sales, Saders' Radio store, Cousins, Inc., Peoples stores, General Furniture company, Boersma company, Makler Furniture company, and Root Brothers.

Music for the occasion was furnished by the Morgan Park academy band and by the drum and bugle corps of Roseland post, No. 49, of the American Legion.

DISTRICT HEADS SPECIAL GUESTS OF WOMAN'S CLUB

District officers and the presidents of two neighboring clubs were special guests at the spring luncheon to be given by the West Pullman Woman's club next Friday in the Wedgwood room at Marshall Field & Co.'s store.

They are Mrs. John McKeon, president of the second district of the Federation of Woman's clubs; Mrs. F. C. Hill, first vice president of the second district; Mrs. R. C. Libberton, second vice president of the second district; Mrs. C. G. Goodwin, parliamentarian for the second district, Mrs. James J. O'Conner, president of the Ken Rose Woman's club, and Mrs. Charles Brent, president of the Roseland Woman's club.

The music will be furnished by the club chorus under the direction of Mrs. Margaret Gillespie and accompanied by Mrs. Claire Lucas.

The Fenger High School Glee club will sing at the meeting of the club April 19 at the park fieldhouse, 123d street and Stewart avenue.

Mrs. Frank M. Fulton, 317 West Marquette road, presided at the annual luncheon of the Chicago Women's Ideal club Thursday at the Blackstone hotel. Entertainers included Guy Robertson, Allan Rogers and Marion Marchante of the cast of "White Lilacs," Mildred Fitzpatrick, Edward Davies, Mathilde Von Osterem, Dell Coon and his orchestra and the Ideal quartet.

Mrs. Sidney Hines Named Oglesby P.-T. President

Mrs. Sidney Hines, 7801 South Sangamon street, was elected president of the Oglesby Parent-Teacher association at a meeting of the organization last week in the school auditorium. 77th and Green streets. Other officers elected were: Mrs. Francis Ashton, vice president; Mrs. James Davidson, second vice president; Mrs. George Canham, recording secretary; Mrs. T. A. Hamilton, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Joseph Greenberg, treasurer.

YOUNG ATTORNEY MADE A PARTNER IN SIX MONTHS

It's a young man's world, and nothing succeeds like success, and all that. John E. Kelly Jr. of 4613 Woodlawn avenue, is convinced. Young Kelly, who has just turned the quarter century mark, passed the bar examination and became a practicing attorney some six months ago. This week he was called from his work long enough to be told that his efforts made it necessary to declare him a member of the firm of Kelly & Murphy, of which Master in Chancery James J. Kelly is senior member.

JOHN E. KELLY JR.

VOICE of the SOUTH SIDE

YOU'RE WELCOME.

Chicago, April 7.—Your story is regard to a membership drive now being sponsored by the Junior assembly of the South Side Hebrew congregation brought a score of letters from Jewish young people all through the south shore territory asking to send them more information about the organization. I am sure now that the drive will be a success and although the members are working hard to "put it across," a great deal of the credit belongs to the Metropolitan section of THE CHICAGO SUNDAY TRIBUNE.

JOAN LOWELL TO TELL STORY ON RADIO TUESDAY

Will Talk of Her Life at Sea.

As soon as she was able to walk her sunburned toes gripped the slanting deck of a ship. From then on life was about as vivid and fascinating an experience as was ever lived by a woman—or man, for that matter. Probably never before in the history of literature has such rip-roarin' adventure ever been recorded by a girl.

Joan Lowell, descendant on one side of Boston blue stockings and on the other of bewhiskered Levantine sea rovers, became nationally famous overnight through the publication recently of her adventures under the title, "The Cradle of the Deep."

The broadcasting of Joan Lowell's story by herself over a chain of stations will be a unique experience in radio. A total of 30 stations, including W-G-N, the CHICAGO TRIBUNE station, will be hooked up for the national broadcast Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock Chicago time.

Was Raised as Boy.

Joan Lowell's father carried her aboard his schooner, a copra trader in the South Pacific, when she was only eleven months old. A she goat, purchased for a broken alarm clock from south sea natives, was her nurse. For seventeen years the only ground under her feet was about sixty fathoms of water.

Raised as a man by men as nard as nails, it is small wonder that Joan's early ambition was to be able to swear for three minutes without once repeating herself, and eventually she achieved this distinction.

With the head of an angel and a fist like a hammer, this little thug in overalls (for she never knew what dresses were) paraded the deck of her floating home looking for trouble. She found it—and how. Her father caught her just in time one day when she was going ashore to have nude ladies tattooed on her chest—just like the other sailors.

The Hangman's Noose.

To Joan women were soft, fluffy things that "smelled good." In her floating world of men her own sex was as inscrutable as the inhabitants of another planet, and her first real experience with them pretty nearly caused a riot.

She found navigating on shore so full of shoals that she fled back to sea, and there a member of the crew casually showed her one night, now to make a hangman's noose. A sure and ghastly sense of drama impelled him to knot it under his own left ear and dance on the wind.

On one of her rare visits ashore a pedantic and pompous professor of economics once told her: "You are a very interesting study, little girl." The little girl's reply nearly made the professor faint.

Ghostly, giant icebergs, waterspouts, wild dances on lovely south sea atolls, man-eating sharks that followed the ship like wraiths, and the fact that young ladies should not bathe in gentlemen's drinking water—all these Joan Lowell learned about and wove into her fantastic saga of the sea. Her broadcast is expected to be a radio event.

IT'S $50 A PLATE FOR THIS LUNCHEON

GOODRICH LAUDS FIRE STATION AT 73D-KINGSTON

The remodeled double fire station recently opened at 73d street and Kingston avenue is as good as any in the country, according to Fire Commissioner A. W. Goodrich.

An addition was built in order to house a hook and ladder company to work with the engine company previously working there. The cost, including equipment, was $50,000, the commmissioner said.

Added protection is afforded by the new addition, since the nearest hook and ladder company serving the southeast side is at 1024 East 73d street.

GEORGE OLSEN'S MUSICIANS STAR IN FAMILY PARTY

George Olsen, known first and foremost to Broadwayites for his merry-making in "Kid Boots," "Good News," "Whoopee," and other titillating extravaganzas will be the headliner tomorrow night in the family party program broadcast by W-G-N, THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE station on the Drake hotel.

Olsen started his career as an orchestral improvisor and director in Detroit. Eddie Cantor heard him and wired Ziegfeld that he had discovered a "find." Ziegfeld took Cantor at his word, and Olsen was signed to appear with the comedian in "Kid Boots." He was such a hit that while still appearing in "Kid Boots" Ziegfeld arranged for him to do double duty by also doing a turn in "The Follies."

South side schools are having an important place in the season's concluding engagements of the Little Symphony orchestra of Chicago. The third pair of concerts given at Emil G. Hirsch Junior High school this season will be presented some time this month. A double concert will be given Tuesday afternoon in Chicago Normal college auditorium; one will be given for the college and Parker High school students and a later one for Parker Junior High and elementary school pupils.

At the series of concerts being given at Hirsch school a matinée concert is given for school children and an adult program is played by the orchestra at night. The Crescendo club in Morgan Park has already sponsored an adult concert which was given in Morgan Park High school auditorium, and the orchestra gave a concert last week at Wendell Phillips High school.

One Special Number for Each.

Although the program in general is the same when given at the various schools, at least one individual number appropriate to the school in which the concert is played is inserted. The audience is always invited to sing one song with the orchestra, and at Wendell Phillips the orchestra played a Negro folk suite arranged by Maj. N. Clark Smith, who conducts the high school orchestra.

Students of the school are frequently asked to play solo parts, accompanied by the orchestra. Edwin Weeks, 12 years old, violinist at Hirsch Junior High school, played a solo at the most recent concert given at Hirsch, and has been invited to do so again this week. Johanna Siragusa, 15 years old, will play a piano solo in the concert to be given at Normal college.

Fifty Concerts This Season.

The Little Symphony orchestra was organized in 1921 by George Dasch and Karl Schulte and twenty-three of their artist-associates with the main purpose in mind of bringing symphonic music to smaller communities. More than fifty concerts will have been presented in Chicago's metropolitan area by the close of this winter's season, most of which have been given in school auditoriums. School authorities and community leaders have sponsored the concerts in each instance.

For the last few years the orchestra has played a concert every Sunday afternoon at the Art institute.

PAT BARNES 7:15

YOU should get to know Pat. When you do, you'll like him even more. Not only is Pat an announcer and a reader, but he's a playwright and a well trained actor. Tonight, for instance, you will probably hear him take the part of three or four characters in the sketch that he has written himself. Pat Barnes is a hit whether he be acting before blinding footlights, or whether he treads a silent carpet in a hushed radio studio. Every gesture—every smile is there, though his visible audience be only a cold and silent microphone. But you sense, somehow, the gestures and the smile of Pat just to listen. 7:15

VARIETY 2:00

JOHN STAMFORD

VARIETY is the main ingredient in this early afternoon gambol of notes. John Stamford, our dignified announcer, turns tenor for this program, singing a few of your favorites plucked from his great big song book. Paul Mertz pushes his piano back into a corner where it can't get away, and—! Van (Four String) Fleming and his guitar will hold a sentimental but melodious conversation if they don't get hot. If you do—Wow! Harold Stokes, the midget sharp and flat man from Leningrad, will try to keep his accordeon from getting itself into a knot. That's about all we can get into one ordinary program. 2:00.

U. S. IS STUDYING PLAN TO LICENSE RADIO STATIONS

Recommendations Ready in December.

Washington, D. C.—"One million dollars a channel" was the arbitrary value fixed upon each radio wave length during the recent congressional deliberations on radio legislation. That this standard has no real economic basis was recognized by the members of congress, but they were sufficiently interested to order an inquiry into the possibility of levying license fees upon those granted the right to use the precious channels of the ether.

Such an investigation is now being conducted by the federal radio commission with a view to complying with the resolution introduced by Senator Dill of Washington, calling for the recommendation of a schedule of fees to be imposed upon the several classes of stations. It is Senator Dill's idea that the charges should be greater according to the power and the use made by those to whom licenses are granted.

At least one member of the commission, H. A. Lafount, representing the western zone, is already on record as being vigorously opposed to any plan of making broadcasting stations bear the burden of this license fee system. Mr. Lafount is, in fact, only luke warm toward the whole license fee project.

Want Public Hearings.

The National Association of Broadcasters is not opposed to the establishment of a system of federal license fees, provided that such license fees are required from all radio stations licensed to transmit radio communications, and provided that the term of any license for which a fee is paid is not less than one year. It recommends, however, that the congress shall by law establish the basis on which such fee is to be charged, and shall do so only after public hearings have been held for the purpose of determining such basis in an equitable manner.

While various foreign countries are known to levy fees where they do not own all radio facilities outright or exact flat sums or percentages of profit from concessionaires, the only data on license fees that the commission has at hand is that obtained from Canada. Under the radiotelegraph act of Canada, the department of marine at Ottawa charges its licensees the following per annum sums:

Limited commercial stations, $50; public commercial, $50; private commercial broadcasting, $50; private commercial, $10; experimental, $5; amateur broadcasting, $10; amateur experimental, $2.50; technical or training schools, $5, and ships, $10.

Suggest Leasing Channels.

It is regarded altogether unlikely that the United States fees will be as small as the recommendations that will be ready for congress by next December.

That coastal and commercial stations engaged in point to point and ship code service should pay the government such small amounts for the right to use the ether, would provoke considerable antagonism when the subject is considered by congress. When the remark was made that each channel was worth $1,000,000, the reference was made to the transoceanic and transcontinental high frequencies, or short waves. At the present time, the government gets nothing directly in return for the licenses it grants to use those channels.

Neither does the government profit directly from broadcasting assignments to the 600 stations in the United States. Nothing is charged for the 17,000 or more amateur licenses either, although each amateur must pass a technical test before a federal radio supervisor to qualify for a license.

In favor of the imposition of nominal license fees, it will be argued that this is the only way the government can defray the constantly mounting expenses of radio administration. In favor of high license fees, especially for code communications services, it will be proposed that this is one way to eliminate "haywire" stations which barely creep in under the "public interest, convenience or necessity" standard set by the radio act. Some legislators have already suggested that it might be well to "lease" the channels to the highest bidder and the companies best qualified to maintain either wirless communications or broadcasting services, and perhaps later the regular television services.

Tax on Listeners.

Against the fees proposal, the theory is advanced that the extension of radio for domestic and international telegraph communications has put the United States in a preëminent strategic position for war or peacetime emergencies. Even more important in day by day life, it is pointed out that the radio communication channels are carrying nationwide and worldwide the messages of trade that mean so much to the country's economic prosperity.

The commission will probably fix the rates for short and long wave channels at relatively high levels, classifying them according to the importance of the use to which the channels are put. Broadcasting rates will probably be rather low with a graduated scale for stations given over to advertising wholly, advertising only partially, institutional services like those offered by churches and colleges, etc.

Bannockburn Becomes Village by 46 to 16 Vote

Bannockburn, with a population of 140 persons and an area of two square miles, has come of age and decided to be a village. In recent balloting, with a vote of 46 to 16 the section became the 15th village and 21st municipality to incorporate in Lake county. County Judge Perry L. Persons at Waukegan, to whom the result was certified, has set the election for choice of officers as April 16.

Inside the Loud Speaker

BY QUIN RYAN.

Radio had its chance again the other evening to transmit the very feeling of fear over its electrical waves, in the "panic" during the boxing bout at the Coliseum. It so happened that when the hysterical rush of spectators moved out of the darkness toward the boxing ring we were sitting at the ringside and a sudden violent impact at our back knocked the microphone out of our hands and under the ring.

We had jumped up onto the ring, along with everybody who wasn't crushed against the platform, in order to see what was happening, while 9,000 men and women were fleeing headlong in one direction to avoid an unknown danger. And that little instrument which hears all with unfailing ears lay unmolested underneath the ring, transmitting to listeners hundreds of miles away the panicky sounds and yells and the very electric tenseness which hung over the crowd while they were waiting for the gunshots or lions' roars, or shouts of "fire!" which they anticipated out of the darkness.

On the air it was powerfully dramatic, because it was genuine. One listener, Raymond F. Smith, of Centralia, Ill., writes: "Here is how it was through my loud speaker. I had taken a cushion and was lying on the floor listening to one of the best fights I have heard for a long time, when I heard you shout, 'Hey, what's that?' Then an awful noise, which I found out later was the mike hitting the floor, then no more talking for some time except a few excited yells from men and commands mingled with a weird, low rumble which I was unable to explain, then crackling and pounding which I suppose was the knocking over of the chairs and the breaking of your shelf, as you later said. I rose up from my pillow in wonder as to the cause.

"I didn't have long to wait, when I heard your familiar voice say, 'Hey, is the mike still connected?' You then told us you were talking from the ring and you told us what was taking place, talking all the time, long before the trouble was quieted down. Maybe you think I didn't have some strange feelings come over me as you described something that wasn't on the program at all. The thought struck me that maybe some people were being trampled upon and injured and maybe some killed right then, and here we were listening to it over the radio, in the comfort of our homes, about 300 miles away. I see by this morning's paper that several were injured and two or three quite severely. Every time I think of it, I still have a strange feeling. That experience was the greatest thrill I ever got from a radio."

It reminds us of one evening over a year ago, when a fire broke out in the lakeside terrace of the hotel where we were picking up a dance orchestra. It was on the stroke of midnight and we announced a group of tunes that the orchestra would play for the midsummer dancers. The operator switched from us in the studio to the terrace and rang for the orchestra to start playing. Instead of music we heard a great rushing and crackling and shouts of people. There was actual FEAR in the air. It could be sensed by us in the studio through the radio horn. The whole place was swept by fire, which burned tables, chairs, decorations and melted a saxophone to a weird metal mass—we stretched lines to the roof and tried to describe the running patrons, the activities of the firemen and the playing of the hose from the street—and through it all that microphone hung there in the fire, picking up all the sounds of burning dining room.

SOMETIMES a word spoken by an announcer is heard incorrectly on the air and it causes a deal of consternation. Pat Barnes tells us of the time he was broadcasting Chicago's civic reception to Col. Lindbergh, a banquet at a downtown hotel. Pat was seated just behind Lindy, who was in the middle of the speakers' table. Many prominent citizens were eulogizing the flyer between courses of the dinner.

Pat was inserting little comments here and there, describing what a fine, bashful young fellow Lindy appeared to be. Suddenly the colonel dropped a fork and it lay on the floor behind the chair. Bother Pat, during a lull in the speeches, spoke: "And now, just to let you know how thoroughly human and like all of us Lindy is, he just dropped a fork on the floor behind his chair."

In the following few days about one hundred letters arrived on Pat's desk, expressing amazement—"Do you mean to say, Mr. Barnes, that Lindy dropped a quart on the floor behind him?"

SHOWING WHAT tell-tale busybodies microphones can be—a bald headed gent is dancing past the orchestra with his young partner in a night club, and she says, "Why is it you never speak above a whisper when you're dancing here?" And the fat gent replies: "Well, you know, they broadcast the band from here, and it's practically certain my wife's listening in."

days. Our experiences with amateur nights, or amateur periods, some years ago were very delightful. The only unhappy element in them was that most of the applicants were too good to be funny, and an amateur night isn't funny unless the performers are absolutely terrible.

An hour was devoted to the show, and there were many, many applicants. Instead of being as laughably impossible as the famous Cherry sisters of the vaudeville stage, they were mostly just mediocre singers. One of two, however, were unconsciously howling successes, singing hymns in duets and playing on queer instruments.

Because they were honest and sincere neophytes from distant parts seeking candid judgments on their talents, it was impossible for us to razz them as the theater attendants used to do the amateurs who lined up on the stage for the awarding of the prizes. It would be really insulting to shout "Get the hook," as the boys were wont to do in the theater. And the only good laughs were derived from the insertion of some of our regular performers in burlesque rôles.

LOUISE HOMER, MISS STEWART ON AIR TONIGHT

Will Give Program in Kent Series.

An artist who has trod the hard pathway from obscurity to the highest pinnacle of success — Louise Homer, Metropolitan opera and concert contralto—and a young artist who has gained national and international acclaim through radio performance, Kathleen Stewart, pianist, are to be the co-stars in the Atwater Kent radio hour tonight in a program boardcast by W-G-N, THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE station on the Drake hotel, and a coast to coast network.

Both artists demonstrate the American spirit of womanhood applied to creative work in the arts. Each has attained the highest type of success without the sacrifice of a single iota of her feminine charm. Louise Homer represents as much to her public as a mother and a home maker as she does as one of the world's greatest contraltos.

Family Circle of Artists.

In fact one who thinks of her as a great singer thinks in terms also of her composer husband, her singing and playing daughters and their ideal family circle—yet a circle of artists of striking ability.

Kathleen Stewart came before the public as a pianist with the National Broadcasting company. She immediately centered attention on herself as an artist who paints pictures in tone, either of the most delicate shading or the most brilliant coloring, with the usually arbitrary black and white keys of the piano.

Versatile Artist.

In the playing of one of Grieg's concertos for the piano, which tells a story of intense drama, Miss Stewart has been rated supreme among women pianists. She started out in life to play the piano, then switched to painting and then to the violin. One day she wandered into the N. B. C. studios for an audition. She was engaged and has been a regular program artist and accompanist ever since. Last year she played more than fifty concerts, arranged through the concert bureau of the company, in addition to her radio work. This latter involved being solo pianist for orchestral broadcasts as well as playing innumerable special programs of her own and work in conjunction with other broadcast artists.

ON AIR TONIGHT

KATHLEEN STEWART.

LOUISE HOMER.

Stars of the music world who will be heard tonight on the Atwater Kent program from W-G-N, The Chicago Tribune station. Mme. Homer is a Metropolitan Opera company contralto, while Miss Stewart is a nationally known pianist.

Another lecture will be given at the same hour every week for six weeks.

MRS. JAS. GRANT NEW PRESIDENT OF HARVARD P.-T.

Mrs. James Grant, 7721 Stewart avenue, was elected president of the Harvard Parent-Teacher association at a recent meeting of the organization in the school auditorium, 75th street and Harvard avenue. One of the most progressive real estate firms in Chicago can use a few high class subdivision salesmen and sales managers.

We charge no interest nor taxes for entire life of contract.

MEN WORKING FOR US WROTE THIS "AD." IT'S A STORY OF PERSONAL EXPERIENCE.
WE WANT TEN MORE MEN WHO CAN DO AS WELL.
Men have come to us from all lines of previous endeavor. They have reached the limits of earnings and their earnings fail to provide the comfort, the happiness, the education to which their families are entitled.
In our business, these men have found an outlet for their ambitions. Their earnings are dependent on their efforts. They feel they were in business for themselves, reaping the rewards of independent business without the heavy investment of capital.
These are all actual experiences of men in the business or profession named. We have their signed statements. Most of them had no previous sales experience.
MINISTER—M. H. H.: "I was over $1,000 in debt—had a family to support. Within a few months I had earned several thousand dollars, won $500 in cash prizes and an automobile."
MACHINIST—A. P.: "I worked as a machinist, earning $40 per week. Since joining you, I have purchased my own home, a new six cylinder car, refurnished my home, and I earn over $6,000 per year."
VACUUM CLEANER SALESMAN—W. S. H. says: "I tripled my income my first year. This year I expect to earn between $6,000 and $7,000—I had 159 sales phoned in or mailed to me my first year."
CARPENTER—W. B. D. says: "I was a carpenter—the best I could do was $45 a week when I could work. I was out of work quite a bit. Now my average income is around $500 per month."
INSURANCE—E. L. W. writes: "I have been in this one line thirteen years, the responsibility great, the remuneration poor, at the beginning with you. I set my mark for $7,500 per year, but it will be five figures instead of four."
LAWYER—E. D. S.: "I practiced law fourteen years—I started with you April 6th—my earnings the first month were $600, and they have averaged that figure."
SPECIALTY SALESMAN—C. W. M. says: "I've sold specialties for fifteen years, I've always made money, but with you I've made more than double the amount of money I ever earned elsewhere."
SCHOOL TEACHER—F. R. writes: "I am now earning $60 daily. Think of it! This is far more than I ever earned as a professor of languages and as a minister. My family is enjoying comforts such as they never had."
SHOEMAKER—S. S. says: "I spent twenty-seven years in shoe factories—with all my experience I could only make $50 to $60 per week—I have a large family, seven children. Now I'm making more than $10,000 per year."
REAL ESTATE—Frank P. writes: "I owned a half interest in a real estate organization—my earnings averaged $5,000 per year. In this new work, I made $1,000 in my first full month—I believe you offer the greatest opportunity of any in the country."
BRUSH SALESMAN—E. G. B. says: "My first week, I earned $125 and a short time later, I received $300 for a single week's work. For the past several months, my earnings have passed $700 per month."
JEWELER—E. R.: "I owned a jewelry store and cashed the weekly checks of one of your men. Some weeks his checks were bigger than my profits. I had a big investment, he had none. So, I sold my business and went with you. If I had known about it before I would have joined your ranks long before I did."
ACCOUNTANT—R. C. A.: "I was drawing $160 per month with ___ Motor Company, I have realized more than this in one week with you. You have given my wife and three children happiness they could not have received in my other position."
FARMER—Max D.: "I was a farmer in Germany, made $13 per week. You can imagine how little English I spoke with only two months in America. My brother was with you. I joined him in April, 1926. During the past six months I have earned a salary of $6,000 and am the possessor of a fine Whippet car, which I won in a contest."
TRAVELING SALESMAN—W. A.: "Growing tired of the life of a traveling salesman, away from home and family, I quit my $60 a week traveling job and joined your organization. In three years I have attained an income of $10,000 per year."
DIGNIFIED POSITION—E. P. S.: "I occupied a dignified position in a local manufacturing plant. I could see no chance to improve my earnings. I was advised to try your company. I did. I wish I could adequately describe what it means to me. I am now able to maintain a home in the finest residential section and provide for a family of six."
The above are a few selected from many; we have musicians, painters, clerks, meat cutters, book salesmen, portrait salesmen, toolmakers, grocers, doctors, engineers, iron workers, merchants, and many others who without previous experience, fit this business like a glove.
It's a dignified, profitable business for young men of ability, integrity and character. It requires hard work, but pays well for it. We don't ask you to punch a clock, but expect an honest day every day. No matter what you are doing, or why it is not satisfactory, this offer of ours is worth your consideration. Just as the above stories are signed evidence of what other men are now doing, so are they a guarantee that other men can do as well.
We manufacture our own products and are rated in the millions.

THE CLOISTERS

Chicago's Most Unusual Co-Operative Is Your Opportunity

Apartments of 4, 5, 6, 7 and 8 Rooms are still available. No other building in Chicago offers you all of the features found in

THE CLOISTERS

In a great many you will find colored tile, ornamental archways and all the latest appliances for comfort and convenience, but only in

THE CLOISTERS

WILL YOU FIND:

1. Real woodburning fireplaces in every apartment. These burn wood because each one has a separate flue clear to the roof. We have wood storage for the wood and a service to bring it to your door. This is unique.

2. Genuine walnut woodwork in all living spaces. This is hand rubbed and waxed and is the finishing touch to a building beautiful in every detail.

3. Inlaid oak parquetry floors that are bonded to the concrete with Bermuda asphalt and not with nails and stringers. The mosaic patterns in the Cloisters floors are truly beautiful and a charming part of home environment.

4. A roof promenade floored with quarry tile for the use of every owner in the building.

All of these are yours at a price and investment less than any comparable structure. A 7 room apartment in the Cloisters with 3 baths, all of the above features including inlaid linoleum through all service quarters can be purchased for a total equity investment of $11,340; monthly carrying charge, $147. Convenient terms can be arranged on this equity payment.

A 6 ROOM EQUITY COSTS $8,760. MONTHLY CHARGES $113.05.
A 5 ROOM APARTMENT AS LOW AS $6,700. MONTHLY CHARGES $86.50.
A 4 ROOM APARTMENT AT $5,400. MONTHLY CHARGES $69.70.

COME AND SEE
THE CLOISTERS
THIS SUNDAY.

SEE ITS LOVELY GARDEN COURT, FOUNTAIN, REFLECTING POOL, BEAUTIFUL AND IMPRESSIVE ENTRANCE. THIS IS THE BUILDING THAT HAS MADE A SALES RECORD IN CHICAGO. IT IS OVER 3/4 SOLD AND IS A SUCCESSFUL CO-OPERATIVE PROJECT IN EVERY WAY.

THE SHORELINE

a most delightful place to call home. Because of the beautiful view of the lake and Jackson Park, just across the street, where the handiwork of God and man have joined to produce more than 500 acres of the most beautiful playground in the West. . . . Just imagine sitting in a large living room high above the streets and far away from all dirt and dust, looking northward over Chicago's shoreline drive to a background of the best architecture—The Tribune Tower, Wrigley Bldg., The Roanoke Beacon, The Palmolive Bldg., and all the other beautiful monuments in stone . . . all in a direct line with the windows of the SHORELINE.

6 and 7 Rooms

All soundproof—6 inches of concrete—cork tile floors and ceilings of Celotex assure you that you will never be disturbed by noise and that no one will ever be disturbed by you. Radios, parties, children are no problem at the SHORELINE.

A new 16 story building. All apartments have real fireplaces, colored tile baths, steel casement windows, marble sills; 7 rooms have private balcony. A garage in building, doorman 24 hours, receiving room, fast elevators.

REAL ESTATE LOANS.

SECOND MORTGAGE LOANS

And now we have new and larger quarters in which to handle second mortgage loans.

We occupy quarters on the fourth floor of the building at 105 W. Madison-st. Everything is brand new except the telephone number, and a loyal and efficient staff with an old fashioned welcome for our customers and friends.

Through the agency of The Chicago Morris Plan Bank we have set new and higher standards in the second mortgage business. We have taken second mortgages out of the orphanage and put them on the same high plane with other normal and well understood financial transactions.

Out rates remain unchanged. It is the wonder of our contemporaries how they can be so low. The interest of Mr. Julius Rosenwald, the support of the leaders of Chicago business, an experienced staff, all coupled together, make our achievement possible.

We will be glad to have any home owner in the city come in to see us and have a little chat about home finance.

The Chicago
Morris Plan Bank
Agent
ON APRIL 8, 1929,
105 W. MADISON-ST.

The relationship of The Chicago Morris Plan Bank to this second mortgage project is expressly one of agency.

DID YOU WEIGH YOURSELF TODAY? Perhaps you did not, but literally millions of people did. Tons of pennies are dropped into the familiar penny scales in drug and other stores each year. Now comes a new and better scale that prints the weight and fortune on a ticket. It gives a private personal weighing service. If you owned a chain of these scales, working for you day and night, you would have a steady, sure source of income, and a business that would require little of your time. An unusual opportunity is offered now to get the unusual returns which will come to those who first show these scales. The business is easy and simple. Full details concerning all phases of it are given in a booklet which we will be glad to send on request to any financially responsible person. Call at International Ticket Scale Corporation, Mather Tower Building, Chicago, Ill., or write to Dept. 21A, International Scale, 17 E. 45th-st., New York, N. Y.

STUDEBAKER SACRIFICES 150 USED CARS

AT PRICES BELOW COST

Our big new car business has given us so many used cars on "trade-ins" that we need more room. Every car has been drastically reduced in price for this clearance.

These cars are guaranteed to give satisfaction. Every one is backed by the famous Studebaker Used Car Pledge that allows 5 days' free driving trial.

CADILLAC CABRIOLET. One of the very latest models. We defy anybody to distinguish this from a brand new Cadillac. Equipped with 4 whl. brakes, Lorraine driving light, 2 tires mounted along the sides, shutter front, shock absorbers, bumpers, etc. Worth considerably more than our price of $1,385.

NASH ROADSTER. Just the thing for the man wanting a sport car. Rumble seat, 4 whl. brakes, snubbers, bumpers, spare tire, etc. Engine is smooth and powerful. The finish has not a mar. Special for $585.

CHRYSLER SEDAN. At $385 you cannot duplicate this Chrysler any place else. Four wheel brakes, bumpers, spare tire, etc. Attractive tan finish. Motor runs like clockwork. See this today.

OAKLAND COACH, 1927, with 4 wheel brakes, trunk, seat covers, shock absorbers, etc. Tires, upholstery, and finish are in original new condition. Motor will please the most exacting buyer. Today, $485.

ERSKINE SEDAN. Looks and runs better than many new cars selling for over $1,000. Has very low mileage. The finish is beautiful. The motor is in splendid condition. Four wheel brakes, bumpers, spare tire, etc. A remarkable buy at $585.

STUDEBAKER SEDAN. Big 6 with low mileage. Never left the Chicago boulevards, so now it's in splendid condition. Beautiful finish. Motor is smooth and powerful. Biflex bumpers, driving light, spare tire, trunk, etc. $685.

WHIPPET SEDAN. Late model with 4 whl. brakes, snubbers, spare tire, bumpers, seat covers, etc. Snappy performance. Reduced to $395.

PAIGE SEDAN. 7 pass., with low mileage, many valuable extras. We recommend this as one of our best buys. Reduced to $745.

CHANDLER SEDAN. An advertising executive used it for a short time, and he gave it wonderful care. In splendid condition. Reduced to $495.

PONTIAC LANDAU-SEDAN. Finish is a beautiful sky blue. It's a recent model, with many valuable extras. No one could ever tell this car was ever used. $485.

DODGE SEDAN. Late model that runs like clockwork. This Dodge is a beauty. The extras are snubbers, spare tire, bumpers, step plates, etc. $395.

OLDSMOBILE COACH. Original owner oiled and greased it every 500 miles. Spare tire, spotlight, bumpers, etc. $350.

FLINT SEDAN. 4 whl. brakes, heater, bumpers, spare tire, etc. It's a beauty. Excellent mechanically. $295.

STUDEBAKER SEDAN. Special 6 with snubbers, driving light, bumpers, spare tire, heater, etc. Finish is as shiny as a new dollar. The interior appears in the original new condition. Motor as very efficient. $285.

HUDSON COACH. Has bumpers, spare tire, shutter front, etc. Beautiful upholstery. The finish is attractive. Can be obtained at $345.

ESSEX COACH, 1927, that, we believe, is the best Essex value in Chicago. It's a beauty, and the engine is smooth and quiet. Shutter front, snubbers, bumpers, spare tire, etc. $425.

JORDAN SEDAN. A recent 8-in-line with 4 whl. brakes, spare tire, snubbers, bumpers, etc. Finish is a beautiful cobalt blue and the upholstery is luxurious. $625.

CHEVROLET SEDAN. Late model, with low mileage. Shutter front, heater, trunk, 5 balloon tires, bumpers, etc. We believe this is the best Chev. value in Chicago, and the upholstery, finish, and tires appear new. $395.

AUBURN SEDAN, 1927 model. Finish is beautiful 2-tone gray; upholstery appears unused. 4 whl. brakes, shock absorbers, trunk, bumpers, spare tire, etc. $685.

DIANA SEDAN. Late model str. 8 that your neighbors could not tell from a new car; the tires appear unused; the interior is very clean and the finish glistens like a new dollar; equipped with 4 whl. brakes, shock absorbers, shutter front, spare tire, bumpers, etc. $685.

WILLYS-KNIGHT SEDAN. It was traded in at a very favorable figure, and we are willing to pass on the saving to you. Extras are heater, spare tire, snubbers, bumpers, etc. Finish is an attractive blue. Excellent mechanically. Will not remain long at $485.

MARMON SEDAN. This is a remarkable buy. A wealthy family wanted a 7 pass. car, so they sacrificed this car at a low figure. Every detail of this car is practically 100%. The tires have little mileage and the interior has not a worn spot. The finish is like new. Has a sweet running motor. Today, $425.

HUPMOBILE BROUGHAM. This Hupp must be seen to be appreciated. It's an "8" that's the last word for classy appearance and spirited performance; tires are like new; equipped with 4 whl. brakes, snubbers, bumpers, driving light, spare tire, etc. $795.

PEERLESS COACH. It's in topnotch condition. Has 4 whl. brakes, bumpers, snubbers, spare tire, etc. Every feature is in splendid condition and our price of $585 does not suggest the high quality of this car.

STUDEBAKER ROADSTER. Spec. 6 with rumble seat. Finish is an attractive dark green, with red striping. Has special sliding curtains that make it a closed car in 30 seconds. There are many desirable extras, and the mechanical condition is practically 100%. Only $485.

HELP WANTED ADVERTISING!

SUCCESSFUL GENERAL MANAGER WANTED.

Must know real estate and Northwest territory thoroughly, with A1 references and clear past record. My properties are all close in, very choice, and ready for builders. I will assure you a permanent future and an income of the highest character; for the man who can qualify I have an unusually attractive offer; you will be directly associated with me. FRED C. NIEMAN, Room 1213, 77 W. Washington-st.

LAST year, Chicago employers who wanted employes gave one newspaper the major part of their advertising. They placed over 61% of all their Help Wanted advertising in the Chicago Tribune, 62% more than in all the other Chicago newspapers combined!

So complete was their confidence in the Tribune that they bought 189% more Help Wanted advertising in its columns than in those of the second highest paper!

Results from Help Wanted advertising are directly traceable. Chicago employers invested their money in Tribune advertising because they knew that in the Tribune it would be most effective—they knew that through the Tribune they could get exactly the help they wanted.

For the Tribune counts among its 854,585 daily buyers and its 1,236,284 Sunday buyers people in every walk of life looking for all types of occupation. From the strong executive with his finger on the controls of a high-tension organization—the young salesman, making at once his "contacts" and the basis of his career—the stenographer or secretary, experienced and competent—down to the office boy with his feet on the first rung of the ladder, all read the Tribune and turn to its Help Wanted columns for opportunity.
